Life Technology Inquiry Beyond Simondon:

Life and Technology Jean-Hugues Barthelemy, 2015-11-27 The philosophy of Gilbert Simondon has reinvigorated contemporary thinking about biological and technological beings In this book Jean Hugues Barthelemy takes up Simondon's thought and shows how life and technology are connected by a transversal theme individuation In the first essay Barthelemy delivers a contemporary interpretation of Simondon's concept of ontogenesis against the backdrop of biology and cybernetics In the second essay he extends his reflections to propose a non anthropological understanding of technology and so sets up a confrontation with the work of Martin Heidegger

Theatre and the Virtual Zornitsa Dimitrova, 2022-03-20 Theatre and the Virtual lays out a set of conceptual instruments for the articulation and engendering of the forces of theatrical potentiality Creating a passage towards a reconstitution of the given a theatre of the virtual opens bodies in motion to a region of an ongoing genesis of forces The outcome regimes of constraint are abandoned through a radical practice of ecological attunement Violence is eschewed through an onto ecology of touch Closed systems are repotentialised to become co constitutive of their environments A logic of spectrality settles in not so much entities as atmospheres not so much a being as a style of being not so much a body as multitudinous milieus of response This is the task of a theatre of the virtual to safeguard the possibility of the extra epistemological and uphold one's right to offer accounts of oneself from outside of being all the while creating a fractured record of the wondrous mutations of a moving gesturing body This book will be of great interest to students and scholars in theatre philosophy new materialisms environmental humanities gesture and the ontology of response

Towards a Film Theory from Below Jiri Anger, 2024-05-30 Operating between film theory media philosophy archival practice and audiovisual research Jiri Anger focuses on the relationship between figuration and materiality in early films experimental found footage cinema and video essays Would it be possible to do film theory from below through the perspective of moving image objects of their multifarious details and facets however marginal unintentional or aleatory they might be Could we treat scratches stains and shakes in archival footage as speculatively and aesthetically generative features Do these material actors have the capacity to create weird shapes within the figurative image that decenter distort and transform the existing conceptual and methodological frameworks Building on his theoretical as well as practical experience with the recently digitized corpus of the first Czech films created by Jan Kr. eneck between 1898 and 1911 the author demonstrates how technological defects and accidents in archival films shape their aesthetic function and our understanding of the materiality of film in the digital age The specific clashes between the figurative and material spheres are understood through the concept of a crack up This term developed by Francis Scott Fitzgerald and theoretically reimaged by Gilles Deleuze allows us to capture the convoluted relationship between figuration and materiality as inherent to the medium of film containing negativity and productivity difference and simultaneity contingency and fate at the same time even within the tiniest cinematic units

Athens Stavros Kousoulas, 2025-09-05 Focusing on the city of Athens this book examines architecture as something that produces culture and ideology rather than the opposite Therefore this book aims to complement architectural and urban theories that are based only on historical overviews or typological assumptions to do so it boldly opens architectural discourse to philosophy affect theory and social and cognitive sciences By examining Athens after its denomination as Greek capital in 1834 the moments actors and transformations that assist the individuation of the Athenian urban ecologies are problematised Opting for theoretical speculations the readers will witness architecture as a collective equipment that produces modes of life that can either enhance or diminish our collective potentials As such the ambition of this book is to provide the theoretical and methodological groundings for thorough extrapolations on how new collectivities can be produced Readers of this book will be exposed to a transdisciplinary approach that identifies and addresses shared problems and concerns regarding the production of contemporary urban environments This book will also explore theoretical innovations that can inform and trigger new ways of speculative thinking and offers a non reductionist account of the development of Athens from the perspective of multiple architectural technicities This book will be of interest to researchers and students of architecture architectural theory architectural history and philosophy

Digital Existence Amanda Lagerkvist, 2018-07-20 Digital Existence Ontology Ethics and Transcendence in Digital Culture advances debates on digital culture and digital religion in two complementary ways First by focalizing the themes ontology ethics and transcendence it builds on insights from research on digital religion in order to reframe the field and pursue an existential media analysis that further pushes beyond the mandatory focus in mainstream media studies on the social cultural political and economic dimensions of digitalization Second the collection also implies a broadening of the scope of the debate in the field of media religion and culture and digital religion in particular beyond religion to include the wider existential dimensions of digital media It is the first volume on our digital existence in the budding field of existential media studies

Architectural Technicities Stavros Kousoulas, 2022-07-15 This book poses a simple question how is this architecture possible To respond it will embark on a captivating journey through many singular architectural concepts The entasis of Doric columns Ulysses and desert islands will outline an architectural act that moves beyond representation A ferryman who stutters will present two different types of architectural minds A stilus and a theory of signs will reconsider the ways architects can develop a particular kind of intuition while architectural technicities will bring forth a membranic and territorial understanding of architecture Finally as a melody that sings itself a larval architecture will be introduced bringing space and time together Assisting this endeavour the thought of philosophers like Gilles Deleuze Felix Guattari Gilbert Simondon and Raymond Ruyer will meet the latest developments in fields like affect theory cognitive sciences environmental studies and neuroanthropology Eventually by the end of this book the readers from architecture students and researchers to academics and practitioners with an interest in theory will have been exposed to a comprehensive and original philosophy of architecture and the built environment

Honouring the memory of the late Bernard Stiegler this edited collection presents a broad spectrum of contributions that provide a complex and coherently articulated image of Stiegler's thought which reached beyond the boundaries of academic artistic and experimental techno scientific enclaves where it had been originally received Stiegler's philosophical work encompassed theorization social diagnosis planning practical and territorial experimentation politics and aesthetics In its wake the essays in this volume celebrate and explore the wealth of this multi dimensional legacy They examine the conditions of human life in general its foundational intermittence and carry forward Stiegler's post phenomenological unfolding of the distinctive spatio temporalities that weave together the epoch we call present Engaging closely with Stiegler's original impetus for the creation of technologies of care as well as of communities of knowledge and artistic practice Machinic Ontology Mehdi Parsa, 2025-09-28 This book considers the becoming concept of the machine metaphor It explores the intersections between this becoming and the development of the concepts of life organism and technics It seeks to introduce universal machinism as a metaphysical foundation with specific ethical and political implications A machinic ontology proposes that the whole has no inside the body has no head a society needs no leader and the brain has no center While undoubtedly a Deleuzoguattarian idea this book endeavors to explore its origins and echoes across various thinkers and domains In this context it examines and analyzes the concepts of monstrous machine transindividual machine plastic machine abstract machine and biopolitical machine as they appear in the works of George Canguilhem Gilbert Simondon Catherine Malabou Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari Michel Foucault and Giorgio Agamben Machinic Ontology is essential reading for all scholars and researchers in metaphysics especially those interested in the nature of living and non living entities and natural systems Unchaining Solidarity Dan Swain, Petr Urban, Catherine Malabou, Petr Kouba, 2021-11-17 Considering solidarity and mutual aid at the intersection of political philosophy and biology made more urgent by the COVID 19 crisis this book is grounded in the work of Catherine Malabou and takes her theories in creative new directions Being and Not Being Richard Iveson, 2023-12-06 Against the grain of many contemporary theoretical positions that indulge in delusions of safety and certainty Being and Not Being argues that contingency is definitive of the structure of being itself As a result any predictions about the future founded upon present or habitual states of being are necessarily subject to possible error given the unpredictability that is the condition of all emergent forms of being Rather than signal the absence of an ethical dimension this prior inscription of potential which gives rise to profoundly unforeseen forms of being necessarily invokes an a priori ethical demand that is common to biological and technological systems alike This ethical demand transforms the rules of critical and ethical engagement not simply with other inhuman forms of being but with the future itself Indeed this ethical demand requires us to pose serious questions about the legitimacy and usefulness of any decisions made today on the back of predicted futures that erroneously presume the absolute determinability of all beings lacking the alchemical privilege definitive of life As the exemplary figure of unfounded privilege it is with Hamlet that the question of life ultimately ends replaced instead by the extremophile as the figure of unforeseen futures that simply cannot be imagined in the present To be is the potential to be otherwise that is to say to not be that which a given being is

Steps toward a Philosophy of Engineering Carl Mitcham, 2019-12-06 The rise of classic Euro American philosophy of technology in the 1950s originally emphasized the importance of technologies as material entities and their mediating influence within human experience Recent decades however have witnessed a subtle shift toward reflection on the activity from which these distinctly modern artifacts emerge and through which they are engaged and managed that is on engineering What is engineering What is the meaning of engineering How is engineering related to other aspects of human existence Such basic questions readily engage all major branches of philosophy ontology epistemology ethics political philosophy and aesthetics although not always to the same degree The historico philosophical and critical reflections collected here record a series of halting steps to think through engineering and the engineered way of life that we all increasingly live in what has been called the Anthropocene The aim is not to promote an ideology for engineering but to stimulate deeper reflection among engineers and non engineers alike about some basic challenges of our engineered and engineering lifeworld

Towards a Philosophy of Cinematography Alexander Nevill, 2021-06-01 This book presents three interrelated essays about cinematography which offer a theoretical understanding of the ways that film practitioners orchestrate light in today's post digital context Cinematography is a practice at the heart of film production which traditionally involves the control of light and camera technologies to creatively capture moving imagery During recent years the widespread adoption of digital processes in cinematography has received a good deal of critical attention from practitioners and scholars alike however little specific consideration about evolving lighting practices can be found amongst this discourse Drawing on new materialist ideas actor network theory and the concept of co creativity these essays examine the impact of changing production processes for the role and responsibilities of a cinematographer with a specific focus on lighting Each essay advances a new perspective on the discipline moving from the notion of light as vision to light as material from technology as a tool to technology as a network and from cinematography as an industry to cinematography as a collaborative art

Sound Work Jonathan Impett, 2021-12-15 The practices and perception of music creation have evolved with the cultural social and technological contexts of music and musicians But musical authorship in its many technical and aesthetic modes remains an important component of music culture Musicians are increasingly called on to share their experience in writing However cultural imperatives to account for composition as knowledge production and to make claims for its uniqueness inhibit the development of discourse in both expert and public spheres Internet pioneer Philip Agre observed a discourse deficit in artificial intelligence research and proposed a critical technical practice a single disciplinary field with one foot planted in the craft work of design and the other foot planted in the reflexive work of critique A critical technical practice rethinks its own premises re evaluates its own methods and reconsiders its own concepts as a routine part of its daily work This volume considers the potential for critical technical practice in the evolving situation of composition across a wide range of current practices In seeking to tell more honest useful stories of composition it hopes to contribute to a new discourse around the creation of music

Subjectivity Transformed Thomas Vesting,2023-11-28 This book provides a historically informed reconstruction of the social practices that have shaped the formation of the modern subject from the early modern period to the present The formal legal protections accorded to subjects are and always have been latent in social practices norms and language before they are articulated in formal legal orders Vesting argues that in Western societies legal personhood is closely tied to three ideal types of social personhood what he calls the gentleman the manager and Homo digitalis By examining these three ideal types and their emergence in society we can see that Western formal law does not bring these ideal types into being but on the contrary they arise from the social and cultural conditions that they generate and reflect Correspondingly Western legal personhood or legal subjectivity arises from the history and culture of Western nations not the other way around Therefore signature features of Western formal law particularly its valorization of the rights of persons whether natural or nonnatural come from the particular sociohistorical cultural developments that had already generated the strong ideas of social personhood inherent in the ideal types of the gentleman the manager and Homo digitalis Subjectivity Transformed is a major contribution to legal and social theory and with its original analysis of the formation of modern subjectivity it will be of interest to students and scholars throughout the social sciences and humanities

Posthuman Glossary Rosi Braidotti,Maria Hlavajova,2018-02-22 If art science and the humanities have shared one thing it was their common engagement with constructions and representations of the human Under the pressure of new contemporary concerns however we are experiencing a posthuman condition the combination of new developments such as the neoliberal economics of global capitalism migration technological advances environmental destruction on a mass scale the perpetual war on terror and extensive security systems with a troublesome reiteration of old unresolved problems that mean the concept of the human as we had previously known it has undergone dramatic transformations The Posthuman Glossary is a volume providing an outline of the critical terms of posthumanity in present day artistic and intellectual work It builds on the broad thematic topics of Anthropocene Capitalocene eco sophies digital activism algorithmic cultures and security and the inhuman It outlines potential artistic intellectual and activist itineraries of working through the complex reality of the posthuman condition and creates an understanding of the altered meanings of art vis vis critical present day developments It bridges missing links across disciplines terminologies constituencies and critical communities This original work will unlock the terms of the posthuman for students and researchers alike

Moments of Rupture: The Importance of Affect in Medical Education and Surgical Training A. O. Mahendran,2019-07-09 Surgery is a craft specialty doing in response to what is seen felt and anticipated The potent odours and the raw images of flesh elicit strong sensations and responses in the here and now or thisness haecceities of practice These experiences trigger a world of affects and senses that can disturb or rupture familiar or established ways of thinking and knowing This book attempts to articulate these emotional complexities of learning and practice by exploring affective encounters with the uncertainty of medical events Employing a practice based inquiry grounded in philosophical notions of affect and related concepts real stories of actual practice are analysed and theorised to examine how events of clinical practice come to matter or become meaningful to surgeons potentially disclosing new or modified capacities to see think understand and act The philosophical writings of Alfred North Whitehead Gilles Deleuze Gilbert Simondon and Brian Massumi inform the exploration The critical discussions of this book are relevant for healthcare professionals medical educators practitioners and researchers interested in its main exploration the affective conditions that emerge from disturbances in practice and their power to shape construct and transform how professionals understand their practice and function within it

Aut Aut 377 AA.VV.,2020-03-12 aut aut numero 377 marzo 2018 della rivista fondata da Enzo Paci Effetto Simondon

Subversion and Desire Manu

Bazzano,2023-06-07 This book presents the importance of subversion in psychotherapy and reevaluates the positive role of desire as an integrating force in the individual and collective psyche The text provides a solid philosophical frame which helps to expand the scope of contemporary psychotherapy at a time when it is being curtailed by a reductionist neoliberal

zeitgeist The latter emphasizes cognition over motivation behaviour over emotion consciousness over the unconscious the self over the organism and tends to reframe psychotherapeutic practice as a reprogramming of individuals In response this book outlines concerted acts of soft subversion which can undermine the status quo and open new possibilities of individual and collective transformation The author also retraces and reassesses some of the more inspiringly subversive legacies in psychoanalysis with a view to sketching a life affirming psychology wedded to broadminded political engagement Covering psychotherapy politics art and literature and social and cultural theory this book will appeal to anyone interested in understanding how psychotherapy and philosophy can be more radical and subversive endeavours
