

Introduction

LIEBHERR's A 900 C - ZW Litronic hydraulic excavators are rail-road excavators.

For rail operation, they require a special rail guide device to travel on rails like a train, but then work like normal hydraulic excavators with all their optional equipment and attachments.

With the rail guide device lifted, they travel like standard mobile excavators on roads and ways, fulfilling all the requirements of local traffic laws, and do their standard jobs with all their equipments and attachments.

The designs of all our rail-road excavators have been certified and approved by the German safety-at-work inspectorate for civil engineering ("Tiefbau-Berufsgenossenschaft", TBG) and Deutsche Bahn AG (DB), Germany's main railway operator.

In this context, Liebherr is required to undergo annual revisions with the inspectorate (accor. UVV and VBG 40 - § 50), and every six years with Deutsche Bahn ("Fristenuntersuchung FS" and I 3 - extended 1 year for max. 2 years / N 2 "Aufarbeitung").

For operation on track installations of the DB, rail-road excavators must comply with the DB's traffic regulations.

According to DB rail traffic regulations, rail-road excavators must have a passenger seat in the cab for a second person who can trigger an emergency brake to stop the excavator and any wagons the excavator may have in tow.

For road traffic, the rail guide device must be switched off in the operator's cab. The rail guide axes must be mechanically secured / locked in front and at the back.

All the controls and monitoring devices in the cab are within easy reach and simple to operate.

For detailed information concerning commissioning, first start-up and applicable safety regulations, see operating manual "A 900 C - ZW LITRONIC" RAIL-ROAD EXCAVATOR.
