Life Span Perspectives of Suicide A.A. Leenaars, 2013-06-29 In recent years a great deal of interest has been focused on suicide in the elderly and in the young However in line with modern trends in psychology sociology psychiatry anthropology and other human health fields interest has now shifted to suicide across the life span from childhood through adulthood to old age This book has been conceptualized within this developing tradition There are various ways in which life's timelines can be conceptualized Developmental theory we believe should be open ended This has widened and will continue to widen our understanding of many complicated human acts including suicide Though suicide is in many ways the same across the entire life span understanding the time lines in the suicidal process is imperative To do so however is we believe challenging In this volume we attempt to engage in the process of understanding suicide from a developmental perspective To do this we have been fortunate to obtain the cooperation of a highly competent group of contributors One interesting footnote to our list of authorities is that they represent suicidologists from across the life span a few who are at the beginning of their careers a large number in their middle years and a few who are in the Indian summer of their professional lives Life Span

Wass, Robert A. Neimeyer, 2018-10-24 This work provides an up to date examination of the ways people face dying and bereavement In this third edition previous chapters are thoroughly revised and new contributors expand areas that have changed significantly Reflecting the field's complex interdisciplinary character the chapters cover such diverse areas as psychology nursing medicine AIDS family studies sociology education philosophy law religion the humanities and political science whilst highlighting thanatology's core psychological and therapeutic caregiving dimensions First the text offers broad examinations of death systems from the vantage points of various cultural historical and disciplinary perspectives The second section represents the core of the book offering detailed surveys of the data of death dying and bereavement as they relate to different phases of our encounter with death as an abstract possibility and concrete reality Next are chapters addressing a cluster of death related issues and challenges that confront us at both a societal and individual level such as AIDS and finally the volume closes with a few reflections on the complexity of contemporary thanatology framing some issues and recommendations that deserve greater attention by scholars researchers policy makers and practitioners Also included is a comprehensive resource bibliography on the topic This text is intended to be of use as a resource for all those interested in reading about death studies both professionals and students alike

Routledge International Handbook of Clinical Suicide Research John R. Cutcliffe, José Santos, Paul S. Links, Juveria Zaheer, Henry G. Harder, Frank Campbell, Rod McCormick, Kari Harder, Yvonne Bergmans, Rahel Eynan, 2013-10-15 Suicide remains one of the most pressing public health concerns across the world Expensive in terms of the human cost and associated suffering the economic costs the social costs and the spiritual costs it affects millions of people every year This important reference work collects together a wide range of research around suicide and suicide prevention in order to guide future research and provide guidance for professionals about the best way to respond meaningfully to suicidal patients Responding to the need for multi disciplinary and international research to deepen our understanding of suicide it demonstrates where our knowledge is firmly evidence based and where new areas for research are emerging as well as highlighting where we know little Divided into six parts each with its own editorial introduction and commentary it explores research with and about survivors of suicide and indigenous populations The remaining sections look at suicide focused research in psychiatric nursing psychiatry psychology and social work and allied health It is of interest to all advanced students practitioners and scholars interested in suicide and its impact and prevention

Reducing the Toll of Suicide Diego De Leo, Vita Poštuvan, 2019-10-15 The carefully selected chapters in this volume provide food for thought to practitioners researchers students and all those who come into contact with the tragedy of suicide with the hope of stimulating new ideas and interventions in the difficult fight against suicidal behaviours This is the second book based on the Intuition Imagination and Innovation TRIPLE i in Suicidology international conferences which are organised annually by the Slovene Center for Suicide Research in memory of the late Prof Andrej Maru ic with the aim of promoting intuition imagination and innovation in the research and prevention of suicide and suicidal behaviour In five parts the internationally renowned team of authors summarises the research looking at Understanding individuals assessing risk in older adults and psychotherapy with suicidal patients Understanding the groups at risk of suicide including youth people in prison men and people with mood disorders Understanding the role of community including the Papageno effect technology based and collaborative approaches to prevention as well as bereavement Models of understanding suicide including the integrated motivational volitional model of suicidal behaviour and the hot air balloon model of risk factors for suicide and Understanding the unique ethical and methodological issues associated with research in this field

Competitor or Ally? Gerald K. LeTendre, 2013-06-17 In this book the authors systematically address the most common stereotypes or myths about

Japanese education that are currently being circulated in the popular press teaching magazines and educational research journals The authors show how arguments about Japan are used to further political ends within the American educational debate Some of the myths that the book debunks are Japan s high adolescent suicide rate LeTendre and Zeng show that adolescent suicide among males is now twice as high in the U S as in Japan Tsuchida and Lewis take on the myth of Japanese classrooms as crowded places centered on rote learning providing detailed evidence as to why Japanese students may indeed have an edge in math McConnell uses Japan s highly successful foreign language program to deconstruct images of Japan Inc showing the highly fractious and bitter political debates that occur in Japan Yang provides data on differences in Japanese and American teachers work roles showing that differences in the two educational systems are not simply due to cultural differences but have a basis in educational policy and school organization Shimizu offers an alternative view of achievement motivation among Japanese students based on in depth interviews with Japanese teens Suicidology Ronald W.

S. Master Human Resource Guide C C H, Incorporated, Donald W Myers, 2003-10-01 HR guide provides a foundation for the application of sound HR practices in business for teaching in the academic getting The Psychological Autopsy Antoon Leenaars, 2017-02-10 This remarkable book affords the opportunity to delve into the challenges that the forensic mental health specialist and public safety professional confront in death scene investigations Suicide Among the Armed Forces Antoon Leenaars, 2016-12-05 Not since the great military suicide epidemic of the American Civil War have we seen so many of our heroes our soldiers and veterans die by suicide Why War is violence There is intent to cause death or serious injury or threat to the physical and psychological integrity of others War stress is unforgiving Suicide is an all too frequent response Today one member of the military dies by suicide every day This is a new epidemic This book addresses some tough questions What do we know about suicides in the military Are rates high Or low Is military suicide the same or different in the United States and Canada Is military culture relevant Do we know the causes patterns and associations Is suicide among the armed forces similar to or different from suicide among civilians Can it be altruistic Through individual case studies and general population approaches we attempt to understand the cost of military service It is especially through the personal stories of the great Civil War hero General Emory Upton Admiral of the Navy Mike Boorda and Hospital Corpsman Chris Purcell that we find answers We learn

there is a relative lack of understanding about military suicides mainly due to the very complexity of suicide The nature of suicide is not monolithic it is multi determined Military service we find is a risk factor for suicide and suicidal behavior Military veterans are twice as likely as civilians to die by suicide Posttraumatic stress disorder PTSD and traumatic brain Injury TBI are especially noted to be huge risk factors but so are other physical and psychological injuries Sadly the aftershocks of war include not only suicides but also incarceration motor vehicle accidents homicides homicide s suicides and many more faces of violence And there are many more uncounted wounded and dead The families of traumatized soldiers and veterans too are indirect victims of their traumatic experience and for some their suicides there is secondary traumatization Yet as this book shows we must not forget that despite the unbearable pain of war soldiers veterans and their military families including children are typically resilient They can survive Without question our vulnerable heroes and veterans are at risk for suicide But there is secrecy surrounding this which may well be the biggest barrier The government the Department of Defense the military veterans groups survivors health providers and other stakeholders need to develop and support more research more programs and more care for suicidal and disabled armed services personnel veterans and survivors This war stress needs to stop      By Their Own Young Hand Keith Hawton, Karen Rodham, Emma Evans, 2006 The authors identify the risk and protective factors for self harm exploring why some adolescents with suicidal thoughts go on to harm themselves while others do not what motivates some young people to seek help and whether distressed teenagers feel they receive the support they need
