The Political Economy of AIDS in Africa Nana K. Poku, 2017-07-05 Sub Saharan Africa is a region devastated by HIV AIDS The extent of the epidemic is only now becoming clear as increasing numbers of people with HIV are becoming ill In the absence of massively expanded prevention treatment and care efforts the AIDS death toll on the continent is set to escalate rapidly Despite progress being achieved in localized settings the alarming statistics reflect the continuing failure of advanced countries to mount a response that matches the scale and severity of the African HIV AIDS crisis Over and above the colossal personal suffering the dire social and economic consequences for fragile nation states are already being felt not only in health but in education industry agriculture transport human resources and economies in general Countries already crippled by drought poverty debt forced migration and civil war must now contend with massive deterioration in child survival rates and life expectancy the erosion of the economic family base massive and insupportable demands on health and public services chronic labour shortages and volatile national security Through a critical and detailed exploration of specific case studies this invaluable volume brings together an unparalleled array of international contributors to redefine the
