Growing Up Ethnic In America:

Growing Up Ethnic in America Maria Mazziotti Gillan, Jennifer Gillan, 1999-11-01 Stories navigating the complicated terrain of race in America from acclaimed writers like Toni Morrison E L Doctorow Sandra Cisneros Sherman Alexie and Amy Tan The editors who brought us Unsettling America and Identity Lessons have compiled a short story anthology that focuses on themes of racial and ethnic assimilation With humor passion and grace the contributors lay bare poignant attempts at conformity and the alienation sometimes experienced by ethnic Americans But they also tell of the strength gained through the preservation of their communities and the realization that it was often their difference from the norm that helped them to succeed In pieces suggesting that American identity is far from settled these writers illustrate the diversity that is the source of both the nation's great discord and infinite promise These beautiful stories radiate with the poignant ingenious ways young people come to terms with their ethnic identities negotiating their families school friends and their futures This exemplary collection fulfills the editors aims to open dialogue and encourage the telling of difficult adaptive or affirming life experiences Publisher's Weekly

Growing Up Ethnic in America Maria Mazziotti Gillan, 1999-01 Through Alien Eyes Elena Popova, 2008 What do you think of those Russian brides What do they think of YOU International marriages bring a substantial number of newcomers to the US and contribute to the transformation of the basic institution of society OCo the family When men are from Mars and women are aliens the marital dynamic can be quite dramatic A Russian born journalist Ms Popova shines a blinding light on some of the amusing and amazing oddities that are revealed when an outsider takes a blunt look at how we live

Growing Up Ethnic Martin Japtok, 2005-04 Growing Up Ethnic examines the presence of literary similarities between African American and Jewish American coming of age stories in the first half of the twentieth century often these similarities exceed what could be explained by sociohistorical correspondences alone Martin Japtok argues that these similarities result from the way both African American and Jewish American authors have conceptualized their ethnic situation The issue of race and its social repercussions certainly defy any easy comparisons However the fact that the ethnic situations are far from identical in the case of these two groups only highlights the striking thematic correspondences in how a number of African American and Jewish American coming of age stories construct ethnicity Japtok studies three pairs of novels James Weldon Johnson's Autobiography of an Ex Coloured Man and Samuel Ornitz's Haunch Paunch and Jowl Jessie Fauset's Plum Bun and Edna Ferber's Fanny Herself and Paule Marshall's Brown Girl Brownstones and Anzia Yezierska's Bread Giver and argues that the similarities can be explained with reference to mainly two factors ultimately intertwined cultural nationalism and the Bildungsroman genre Growing Up Ethnic shows that the parallel configurations in the novels which often see ethnicity in terms of spirituality as inherent artistic ability and as communal responsibility are rooted in nationalist ideology However due to the authors generic choice the Bildungsroman the tendency to view ethnicity through the rhetorical lens of communalism and spiritual essence runs head on into the individualist assumptions of the protagonist centered Bildungsroman The negotiations between these ideological counterpoints characterize the novels and reflect and refract the intellectual ferment of their time This fresh look at ethnic American literatures in the context of cultural nationalism and the Bildungsroman will be of great interest to students and scholars of literary and race studies

Writing With An Accent Edvige Giunta, 2016-04-30 Mary Cappello Louise DeSalvo Sandra M Gilbert Maria Mazziotti Gillan Carole Maso Agnes Rossi These are some of the best known Italian American writers today They are part of a literary tradition with mid twentieth century roots that began to develop in earnest in the late 1970s and early 1980s During those decades a number of Italian American women such as Helen Barolini began to publish books that depicted their perspectives on life through the critical lenses of gender class and ethnicity At the end of the twentieth century this literature finally blossomed into a fully fledged cultural movement that also took into account issues of sexuality age illness and familial and societal abuse Writing with an Accent takes a look at this vibrant literary movement by discussing those first writers of the 1970s and 1980s as well as later authors At the center of Edvige Giunta's Writing with an Accent is the literal notion of accent the marker of linguistic and cultural difference that separates and identifies recent immigrants to the United States In this study an accent symbolically embodies the differences and creative strategies through which contemporary Italian American women writers engage Italian American culture in works of fiction poetry and memoir Giunta also looks at the links between the literature and art music film and video produced by contemporary Italian American women The literature of the Italian American women in Writing with an Accent is shaped by the complicated connections these authors maintain with their cultural origins but also and perhaps more importantly by their feminist consciousness and politicized sense of ethnic identity Writing with an Accent celebrates and explores a group of authors who characteristically mix the joy and pain of Italian American life to paint a multifaceted picture of Italian American women and their complex place in U S culture
