Mignolo, 2021-07-09 In The Politics of Decolonial Investigations Walter D. Mignolo provides a sweeping examination of how coloniality has operated around the world in its myriad forms from the sixteenth century to the twenty first Decolonial border thinking allows Mignolo to outline how the combination of the self fashioned narratives of Western civilization and the hegemony of Eurocentric thought served to eradicate all knowledges in non European languages and praxes of living and being Mignolo also traces the geopolitical origins of racialized and gendered classifications modernity globalization and cosmopolitanism placing them all within the framework of coloniality Drawing on the work of theorists and decolonial practitioners from the Global South and the Global East Mignolo shows how coloniality has provoked the emergence of decolonial politics initiated by delinking from all forms of Western knowledge and subjectivities The urgent task Mignolo stresses is the epistemic reconstitution of categories of thought and praxes of living destituted in the very process of building Western civilization and the idea of modernity The overcoming of the long lasting hegemony of the West and its distorted legacies is already underway in all areas of human existence Mignolo underscores the relevance of the politics of decolonial investigations in and outside the academy to liberate ourselves from canonized knowledge ways of knowing and praxes of living Preventing Cardiovascular Disease in Primary Care Clive Handler, Gerry Coghlan, 2016-07-06 Cardiovascular disease is the leading cause of death and disability in the world It is largely preventable and can certainly be delayed by attention to established risk factors Primary care is the natural and most appropriate location for cardiovascular prevention This accessible and practical reference and everyday manual covers the organisation of prevention services estimating risk and using guidelines and examines each key area with extensive use of clinical case studies It provides the information necessary to answer the concerns of patients on areas such as cholesterol diet exercise alcohol smoking and medication General practitioners practice nurses physiotherapists dieticians and pharmacists will find this book to be an essential aid to their daily work The Cause, Effect, and Control of Accidental Loss Ron C. McKinnon, 2023-04-28 The Cause Effect and Control of Accidental Loss takes the reader through 15 phases of a typical workplace accident and shows how accidents can be prevented by the introduction of safety management controls in the form of a structured health and safety management system SMS It proposes that once the event has been triggered there is no certainty as to the outcome so workplaces should rely on proactive safety actions rather than reactive ones Now fully updated this new edition expands on the important concepts from the first edition including hazard identification risk assessment flawed safety management systems the potential for loss and management control This title Challenges the paradigm that the measure of consequence losses is a good indicator of safety effort Introduces three luck factors that determine the course of the accident sequence Explains what causes accidents their consequences and how to prevent them

Showcases accident immediate causes including high risk unsafe acts and high risk unsafe conditions The text is an essential read for professionals graduate students and academics in the field of occupational health safety and industrial hygiene

The Art of Investigative Interviewing Charles L. Yeschke,2003 This text details the techniques that can be used by interviewers in any setting to identify indicators of deception and respond to them appropriately The author bases his approach on the application of the theory of human need to the process of investigative interviewing and argues that replacing coercion and confrontation with persuasion and communication will increase the productivity of the process Interrogators are shown how to recognize and respond to the human needs of the interviewee thus increasing the chance that the interviewee will talk and cooperate Other topics covered include recognition of deception responses to deception the ethics of interrogation preparation for the interview and several case studies
