True Irish Ghost Stories St. John D. Seymour, Harry L. Neligan, 2006-09-01 Irish fairy and folklore there were in abundance but there was no book of ghosts And so I determined to supply this sad omission Suddenly a brilliant thought struck me I wrote out a letter stating exactly what I wanted and what I did not want and requesting the readers of it either to forward me ghost stories or else to put me in the way of getting them this letter was sent to the principal Irish newspapers on October 27 and published on October 29 and following days On October 30 the first answers reached me Within a fortnight I had sufficient material to make a book within a month I had so much material that I could pick and choose and more was promised

True Irish Ghost Stories St. John D. Seymour, Harry L. Neligan, 2017-11-18 For centuries Ireland has been a place of the uncanny with tales and legends of magic and curses ghosts and fantastical beings each and every story told breathlessly and with an oath to its truth When researcher St John D Seymour placed a series of ads in local Irish newspapers soliciting people s tales of their encounters with ghosts he was doubtful of what results he might obtain Within a month he received enough ghostly narratives to fill a book and still more were on the way In True Irish Ghost Stories he and Harry Neligan share the accounts they were sent from all corners of the Emerald Isle tales of haunted houses and haunted places of apparitions and harbingers of the famous Banshee and other legendary ghosts and even a few cases that resulted in rational explanations for the apparently supernatural goings on But whatever the stories represent to the tellers or the listeners one fact emerges clearly The fantastic and the supernatural are as much a part of the present as they are the past in Ireland The new Factual Planet edition of this seminal classic features memorable original photos of Ireland and an introduction by Patrick Dorsey author of the bestselling true ghost stories collection Haunted Webster Groves

True Irish Ghost Stories St. John Drelincourt, 2018-06-29 True Irish Ghost Stories by St John D St John Drelincourt Seymour CHAPTER I HAUNTED HOUSES IN OR NEAR DUBLIN Of all species of ghostly phenomena that commonly known as haunted houses appeals most to the ordinary person There is something very eerie in being shut up within the four walls of a house with a ghost The poor human being is placed at such a disadvantage If we know that a gateway or road or field has the reputation of being haunted we can in nearly every case make a detour and

so avoid the unpleasant locality But the presence of a ghost in a house creates a very different state of affairs It appears and disappears at its own sweet will with a total disregard for our feelings it seems to be as much part and parcel of the domicile as the staircase or the hall door and consequently nothing short of leaving the house or of pulling it down both of these solutions are not always practicable will free us absolutely from the unwelcome presence We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience

Gazetteer of Scottish and Irish Ghosts Peter Underwood,1973 Gazetteer of Scottish and Irish Ghosts is the first comprehensive collection of ghostly legends and modern reports of ghosts and hauntings through the Highlands Lowlands and Isles of Scotland and the whole of Ireland Here are such varied phenomena as the big grey man of Ben MacDhui the haunted mountain vouched for by professors doctors and mountaineers of considerable standing or the curious disturbances at the Edinburgh home of Sir Alexander Seton subsequent to his wife's removing an ancient bone from an Egyptian tomb Do you know where a vampire lurks in the shadows of a ruined church Where giant footsteps cause panic to hardened climbers Where the red glow of battle shines annually Where corpses whisper These and many other strange stories legends and authentic accounts of ghostly happenings have been catalogued alphabetically for easy reference In addition to presenting a profusion of fascinating reports from the towns and valleys lochs and lakes mountains and rivers historic castles and houses of these lovely countries Peter Underwood draws on his twenty five years of study and practical investigation to describe a rich patchwork of reported happenings that cannot be explained in material or scientific terms All in all A Gazetteer of Scottish and Irish Ghosts provides a unique reference book and guide to the ghost population of these lands The result of many years study it is a worthy successor to the earlier Gazetteer of British Ghosts by the same author
