research This paradigm shift is explored from the perspectives of pharmaceutical professionals biotechnology start ups regulatory agencies ethical review boards and blockchain developers This book enlightens readers about the opportunities to empower and enable data in life sciences Life and Evolution Lorenzo Baravalle, Luciana Zaterka, 2020-04-10 This book offers to the international reader a collection of original articles of some of the most skillful historians and philosophers of biology currently working in Latin American universities During the last decades increasing attention has been paid in Latin America to the history and philosophy of biology but since many local authors prefer to write in Spanish or in Portuguese their ideas have barely crossed the boundaries of the continent This volume aims to remedy this state of things providing a good sample of this production to the English speaking readers bringing together contributions from researchers working in Brazilian Argentinean Chilean Colombian and Mexican universities The stress on the regional provenance of the authors is not intended to suggest the existence of something like a Latin American history and philosophy of biology supposedly endowed with distinctive features On the contrary the editors firmly believe that advances in this field can be achieved only by stimulating the integration in the international debate Based on this assumption the book focuses on two topics life and evolution and presents a selection of contributions addressing issues such as the history of the concept of life the philosophical reflection on life manipulation and life extension the structure and development of evolutionary theory as well as human evolution Life and Evolution Latin American Essays on the History and Philosophy of Biology will provide the international reader with a rather complete picture of the ongoing research in the history and philosophy of biology in Latin America offering a snapshot of this dynamic community It will also contribute to contextualize and develop the debate concerning life and evolution and the relation between the two phenomena Managing Scientific Information and Research Data Svetla Baykoucheva, 2015-07-14 Innovative technologies are changing the way research is performed preserved and communicated Managing Scientific Information and Research Data explores how these technologies are used and provides detailed analysis of the approaches and tools developed to manage scientific information and data Following an introduction the book is then divided into 15 chapters discussing the changes in scientific communication new models of publishing and peer review ethics in scientific communication preservation of data discovery tools discipline specific practices of researchers for gathering and using scientific information academic social networks bibliographic management tools information literacy and the information needs of students and researchers the involvement of academic libraries in eScience and the new opportunities it presents to librarians and interviews with experts in scientific information and publishing Promotes innovative technologies for creating sharing and managing scientific content Presents new models of scientific publishing peer review and dissemination of information Serves as a practical guide for researchers students and librarians on how to discover filter and manage scientific information Advocates for the adoption of unique author identifiers such as ORCID and ResearcherID Looks into new tools that make scientific information easy to discover and manage Shows what eScience is and why it is becoming a priority for academic libraries Demonstrates how Electronic Laboratory Notebooks can be used to record store share and manage research data Shows how social media and the new area of Altmetrics increase researchers visibility and measure attention to their research Directs to sources for datasets Provides directions on choosing and using bibliographic management tools Critically examines the metrics used to evaluate research impact Aids strategic thinking and informs decision making

Critical Role of Animal Science Research in Food Security and Sustainability National Research Council, Division on Earth and Life Sciences, Board on Agriculture and Natural Resources, Policy and Global Affairs, Science and Technology for Sustainability Program, Committee on Considerations for the Future of Animal Science Research, 2015-03-31 By 2050 the world's population is projected to grow by one third reaching between 9 and 10 billion With globalization and expected growth in global affluence a substantial increase in per capita meat dairy and fish consumption is also anticipated The demand for calories from animal products will nearly double highlighting the critical importance of the world's animal agriculture system Meeting the nutritional needs of this population and its demand for animal products will require a significant investment of resources as well as policy changes that are supportive of agricultural production Ensuring sustainable agricultural growth will be essential to addressing this global challenge to food security Critical Role of Animal Science Research in Food Security and Sustainability identifies areas of research and development technology and resource needs for research in the field of animal agriculture both nationally and internationally This report assesses the global demand for products of animal origin in 2050 within the framework of ensuring global food security evaluates how climate change and natural resource constraints may impact the ability to meet future global demand for animal products in sustainable production systems and identifies factors that may impact the ability of the United States to meet demand for animal products including the need for trained human capital product safety and quality and effective communication and adoption of new knowledge information and technologies The agricultural sector worldwide faces numerous daunting challenges that will require innovations new technologies and new ways of approaching agriculture if the food feed and fiber needs of the global population are to be met The recommendations of Critical Role of Animal Science Research in Food Security and Sustainability will inform a new roadmap for animal science research to meet the challenges of sustainable animal production in the 21st century

Innovation, Regional Development and the Life Sciences Kean Birch, 2016-10-14 The life sciences is an industrial sector that covers the development of biological products and the use of biological processes in the production of goods services and energy This sector is frequently presented as a major opportunity for policy makers to upgrade and renew regional economies leading to social and economic development through support for high tech innovation Innovation Regional Development and the Life Sciences analyses where innovation happens in the life sciences why it happens in those places and what this means for regional development policies and strategies Focusing on the UK and Europe its arguments are relevant to a variety of countries and regions pursuing high tech innovation and development policies The book's theoretical approach incorporates diverse geographies e.g. global, national and regional and political/economic forces e.g. discourses, governance and finance in order to understand where innovation happens in the life sciences, where and how value circulates in the life sciences and who captures the value produced in life sciences innovation This book will be of interest to researchers, students and policy makers dealing with regional/local economic development

Complex Dynamical Systems in Education Matthijs Koopmans, Dimitrios

Stamovlasis, 2016-02-19 This book capitalizes on the developments in dynamical systems and education by presenting some of the most recent advances in this area in seventeen non-overlapping chapters The first half of the book discusses the conceptual framework of complex dynamical systems and its applicability to educational processes The second half presents a set of empirical studies that illustrate the use of various research methodologies to investigate complex dynamical processes in education and help the reader appreciate what we learn about dynamical processes in education from using these approaches

Teacher Learning in Changing Contexts Alison Castro Superfine, Susan R. Goldman, Mon-Lin

Monica Ko, 2022-09-13 New to the Routledge Advances in Learning Sciences series this book highlights diverse approaches taken by researchers in the Learning Sciences to support teacher learning It features international perspectives from world-class researchers that exemplify new lenses on the work of teaching encompassing new objects of learning, methods and tools, new ways of working with researchers and peers and new efforts to work with the systems in which teachers are embedded Together the chapters in this volume reflect a new frontier of research on teacher learning that leverages diversity in the content, contexts, objects of inquiry and tools for supporting shifts in instructional practice Divided into three sections, chapters question: What new pedagogies and knowledge do teachers need to facilitate student learning in the 21st century? How do learning sciences tools, strategies and experiences provide opportunities for them to learn these? What role do teachers play as co-designers of educational innovations? What unique affordances does co-design afford for teacher learning? What do teachers learn through engaging in co-design? How do teachers work and learn as part of interdisciplinary teams within educational systems? What might it look like to design for teacher learning in these broader organizational systems? Uniquely highlighting how cycles of reflection and co-design can serve as important mechanisms to support teacher learning, this invaluable book lays the groundwork for sustained teacher learning and instructional improvement

Landscapes of Collectivity in the Life Sciences Snait B. Gissis, Ehud Lamm, Ayelet Shavit, 2018-01-12 Broad perspective on collectivity in the life sciences from microorganisms to human consensus and the theoretical and empirical opportunities and challenges Many researchers and scholars in the life sciences have become increasingly critical of the traditional methodological focus on the individual This volume counters such methodological individualism by exploring recent and influential work in the life sciences that utilizes notions of collectivity, sociality, rich interactions and emergent phenomena as essential explanatory tools to handle numerous persistent scientific questions in the life sciences The contributors consider case studies of collectivity that range from microorganisms to human consensus discussing theoretical and empirical challenges and the innovative methods and solutions scientists have devised The contributors offer historical philosophical and biological perspectives on collectivity and describe collective phenomena seen in insects the immune system communication and human collectivity with examples ranging from cooperative transport in the longhorn crazy ant to the evolution of autobiographical memory They examine ways of explaining collectivity including case studies and modeling approaches and explore collectivity s explanatory power They present a comprehensive look at a specific case of collectivity the Holobiont notion the idea of a multi species collective a host and diverse microorganisms and the hologenome theory which posits that the holobiont and its hologenome are a unit of adaption The volume concludes with reflections on the work of the late physicist Eshel Ben Jacob pioneer in the study of collective phenomena in living systems Contributors Oren Bader John Beatty Dinah R Davison Daniel Dor Ofer Feinerman Raghavendra Gadagkar Scott F Gilbert Snait B Gissis Deborah M Gordon James Griesemer Zachariah I Grochau Wright Erik R Hanschen Eva Jablonka Mohit Kumar Jolly Anat Kolumbus Ehud Lamm Herbert Levine Arnon Levy Xue Fei Li Elisabeth A Lloyd Yael Lubin Eva Maria Luef Ehud Meron Richard E Michod Samir Okasha Simone Pika Joan Roughgarden Eugene Rosenberg Ayelet Shavit Yael Silver Alfred I Tauber Ilana Zilber Rosenberg
