Discussion Questions

1. [LO 1] Based on the definition of gross income in §61 and related regulations, what is the general presumption regarding the taxability of income realized?

§61(a) defines gross income as all income from whatever source derived.

Reg. §1.61-(a) provides further insight into the definition of gross income as follows: Gross income means all income from whatever source derived, unless excluded by law.

Gross income includes income realized in any form, whether in money, property, or services. Thus, the general presumption regarding any income realized is that it is taxable, unless otherwise excluded by law.

2. [LO 1] Based on the definition of gross income in §61, related regulations, and judicial rulings, what are the three criteria for recognizing taxable income?

Based on §61(a), Reg. §1.61-(a), and various judicial rulings, taxpayers recognize gross income when:

- (1) they receive an economic benefit,
- (2) they realize the income, and
- (3) no tax provision allows them to exclude or defer the income from gross income for that year.

3. [LO 1] Describe the concept of realization for tax purposes.

As indicated in Reg. §1.61-(a), the tax definition of income adopts the realization principle. Under this principle, income is realized when: (1) a taxpayer engages in a transaction with another party; and (2) the transaction results in a measurable change in property rights.

In other words, assets or services are exchanged for cash, claims to cash, or other assets with determinable value. The concept of realization for tax purposes closely parallels the concept of realization for financial accounting purposes.

Requiring a transaction to trigger realization reduces the uncertainty associated with determining the amount of income because a change in rights can typically be traced to a specific moment in time and is generally accompanied by legal documentation.

4. [LO 1] Compare and contrast realization of income with recognition of income.

Clearinghouse Review, 2002 Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Special Committee on Aging United States. Congress. Senate. Special Committee on Aging, 1980 The National Public Accountant, 1967 Prentice-Hall Accounting Faculty Directory, 1995 Portraits of Labor Market Exclusion Ramya Sundaram, Ulrich Hoerning, Natasha de Andrade Falcão, Natalia Millán, Carla Tokman, Michele Zini, 2015-07-16 Portraits of Labor Market Exclusion presents profiles or portraits of individuals who have limited labor market attachment It is widely accepted that those with limited attachment to the labor market are a highly heterogeneous group including for instance recent job losers long term unemployed school leavers with no labor market experience those close to retirement age or people with caring responsibilities and that understanding their circumstances and potential barriers is an essential prerequisite for designing and implementing a tailored and effective mix of policy support and incentives The report takes a comprehensive view focusing on both the labor market attachment of a country's out of work population and the social assistance package and poverty profile of the same segment of the population In essence the report looks at individuals through the lenses of both poverty welfare status and labor market indicators and in doing so the portraits helps move the dialogue from a purely labor market centric view to a broader dialogue that includes social policy as a whole This is an important shift for instance social protection programs such as family benefits and maternity benefits and broader social policy issues such as retirement ages often have a great impact on who remains inactive Specifically the report presents portraits of the out of work population of six countries Bulgaria Estonia Greece Hungary Lithuania and Romania in terms of distance from the labor market human capital and labor supply conditions as well as demographic conditions The analysis relies on the European Union Statistics of Income and Living Conditions EU SILC surveys for the years 2007 to 2011 Latent class analysis methodology allows multidimensional profiling of the out of work population and identifies classes or groups of out of work individuals that are as homogeneous as possible within each class according to a set of observable characteristics and as distant as possible between classes Consequently this analysis provide a much richer glimpse of the very different barriers to labor market integration that these various groups experience considerably augmenting the limited amount of information contained in traditional descriptive statistics
