Growth Recurring Eric Lionel Jones,1993 This study concerns the conflict in world history between economic growth and political greed E L Jones author of the groundbreaking The European Miracle proposes two fundamentally new frameworks One replaces industrial revolution or great discontinuity as the source of change and challenges the reader to accept early periods and non western societies as vital to understanding the growth process It shows that growth occurred independently in Sung China and Japan as well as in Europe The second framework offers a new explanation in which tendencies for growth were omnipresent but were usually suppressed The obstacles to growth and their subsequent erosion is reviewed providing an explanation of the modern world economy in which growth has recurred and East Asia has taken a prominent place

The Pacific in the Age of Early Industrialization Kenneth Pomeranz, 2017-05-15 The essays selected for this volume show how the Pacific rapidly became part of an industrializing world Its raw materials notably rubber and copper were critical some of its handicraft industries were devastated by mechanized competition others survived and adapted contributing to distinctive patterns of industrialization that made Japan a new center of power and also laid the groundwork for later growth in Taiwan Korea and coastal China The Pacific coast of the Americas was also first drawn into an industrial world largely as an exporter of raw materials but North and South diverged rapidly portending futures even more different than those of Northeast and Southeast Asia By the 1930s when the uneven effects of industrialization would have much to do with plunging the Pacific into war one can already glimpse in outline the structural bases for many of the region's contemporary characteristics All this is set in context in the important introduction by Kenneth Pomeranz
