Flores, 2006-10-15 Gardening can be a political act Creativity fulfillment connection revolution it all begins when we get our hands in the dirt Food Not Lawns combines practical wisdom on ecological design and community building with a fresh green perspective on an age old subject Activist and urban gardener Heather Flores shares her nine step permaculture design to help farmsteaders and city dwellers alike build fertile soil promote biodiversity and increase natural habitat in their own paradise gardens But Food Not Lawns doesn t begin and end in the seed bed This joyful permaculture lifestyle manual inspires readers to apply the principles of the paradise garden simplicity resourcefulness creativity mindfulness and community to all aspects of life Plant guerilla gardens in barren intersections and medians organize community meals start a street theater troupe or host a local art swap free your kitchen from refrigeration and enjoy truly fresh nourishing foods from your own plot of land work with children to create garden play spaces Flores cares passionately about the damaged state of our environment and the ills of our throwaway society In Food Not Lawns she shows us how to reclaim the earth one garden at a time The Transition Handbook Rob Hopkins,2008-02-25 Move from feeling anxious about the oil crisis to developing a positive visions and taking traction action to create a more self reliant existence with this ground breaking book We live in an oil dependent world and have become reliant in a very short space of time using vast reserves of oil in the process and without planning for when the supply is not so plentiful Most of us avoid thinking about what happens when the oil runs out or becomes prohibitively expensive but the reality may not be as bad as we think The Transition Handbook shows how the inevitable and profound changes ahead could have a positive effect Written by permaculture expert Rob Hopkins he discusses the possibility of a rebirth of local communities which will generate their own fuel food and housing These will encourage the development of local currencies to keep money in the local area and unleash a local skilling up so that people have more control over their lives The growth in interest in the Transition model continues to be exponential There are now more than 35 formal Transition Initiatives in the UK including towns cities islands villages and peninsulas with more joining as the idea takes off With little proactivity at government level communities are taking matters into their own hands and acting locally If your community has not yet become a Transition Initiative this upbeat guide filled with beautiful black and white photographs offers you the tools to get started The Transition Handbook is the perfect manual to guide communities as they begin this energy descent journey Edible Forest Gardens, Volume I Dave Jacke,Eric Toensmeier,2005-07-29 Edible Forest Gardens is a groundbreaking two volume work that spells out and explores the key concepts of forest ecology and applies them to the needs of natural gardeners in temperate climates Volume I lays out the vision of the forest garden and explains the basic ecological principles that make it work Edible Forest Gardens offer an advanced course in ecological gardening one that will forever change the way you look at plants and your environment Edible Memory Jennifer A. Jordan,2015-04-14 Each week during the growing season farmers markets offer up such delicious treasures as brandywine tomatoes cosmic purple carrots pink pearl apples and chioggia beets varieties of fruits and vegetables that are prized by home chefs and carefully stewarded by farmers from year to year These are the heirlooms and the antiques of the food world endowed with their own rich histories While cooking techniques and flavor fads have changed from generation to generation a Ribston Pippin apple today can taste just as flavorful as it did in the eighteenth century But how does an apple become an antique and a tomato an heirloom In Edible Memory Jennifer A Jordan examines the ways that people around the world have sought to identify and preserve old fashioned varieties of produce In doing so Jordan shows that these fruits and vegetables offer a powerful emotional and physical connection to a shared genetic cultural and culinary past Jordan begins with the heirloom tomato inquiring into its botanical origins in South America and its culinary beginnings in Aztec cooking to show how the homely and homegrown tomato has since grown to be an object of wealth and taste as well as a popular symbol of the farm to table and heritage foods movements She shows how a shift in the 1940s away from open pollination resulted in a narrow range of hybrid tomato crops But memory and the pursuit of flavor led to intense seed saving efforts increasing in the 1970s as local produce and seeds began to be recognized as living windows to the past In the chapters that follow Jordan combines lush description and thorough research as she investigates the long history of antique apples changing tastes in turnips and related foods like kale and parsnips the movement of vegetables and fruits around the globe in the wake of Columbus and the poignant perishable world of stone fruits and tropical fruit in order to reveal the connections the edible memories these heirlooms offer for farmers gardeners chefs diners and home cooks This deep culinary connection to the past influences not only the foods we grow and consume but the ways we shape and imagine our farms gardens and local landscapes From the farmers market to the seed bank to the neighborhood bistro these foods offer essential keys not only to our past but also to the future of agriculture the environment and taste By cultivating these edible memories Jordan reveals we can stay connected to a delicious heritage of historic flavors and to the pleasures and possibilities for generations of feasts to come
