Children and Young People's Relationships Samantha Punch, Kay Tisdall, 2016-04-08 This book challenges the current state of childhood studies by exploring children and young people s agency and relationships It considers how recent theorisations of relationships and relational processes can move childhood studies forward particularly in relation to re thinking claims of children and young people s agency and uncritical assertions around children and young people s participation and voice It does this by bringing together case studies of children s inter generational and intra generational relationships from both the Majority and

Minority Worlds The main themes include negotiated power agency across contexts and negotiations of identity The chapters show both the heritage of childhood studies particularly within the UK and where it may be going One of the key aims of the book is to add to the limited but growing cross world dialogue that encourages cross cultural learning from research and practice in both Majority and Minority World contexts leading towards a more integrated global approach to childhood studies This book was published as a special issue of Children s Geographies

Begging As a Path to Progress Kate Swanson, 2010-07-01 In 1992 Calhuas an isolated Andean town got its first road Newly connected to Ecuador's large cities Calhuas experienced rapid social spatial change which Kate Swanson richly describes in Begging as a Path to Progress Based on nineteen months of fieldwork Swanson's study pays particular attention to the ideas and practices surrounding youth While begging seems to be inconsistent with or even an affront to ideas about childhood in the developed world Swanson demonstrates that the majority of income earned from begging goes toward funding Ecuadorian children's educations in hopes of securing more prosperous futures Examining beggars organized migration networks as well as the degree to which children can express agency and fulfill personal ambitions through begging Swanson argues that Calhuas s beggars are capable of canny engagement with the forces of change She also shows how frequent movement between rural and urban Ecuador has altered both masculinizing the countryside and complicating the Ecuadorian conflation of whiteness and cities Finally her study unpacks ongoing conflicts over programs to clean up Quito and other major cities noting that revanchist efforts have had multiple effects spurring more dangerous transnational migration for example while also providing some women and children with tourist friendly local spaces in which to sell a notion of Andean authenticity
