Thornington Hall Thornham Hall Ufford Place The British Country House Revival Ben Cowell,2024 British country houses have experienced a renaissance since the early 1970s A new accord is needed today recognising the increasingly contested contribution of country houses to British cultural life Fifty years ago the future for country houses in Britain looked bleak The Victoria Albert Museum s exhibition The Destruction of the Country House which opened in October 1974 charted the loss of over a thousand country houses in the preceding century The makers of the exhibition warned that history could be about to repeat itself because of the threats besetting mansion properties principally from higher taxation Houses faced the prospect of having to be stripped of their collections and sold for use as offices hotels or hospitals with their parks and gardens turned into golf clubs Government might afford to save just a handful of the most significant of these places working in tandem with charities such as the National Trust The rest would be consigned to history This book traces the history of country houses in Britain from the Destruction exhibition to the present day The wave of country house losses anticipated in 1974 never actually happened Instead over the next five decades Britain s country houses experienced a renaissance Fiscal rules changed in the mid 1970s to make it easier for owners to hold on to their assets Economic improvements in the 1980s and 1990s allowed many houses and estates to develop profitable commercial businesses All of this was achieved only after dedicated campaigning from heritage organisations in support of the country house cause The book argues that a new accord is needed today to recognise and value the ongoing if increasingly contested contribution of country houses to British life and culture in the twenty first century Lost Country Houses of Nottinghamshire Maxwell Craven,2025-05-15 A fascinating description of the lost country houses of Nottinghamshire will be of interest to all those who live in the county or know it well

Country houses and the British Empire, 1700-1930 Stephanie Barczewski,2017-02-01 Country houses and the British empire 1700 1930 assesses the economic and cultural links between country houses and the Empire between the eighteenth and twentieth centuries Using sources from over fifty British and Irish archives it enables readers to better understand the impact of the empire upon the British metropolis by showing both the geographical variations and its different cultural manifestations Barczewski offers a rare scholarly analysis of the history of country houses that goes beyond an architectural or biographical study and recognises their importance as the physical embodiments of imperial wealth and reflectors of imperial cultural influences In so doing she restores them to their true place of centrality in British culture over the last three centuries and provides fresh insights into the role of the Empire in the British metropolis The Little History of Suffolk Sarah E. Doig,2018-10-08 If we scratch beneath the surface of the Suffolk we know today there are numerous surprising touching and alarming tales which bring to life the rich history of this county The Little History of Suffolk reveals the devastating effect of the dissolution of the monasteries the decline of the once booming cloth trade drastic erosion of the coastline and the disappearance of large country houses and estates Here you will also find the rise of the chic Victorian seaside resorts the captains of the brewing and iron industries who put Suffolk firmly on the post industrial revolution map and the key wartime role the county played over many centuries No corner of Suffolk is left unturned in this small book with a huge punch

The Painted Closet of Lady Anne Bacon Drury H.L. Meakin, 2017-07-05 Lady Anne Bacon Drury 1572-1624 was the granddaughter and niece of two of England's Lord Keepers of the Great Seal Sir Nicholas Bacon and Sir Francis Bacon Lady Anne was also the friend and patroness of John Donne and Joseph Hall however she deserves to be remembered in her own right Within her massive country house Lady Anne created a tiny painted room that she seems to have used as a kind of three dimensional book The walls consisted of panels of pictures and mottoes grouped under Latin sentences These panels can still be viewed in a Suffolk museum Christchurch Mansion in Ipswich Some panels point to classical and Biblical sources and to popular emblem books The sources of other panels are more recondite while still others are original compositions by Lady Anne The panels exhibit a contemptus mundi theme and reflect a struggle with ambition pride and even despair Some panels also appear to register carefully veiled but pointed critiques of political and religious events and figures Lady Anne's painted closet or architext is thus relevant to a wide range of early modern scholarship in various disciplines but is as yet largely unappreciated For the first time in four hundred years this book fully describes the closet and places it in its personal social intellectual and aesthetic contexts It argues for the painted closet's importance for understanding early modern conceptualizations of private and public spaces and for illuminating fundamental early modern habits of seeing and reading especially combinations of text and image Finally this book explores the closet as an example of the ingenious ways in which female subjectivity found ways to express itself even within the constraints of early modern patriarchal society in England

Huguenot Networks, 1560-1780 Vivienne Larminie, 2017-10-02 These chapters explore how a religious minority not only gained a toehold in countries of exile but also wove itself into their political social and religious fabric The way for the refugees departure from France was prepared through correspondence and the cultivation of commercial military scholarly and familial ties On arrival at their destinations immigrants exploited contacts made by compatriots and co religionists who had preceded them to find employment London a hub for the Protestant international from the reign of Elizabeth I provided openings for tutors and journalists Huguenot financial skills were at the heart of the early Bank of England Huguenot reporting disseminated unprecedented information on the workings of the Westminster Parliament Huguenot networks became entwined with English political factions Webs of connection were transplanted and reconfigured in Ireland With their education and international contacts refugees were indispensable as diplomats to Protestant rulers in northern Europe They operated monetary transfers across borders and as fund raisers helped alleviate the plight of persecuted co religionists Meanwhile French ministers in London attempted to hold together an exceptionally large community of incomers against heresy and the temptations of assimilation This is a story of refugee networks perpetuated but also interpenetrated and remade

Lost Mansions J. Raven, 2015-04-29 This provocative volume stimulates debate about lost heritage by examining the history of the hundreds of great houses demolished in Britain and Ireland in the twentieth century Seven lively essays debate our understanding of what is meant by loss and how it relates to popular conceptions of the great house Bertuna's Children Sue Spiller, 2017-01-17 The history of a school in Great Barton Suffolk and of education in the region from early times until the present and the story of those associated with that school who were either pupils or members of staff The Walled Garden Sarah Hardy, 2023-03-13 Richly evocative STACEY HALLS Heartbreaking RACHEL HORE Touching absorbing DAILY MAIL Poignant There ll be tears WOMAN HOME An enveloping story to savour KATE SAWYER A luminous debut novel of a love affair set against the terrible aftermath of war for readers of IN MEMORIAM by Alice Winn WAKE by Anna Hope and THE OUTCAST by Sadie Jones No one survives war unscathed But even in the darkest days seeds of hope can grow It is 1946 and in the village of Oakbourne the men are home from the war Their bodies are healing but their psychological wounds run deep Everyone is scarred those who fought and those left behind Alice Rayne is married to Stephen heir to crumbling Oakbourne Hall Once a sweet gentle man he has returned a bitter and angry stranger destroyed by what he has seen and done tormented by secrets Alice can only guess at Lonely and increasingly afraid of the man her husband has become Alice must try to pick up the pieces of her marriage and save Oakbourne Hall from total collapse She begins with the walled garden and as it starts to bear fruit she finds herself drawn into a new forbidden love Set in the Suffolk countryside as it moves from winter to spring The Walled Garden is a captivating love story and a timeless moving exploration of trauma and the miracle of human resilience A heartbreaking tale vividly dramatised Rachel Hore Tender and lyrical This beautiful book had notes of both Elizabeth von Arnim and Elizabeth Jane Howard More please Natasha Solomons Touching absorbing A beautifully written story that will especially appeal to Rachel Hore fans Daily Mail A poignant drama What happens when war ends How do people move on after what they ve seen and possibly done Hardy explores these complex themes in this gentle but powerful novel There ll be tears but this evocative read is worth every one Book of the Month Woman and Home Written with great delicacy and feeling Elizabeth Buchan author of Two Women in Rome Hardy s supremely observed novel blossoms like a rose sharp and pointed and stunningly beautiful Inga Vesper author of The Long Long Afternoon A poignant powerful novel about aftermath trauma and hope Katie Lumsden author of The Secrets of Hartwood Hall ONGLISTED FOR THE HWA GOLD CROWN AWARD FOR BEST HISTORICAL FICTION NOVEL OF THE YEAR 20th September 2023 <https://www.historiamag.com> the 2023 hwa crown awards longlists British Aristocracy and the Modern World Professor Miles Taylor, Christopher Ridgway, 2025-07-02 In the thirty five years since the publication of David Cannadine s Decline and Fall of the British Aristocracy 1990 the power of Britain s landed elite declined but they remain far from extinct One third of Britain s land still belongs to the aristocracy Moreover partly inspired by Cannadine s book we now know much more about the ways in which the aristocracy established their hold on modernity and how they have lasted so long Many key questions remain How much was this a distinctively British story to what extent were things different in Scotland Wales and Ireland Does decline and fall accurately describe what happened to landed elites in other countries particularly in western Europe or amongst assimilated elites such as Jews Was the soft power of the aristocracy their role in the arts philanthropy and higher education as significant as their political and economic sway How dependent on the colonies and also the USA were the British aristocracy for their wealth in the first place and how did their role overseas change their profile at home This volume brings together a wide ranging group of scholars to explore The Decline and Fall developing its themes in new ways and investigating other aspects for the first time Essex James Bettley, Nikolaus Pevsner, 2007-01-01 Essex one the largest counties of England stretches from the suburban fringes of East London to the fishing and sailing ports of Harwich and Maldon and the famous seaside resorts of Clacton Frinton and Southend Its buildings encompass rich Roman survivals powerful Norman architecture and the remains of major Tudor and Jacobean country houses Essex is first and foremost a county famed for its timber buildings from the eleventh century church at Greensted to the early and mighty barns at Cressing Temple and a wealth of timber framed medieval houses Later periods have also made their contribution from Georgian town houses to Victorian and Edwardian industrial and civic buildings and from important exemplars of early Modern Movement architecture to the major monument of High Tech at Stansted Airport

England's Lost Houses Giles Worsley, 2002 Of all the photographs in Country Life s archives none are more poignant or intriguing than the images of houses that have been lost This text puts the lost country houses of England in historical context and explains why so many were destroyed Country Life Illustrated , 1899 Lost London Edwin Beresford Chancellor, 1926 English Country Houses and Landed Estates Heather Clemenson, 2021-11-30 Originally published in 1982 and based on extensive research in estates archives this book outlines the changing fate of the 500 largest estates in England over the centuries It examines estates in their heyday and looks at their changing role as they declined in the twentieth century showing how some estates have survived and describing the differing uses to which country houses have been put The World of the Country House in Seventeenth-century England John Trevor Cliffe, 1999-01-01 This engaging and beautifully illustrated book takes us back to the domestic world of the landed gentry in seventeenth century England Relating countless stories and case histories drawn from a wide range of primary sources the book describes the physical environment staffing and functioning of gentry households the inhabitants and their activities and the role of these houses in the social and economic life of their localities J T Cliffe begins by exploring the exterior and interior of houses and the outbuildings parks and gardens that surrounded them He then investigates the people who lived in the country houses and the relationships between them He provides colorful details about the responsibilities of the squire and his wife the duties remuneration food clothing accommodation and treatment of servants and the special duties of estate stewards coachmen chaplains and tutors Cliffe explains various aspects of housekeeping such as the tradition of hospitality and the factors militating against it He also discusses other kinds of activity religious practices outdoor sports and indoor pastimes including music and billiards and such intellectual pursuits as antiquarian research poetry and scientific experiments He concludes with a fascinating survey of scandal in the world of the gentry telling of domestic strife financial disaster lunacy and other disasters that marred this idyllic existence The Twentieth Century Great House Malcolm Airs,2002 Life in the English Country House Mark Girouard,1978-01-01 Based on the author s Slade lectures given at Oxford University in 1975
