Life After Death Today in the United States, Japan, and China Gordon Mathews, Yang Yang, Miu Ying Kwong, 2023-01-24 This book is about contemporary senses of life after death in the United States Japan and China By collecting and examining hundreds of interviews with people from all walks of life in these three societies the book presents and compares personally held beliefs experiences and interactions with the concept of life after death Three major aspects covered by the book Include but are certainly not limited to the enduring tradition of Japanese ancestor veneration China's transition from state sponsored materialism to the increasing belief in some form of afterlife as well as the diversity in senses of or disbelief in life after death in the United States Through these diverse first hand testimonies the book reveals that underlying these changes in each society there is a shift from collective to individual belief with people developing their own visions of what may or may not happen after death This book will be valuable reading for students of Anthropology as well as Religious Cultural Asian and American Studies It will also be an impactful resource for professionals such as doctors nurses and hospice workers

The Realities of Reality - Part I: It All Starts from Within Fritz Dufour, MBA, DESS, 2018-03-16 This book is the first of a series that considers the many aspects of reality I call it It all starts from within because reality starts with each of us individually and independently It starts from our inner self before evolving into what I would call the collective reality meaning a generally agreed upon state in which groups of people entire nations or the whole world believe That reality includes beliefs cultures ideologies etc As we change and adapt to our environment our reality changes as well New realities emerge Chapter one is about perception and our senses It demonstrates how perception is impossible without our senses Whatever angle of reality that's being analyzed one or more of our senses plays a momentous role in its understanding Chapter two considers the role of the brain in the making of reality It delves into how the brain can make the mind behave a certain way under certain circumstances Chapter three looks at the mind which I call the ultimate maker of reality This chapter describes the mind as that intangible component of the brain and where reality or all realities stem from after of course being picked up by the senses and the brain Chapter four attempts to define reality itself after it s perceived by our senses analyzed by our brain and processed by our mind I consider five questions in my attempt to answer the question what is reality They are what are things and why do they look different from one another What is life and its origins What is death What is superstition What is space and are we alone in the universe
