Coercive Control in Children's and Mothers' Lives Emma Katz, 2022 Coercive control is a severe form of domestic violence experienced by millions of children worldwide It involves a perpetrator using a range of tactics to intimidate humiliate degrade exploit isolate and control a partner or family member Some coercive control perpetrators use violence others do not Drawing on interviews with children and mothers who have experienced coercive control based domestic violence this groundbreaking book sheds light on the impacts of coercive control on children how it is perpetrated who must be held accountable for those impacts and how resistance by children and mothers occurs Resistance happens in everyday life not just in response to incidents of violence Breaking free from coercive control is not a one off event but a sustained battle for safety and recovery in which child and adult survivors need supports and professional interventions that work Written accessibly for students researchers practitioners survivors of domestic violence and anyone with a general interest in the topic the book provides a child centered perspective to revolutionize our understanding of how children are affected by coercive control based domestic violence

Criminalising Coercive Control Vanessa Bettinson, Ronagh McQuigg, 2023-08-07 Drawing on experiences from other jurisdictions within the UK Criminalising Coercive Control explores the challenges and potential successes which may be faced in implementing Northern Ireland's new domestic abuse offence A specific offence of domestic abuse was introduced in Northern Ireland in March 2021 This represents a crucial development in Northern Ireland's response to domestic abuse The new legislation has the effect of criminalising coercive and controlling behaviour thereby bringing Northern Ireland into line with other jurisdictions within the UK and also with relevant human rights standards in this regard The book begins with a discussion regarding the offence itself and the underpinning domestic abuse policy in Northern Ireland Subsequent chapters explore further measures which may be needed to respond effectively to domestic abuse in Northern Ireland by drawing upon the experiences of other jurisdictions of criminalising coercive control These reflections are considered through the lenses of policing prosecutorial practice and frontline domestic abuse working Criminalising Coercive Control will be of great interest to students and scholars in a variety of fields such as criminal law criminology social policy human rights family law gender studies and sociology The book is also accessible beyond academia including practitioners and those in the voluntary sector who are working in the area of combating domestic abuse

Relationships in Recovery Kelly E. Green, 2021-06-30 One of the most devastating aspects of addiction is the damage it causes to relationships with intimate partners family friends or colleagues But recovery programs often recommend that you focus solely on sobriety and don't emphasize the need to rebuild relationships Psychologist and addictions expert Kelly Green wants to change that Through her work with hundreds of clients Dr Green has learned that social support is key to the recovery process This compassionate judgment free guide shares powerful tools you can use to recognize the differences between healthy and unhealthy relationships set and maintain boundaries reestablish emotional intimacy communicate your feelings and needs and end harmful relationships respectfully With inspiring stories and easy to use worksheets you can download and print additional copies as needed this book lights the way to a life untethered from addiction and filled with positive connections

Rape Culture, Purity Culture, and Coercive Control in Teen Girl Bibles Caroline Blyth, 2021-02-10 In this fascinating book Caroline Blyth takes a close look at Bibles marketed to teen girls and asks how these might perpetuate harmful gender stereotypes that lie at the heart of rape culture The author considers the devotionals commentaries and advice sections placed throughout these Bibles which offer teen girl readers life advice on topics such as friendships body image and how to navigate romantic relationships Within these discussions there is a strong emphasis on modesty purity and sexual passivity as markers of young women's godliness Yet as the author argues these gendered ideals are prescribed to readers using rape supportive discourses and the tactics of coercive control Moreover the placement of these various editorial inserts within the pages of sacred scripture gives them considerable power to reinforce deeply harmful ideologies about gender sexuality and sexual violence Given the seeming popularity of these Bibles among Christian teen girls the need to dismantle their damaging rhetoric is especially urgent This book will be of particular interest to those studying the Bible religion gender and theology as well as the general reader

Learning from Victims' Family Narratives Morag C. Kennedy, 2025-07-08 Offering a new perspective on intimate partner abuse and homicide this book recognises the families of victims as legitimate agents of knowledge in terms of the harm experienced by their family members and considers how this harm is extended to the families themselves Examining harm from both an offline and online point of view the book explains the multipurpose roles of offline and online harm and how these roles do not occur in isolation in terms of the victims and families abusive experiences In doing so it demonstrates the range of harm experienced in the context of intimate partner abuse and homicide and outlines the overlapping nature of offline and online harm without prioritising one form of harm over the other instead considering the harm experienced as a continuum Providing theoretical and empirical contributions that are largely absent from existing victimology and harm literature Learning from Victims Family Narratives The Impact of Offline and Online Harm in Cases of Intimate Partner Homicide will be of interest to scholars researchers students and practitioners exploring the modern conceptualisation of harm and its impact on individuals beyond the victim and perpetrator
