Production and Processing of Healthy Meat, Poultry and Fish Products A.M. Pearson, T.R. Dutson, 2013-03-09 The central theme for this volume was chosen since consumers have great interest in purchasing low fat low salt and reduced cholesterol meat poultry and fish products As in past volumes experts in the field have been chosen to write chapters with emphasis on their breadth of knowledge in each specific area Efforts were also made to obtain authors from different countries in order to give the book a worldwide perspective Chapter 1 stresses the nutritional and sensory properties that meat poultry and fish products make to healthful diets and discusses consumer concerns about these products Chapter 2 covers dietary recommendations in major consumer nations along with data from food composition tables and the dietary contributions of meat poultry and fish to meeting dietary needs Chapter 3 discusses the labeling of low and reduced fat salt products which although written mainly from the US viewpoint may serve as a model for labeling in other countries Chapter 4 reviews the rationale for reducing fat energy levels in muscle foods problems encountered in their production and how these may be solved Chapter 5 discusses the scientific basis for reducing the salt sodium content in food products and the health benefits derived from lowering salt intake Methods of reducing the cholesterol content of these animal products is reviewed in Chapter 6 Catalog Food and Nutrition Information Center (U.S.), 1974 Non-Thermal Processing Technologies for the Meat, Fish, and Poultry Industries M. Selvamuthukumaran, Sajid Maqsood, 2023-10-02 Processed products obtained from meat fish and poultry play a predominant role ascribed to their nutritional profile and sensory characteristics Usually these products are highly perishable and therefore the food industry used traditional thermal methods of heat processing in order to extend the stability of the product to the greatest extent But this traditional method has several disadvantages including undesirable changes in organoleptic characteristics denaturation of the good quality of animal proteins and degradation of several nutritional components Non Thermal Processing Technologies for the Meat Fish and Poultry Industries addresses stability enhancement of meat fish and poultry processed products by implementing a non thermal approach Currently there are several innovative non thermal processing techniques available that can be adopted for enhancing the safety quality of these foods This book presents the various non thermal processing techniques that can be successfully applied to this processing industry including high pressure processing ultrasound irradiation and pulse electric fields It explains how these processes can significantly minimize quality changes without posing any threat to the consumer These techniques can be replaced for traditional thermal processing techniques viz roasting frying boiling and grilling This book benefits food scientists food process engineers academicians students and food industrial professionals by providing in depth knowledge of non thermal processing of foods for meat fish and poultry product quality retention as well as for efficient consumer acceptability The text contains current and emerging trends in the use of non thermal processing techniques for its application in these industries Innovative Food Processing Technologies ,2020-08-18 Food process engineering a branch of both food science and chemical engineering has evolved over the years since its inception and still is a rapidly changing discipline While traditionally the main objective of food process engineering was preservation and stabilization the focus today has shifted to enhance health aspects flavour and taste nutrition sustainable production food security and also to ensure more diversity for the increasing demand of consumers The food industry is becoming increasingly competitive and dynamic and strives to develop high quality freshly prepared food products To achieve this objective food manufacturers are today presented with a growing array of new technologies that have the potential to improve or replace conventional processing technologies to deliver higher quality and better consumer targeted food products which meet many if not all of the demands of the modern consumer These new or innovative technologies are in various stages of development including some still at the R D stage and others that have been commercialised as alternatives to conventional processing technologies Food process engineering comprises a series of unit operations traditionally applied in the food industry One major component of these operations relates to the application of heat directly or indirectly to provide foods free from pathogenic microorganisms but also to enhance or intensify other processes such as extraction separation or modification of components The last three decades have also witnessed the advent and adaptation of several operations processes and techniques aimed at producing high quality foods with minimum alteration of sensory and nutritive properties Some of these innovative technologies have significantly reduced the thermal component in food processing offering alternative nonthermal methods Food Processing Technologies A Comprehensive Review Three Volume Set covers the latest advances in innovative and nonthermal processing such as high pressure pulsed electric fields radiofrequency high intensity pulsed light ultrasound irradiation and new hurdle technology Each section will have an introductory article covering the basic principles and applications of each technology and in depth articles covering the currently available equipment and or the current state of development food quality and safety application to various sectors food laws and regulations consumer acceptance advancements and future scope It will also contain case studies and examples to illustrate state of the art applications Each section will serve as an excellent reference to food industry professionals involved in the processing of a wide range of food categories e g meat seafood beverage dairy eggs fruits and vegetable products spices herbs among others Handbook of Meat Processing Fidel Toldrá,2010-01-21 This handbook comprehensively presents the current status of the manufacturing of the most important meat products Editor and renowned meat expert Fidel Toldr heads an international collection of meat scientists who have contributed to this essential reference book Coverage is divided into three parts Part one Technologies
