Life According to Maude John Lund, 2005-04 Meee ow The word catty in the dictionary just got a new picture and it's none other than the Queen of Attitude herself Maude Maude for anyone who may have been preoccupied with hairballs and such is the fabulously popular kitty with her very own line of greeting cards We're not talking a mouse sized 10 or 20 slicks here but a full line of 60 plus cards displaying this furry diva and her bon mots Life According to Maude captures our feline diva in full cattitude Each page shares the world according to Maude and pictures her resplendent in all her well whiskered glory Consider towel wrapped Maude perched in her favorite salon chair saying When life gets stressful nothing soothes the soul like the great indoors Or Maude sporting her favorite pearl necklace what self respecting cat would have just one reflecting Relationships are a two way street My way and the wrong way Photographer John Lund captures this catchy cat at her all time best and then works with a wacky creative team to craft the unforgettably funny scenes and sayings that go with them The resulting catmosphere makes for one of the freshest and zaniest gift books in years Exposing the Wilderness

Robert Bogdan, 1999-10-01 Robert Bogdan combines a richly descriptive text with striking illustrations to create vivid biographical sketches of these pioneer photographers who worked their individual styles to illuminate six different regions of the Adirondack Mountains The book also provides insight into the popular culture of the times mainly through postcards but it also takes an in depth look at the families and work lives of these artisans as they plied their trade in the popular venue of commercial postcards Aside from the Adirondack locals and a few postcard connoisseurs the gifted folk artists and craftspeople profiled here were virtually unknown until now Bogdan has collected nearly 250 illustrations including postcards and photographs depicting Adirondack life of the time Many of these images have never before been published

Moving Picture World and View Photographer, 1915 The London Journal: and Weekly Record of Literature, Science, and Art, 1880 American Photography, 1910 The Index, 1908 Public Libraries, 1899 Exposing Mississippi Annette Trefzer, 2022-03-25 WINNER OF THE 2022 EUDORA WELTY PRIZE Internationally known as a writer Eudora Welty has as well been spotlighted as a talented photographer The prevalent idea remains that Welty simply took snapshots before she found her true calling as a renowned fiction writer But who was Welty as a photographer What did she see How and why did she photograph And what did Welty know about modern photography In Exposing Mississippi Eudora Welty's Photographic Reflections Annette Trefzer elucidates Welty's photographic vision and answers these questions by exploring her photographic archive and writings on photography The photographs Welty took in the 1930s and 40s frame her visual response to the cultural landscapes of the segregated South during the Depression The photobook One Time One Place which was selected curated and shaped into a visual narrative by Welty herself serves as a starting point and guide for the chapters on her spatial hermeneutic The book is divided into sections by locations and offers how the framing of these areas reveals Welty's radical commentary of the spaces her camera captured There are over eighty images in Exposing Mississippi including some never before seen archival photographs and sections of the book draw on over three hundred more The chapters on institutional leisure and memorial landscapes address how Welty's photographs contribute to reflect on and intervene in customary visual constructions of the Depression era South

American Folk Art Kristin G. Congdon, Kara Kelley Hallmark, 2012-03-19 Folk art is as varied as it is indicative of person and place informed by innovation and grounded in cultural context The variety and versatility of 300 American folk artists is captured in this collection of informative and thoroughly engaging essays American Folk Art A Regional Reference offers a collection of fascinating essays on the life and work of 300 individual artists Some of the men and women profiled in these two volumes are well known while others are important practitioners who have yet to receive the notice they merit Because many of the artists in both categories have a clear identity with their land and culture the work is organized by geographical region and includes an essay on each region to help make connections visible There is also an introductory essay on U S folk art as a whole Those writing about folk art to date tend to view each artist as either traditional or innovative One of the major contributions of this work is that it demonstrates that folk artists more often exhibit both traits they are grounded in their cultural context and creative in the way they make work their own Such insights expand the study of folk art even as they readjust readers understanding of who folk artists are

The Afterlife of Christina Rossetti A. Chapman, 2000-06-13 Despite new historical study of her contexts Christina Rossetti continues to haunt the reader as a displaced subjectivity emptied of history Through an analysis of the posthumous in her work the construction of Christina Rossetti by her brothers and the history of reception this study asks how speaking with the dead can avoid critical ventriloquy The figure of the mother is offered as a paradigm for theorising a new reading that refuses to exorcise the ghost of Christina Rossetti

Life, 1917

The Black Image in the New Deal Nicholas Natanson, 1992 Between 1935 and 1942 photographers for the New Deal's Resettlement Administration Farm Security Administration FSA captured in powerfully moving images the travail of the Great Depression and the ways of a people confronting radical social change Those who speak of the special achievement of FSA photography usually have in mind such white icons as Dorothea Lange's Migrant Mother or Walker Evans's Alabama sharecroppers But some six thousand printed images a tenth of FSA's total included black figures or their dwellings At last Nicholas Natanson reveals both the innovative treatment of African Americans in FSA photographs and the agency's highly problematic use of these images once they had been created. While mono-dimensional treatments of blacks were common in public and private photography of the period, such FSA photographers as Ben Shahn, Arthur Rothstein and Jack Delano were well informed concerning racial problems and approached blacks in a manner that avoided stereotypes, right wing as well as left wing. In addition, rather than focusing exclusively on FSA approved agency projects involving blacks, politically the safest course they boldly addressed wider social and cultural themes. This study employs a variety of methodological tools to explore the political and administrative forces that worked against documentary coverage of particularly sensitive racial issues. Moreover, Natanson shows that those who drew on the FSA photo files for newspapers, magazines, books and exhibitions often entirely omitted images of black people and their environment or used devices such as cropping and captioning to diminish the true range of the FSA photographers' vision.
