Library Of Vanishing Eden Construction Identity Landscape:

Vanishing Eden Michael Maly, Heather Dalmage, 2016 For many whites desegregation initially felt like an attack on their community But how has the process of racial change affected whites understanding of community and race In Vanishing Eden Michael Maly and Heather Dalmage provide an intriguing analysis of the experiences and memories of whites who lived in Chicago neighborhoods experiencing racial change during the 1950s through the 1980s They pay particular attention to examining how young people made sense of what was occurring and how this experience impacted their lives Using a blend of urban studies and whiteness studies the authors examine how racial solidarity and whiteness were created and maintained often in subtle and unreflective ways Vanishing Eden also considers how race is central to the ways social institutions such as housing education and employment function Surveying the shifting social economic and racial contexts the authors explore how race and class at local and national levels shaped the organizing strategies of those whites who chose to stay as racial borders began to change Arts & Humanities Citation Index ,2000 Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004 Physical Landscape as a Narrative of Identity Construction Dana Yvette Scott, 2013
