Irish Culture Depth Psychology A Journal Of Archetype And Culture Spring Vol 79:

Parabola ,1976 Spring ,2008 Irish Culture & Depth Psychology ,2008 This is a collection of articles by various authors The collection is published by Spring Journal Each issue contains a different theme and the articles are published by different authors each time Spring Journal Volume 87 Nancy Cater,2012-08-01 Lakota Sioux scholar Vine Deloria Jr and Swiss psychiatrist C G Jung both recognized that Jungian psychology could serve as a bridge between Native American culture and the Western psyche To further this bridge building Spring Journal has invited Native American psychologists scholars and cultural commentators to share their insights upon the connections and disconnections between Native American culture and the Western psyche how each informs the other and what helps or hinders a dialogue between the two

Spring Volume 86 Stacy Wirth,Isabelle Meier,2011-11-30 Body and Soul Marion Woodman,2005-05 Book Description Articles and reviews by Marion Woodman Donald Kalsched Joan Chodorow Ernest Rossi Tina Stromsted Maureen Murdock and more The Psychology of Violence Nancy Cater,2009-08 In this volume of Spring A Journal of Archetype and Culture a number of widely respected Jungian analysts and scholars explore the psychology of violence and reconciliation from the perspective of depth psychology Spring 56 Journal of Archetypes James Hillman,1998-08-13 Since 1941 the Spring Journal has been serving a diverse and growing Jungian community with the latest and most elegant articles in archetypal psychology and culture In this volume James Hillman David Miller Benjamin Sells Paul Bishop and Ronald Scheck offer intriguing articles on a variety of subjects Spring, a Journal of Archetype and Culture, Vol. 90, Fall 2013, Jung and India Al Collins,Nancy Cater,Elaine Molchanov,2013-12-01 Carl Jung s interest in India and specifically in Hinduism and Buddhism will be obvious to anyone who has even superficially read his work Nevertheless its significance is often ignored or minimized This issue of Spring aims to show just how extensive and fraught Jung s ties to India were and to present attempts from a number of directions to plumb the meaning of the relationship and in the spirit of active imagination to dream it onward into the present and future In this issue we will focus mostly on Jung s connections with Hindu thought Buddhism and Hinduism in complex ways grew out of one another so it is inevitable that there will be some overlap between the two However in spite of Jung s professed preference for Buddhism he made much more use of Hindu and pre Hindu and pre Buddhist Vedic thought as will be evident from the papers in this issue We hope that Jung and India will open channels of thinking and practice with the potential to enrich Jungian understanding of Indian traditions and equally to stimulate creative interpretations and extensions of Jungian thought The papers for this volume fall rather clearly into four categories 1 historical and comparative work integrating India and Jung 2 papers comparing and contrasting Jungian ideas with specific Indian traditions 3 Jungian interpretations of Hindu myths and rituals and 4 personal memoirs combining Jungian and Indian themes Despite the neat taxonomy many of the papers touch on more than one category and all in some way broach the fundamental questions that motivated this work in the first place What unconscious implied nascent or potential dialogue

hangs poised in the field of thought and practice between Carl Jung's psychology and the 3500 year old tradition of Indian thought And what can we do to help it emerge for the benefit of both Spring No 82, a Journal of Archetype and Culture Murray Stein, Murray Stein Ph. D., 2009-10 Symbolic Life 2009 celebrates the seventieth anniversary of Jung's 1939 lecture entitled The Symbolic Life to the Guild of Pastoral Psychology in London and considers if and how Jung's path into living a symbolic life is still viable today Murray Stein the president of the International School of Analytical Psychology in Zurich ISAPZURICH serves as the guest editor of this volume and the contributors are all analysts or students affiliated with ISAPZURICH This issue also features an interview by Rob Henderson with Sonu Shamdasani the editor of Jung's famous The Red Book only recently published and made available to scholars and the public for the first time The Red Book is a product of Jung's own confrontation with the unconscious between 1914 and 1930 and is where he developed his principle theories of the archetypes the collective unconscious and the process of individuation Archetypal Psychology James Hillman, 1983 Traces the intellectual ancestry of archetypal psychology assembles its literature and clarifies the root metaphors governing its practice Includes a bibliography of relevant publications as well as a complete checklist of all of James Hillman's writings to 1992 Spring James Hillman, 1988-09-01 Psyche and Nature Nancy Carter, 2007-03 A special 2 issue set on the theme of Psyche and Nature with contributions from Jungian analysts ecopsychologists and environmental activists including Wolfgang Giegerich Greg Mogenson Michael Whan Roberto Gambini Meredith Sabini Ed Casey David Kidner Glen Mazis Peter Bishop Andy Fisher David Schoen Vine Deloria and many many more C. G. Jung's Archetype Concept Christian Roesler, 2021-12-28 The concept of archetypes is at the core of C G Jung's analytical psychology In this interesting and accessible volume Roesler summarises the classical theory of archetypes and the archetypal stages of the individuation process as it was developed by Jung and his students Various applications of archetypes in cultural studies as well as in clinical practice are demonstrated with detailed case studies dream series myths fairy tales and so on The book also explores how the concept has further developed as a result of research and for the first time integrates findings from anthropology human genetics and the neurosciences Based on these contemporary insights Roesler also makes a compelling argument for why some of Jung's views on the concept should be comprehensively revised Offering new insights on foundational Jungian topics like the collective unconscious persona and shadow C G Jung's Archetype Concept is of great interest to Jungian students analysts psychotherapists and scholars Loose Ends James Hillman, 1975 Spring, a Journal of Archetype and Culture, Vol. 92, Spring 2015, Eranos: Its Magical Past and Alluring Future: The Spirit of a Wondrous Place Nancy Carter, Riccardo Bernardini, 2015-06-05 Spring is delighted to publish this special issue on Eranos founded in Ascona Switzerland by Olga Frobe Kapteyn in 1933 Spring has had a long standing connection to Eranos and has published through the decades articles by many of the key figures who presented at the Eranos conferences including works by C G Jung Karl Kerenyi Mircea Eliade Heinrich Zimmer Erich Neumann Henry Corbin Adolf Portmann Alfred Ziegler Gilbert

Durand James Hillman Rudolf Ritsema David Miller and Wolfgang Giegerich Eranos's pioneering endeavor of interdisciplinary conferences has been properly recognized as one of the most creative cultural experiences in the modern Western world and one of the richest centers of intellectual and spiritual interchange known to our century Its influence has been documented in a number of fields of knowledge ranging from psychology to the history of religions from philosophy to Eastern studies from theology to anthropology and from biology to physics Many of the talks given at Eranos shaped the works of some of most influential scholars of the twentieth century Moreover the Eranos Archive for Research in Symbolism served as the iconographic support for fundamental studies in Jungian thought and psychology Despite the enormous amount of intellectual work thus far only three journals have published special issues dedicated to Eranos There has been in fact a singular lack of balance between Eranos's cultural importance and the attention paid to it in scholarly literature Ultimately even without gathering strictly historiographical works on the topic this issue of Spring is meant to propose a reflection and a discussion on Eranos from various points of view A first series of contributions gathered under the title The Eranos Phenomenon mainly offers an interpretation of Eranos from a historical perspective A second series of essays Eranos and the Psychological Tradition deal with Eranos's contribution to Jung's thought and then to the development of analytical psychology The third section Eranos and the Idea of the Sacred gathers a series of articles that deal with Eranos's view of the religious issues and the study of the sacred A fourth group of articles deal with the Philosophical Perspectives of Eranos Lastly a fifth series of writings Eranos and the Unity of Psyche and Matter delve into Eranos's contribution to the dialogue between human sciences and natural sciences as well as between the theoretical speculation and the need for concrete answers to some crucial problems of the world we are living This issue of Spring also includes an ample iconographic section with more than fifty photographs from the Eranos Foundation Archives many never before published They are products of Eranos photographers Margarita Marianne Margarethe Fellerer 1886-1961 Tim N Gidal 1909-1996 and Luciano Soave The volume closes with a bibliographical appendix comprising a list of the Eranos Yearbooks 1933-2014 and of the Eranos Round Table Sessions 1990-2002 as well as of the proceedings of the Associazione Amici di Eranos 1990-2012 and of the Verein zur Forderung der wissenschaftlichen Tagungen von Eranos 2001-2014
