War Is Not Inevitable Henri Parens, 2014-07-22 In 1932 Einstein asked Freud Is there any way of delivering mankind from the menace of war Freud answered that war is inevitable because humans have an instinct to self destroy a death instinct which we must externalize to survive But nearly four decades of study of aggression reveal that rather than being an inborn drive destructiveness is generated in us by experiences of excessive psychic pain In War is Not Inevitable On the Psychology of War and Aggression Henri Parens argues that the death instinct based model of aggression can neither be proved nor disproved as Freud s answer is untestable By contrast the multi trends theory of aggression is provable and has greater heuristic value than does a death instinct based model of aggression When we look for causes for war we turn to history as well as national ethnic territorial and or political issues among many others but we also tend to ignore the psychological factors that play a large role Parens discusses such psychological factors that seem to lead large groups into conflict Central among these are the psychodynamics of large group narcissism Interactional conditions stand out hyper narcissistic large groups have in history caused much narcissistic injury to those they believe they are superior to But this is commonly followed by the narcissistically injured group s experiencing high level hostile destructiveness toward their injury perpetrator which in time will compel them to revenge Among groups that have been engaged in serial conflicts wars have followed from this psychodynamic narcissism based cyclicity Parens details some of the psychodynamics that led from World War I to World War II and their respective aftermath and he addresses how major factors that gave rise to these wars must can and have been counteracted In doing so Parens considers strategies by which civilization has and is constructively preventing wars as well as the need for further innovative efforts to achieve that end Psychology Library Editions: Comparative Psychology Various Authors, 2022-07-30 Psychology Library Editions Comparative Psychology 16 Volume set brings together a number of titles which explore animal behaviour and learning some in isolation but mostly comparing it with human behaviour Research in this area looks at many different issues using various methods and examines species from insects to primates The series of previously out of print titles originally published between 1928 and 1997 with the majority from the 1970s and 1980s includes contributions from many highly respected authors Psychology Library Editions: Social Psychology Various, 2021-07-09 Psychology Library Editions Social Psychology 30 volume set brings together an eclectic mix of titles from a wealth of authors with diverse backgrounds seeking to understand human behaviour and interaction from a socio psychological perspective The series of previously out of print titles originally published between 1908 and 1993 includes those from some authors considered to be founders of social psychology and traces the development of the subject from its early foundations Routledge Library Editions: Peace Studies Various, 2021-09-30 Routledge Library Editions Peace Studies 12 Volume set contains titles originally published between 1928 and 1985 Looking at peace movements and the people involved in them around the world who seek to learn lessons from war and find solutions to a peaceful existence It includes titles from a number of well known pacifists both pre and post war who have influenced ideas and policy throughout the twentieth century Library Journal ,1995 The Myth of Inevitable US Defeat in Vietnam C. Dale Walton,2002 Dale Walton s book offers a unique and comprehensive analysis that considers US strategic decisionmaking at a number of levels and shows how US errors created the military and political conditions that made North Vietnamese victory possible If the United States political military effort had not negated its main advantages indeed even if it had avoided only a small number of its many strategic errors the outcome of the Indochina conflict would most likely have been very different the author argues BOOK JACKET Outline of Social Psychology Raleigh Moseley Drake,1946
