This edited collection examines gendered representations of evil in history the arts and literature Scholars often explore the relationships between gender sex and violence through theories of inequality violence against women and female victimization but what happens when women are the perpetrators of violent or harmful behavior How do we define evil What makes evil men seem different from evil women When women commit acts of violence or harmful behavior how are they represented differently from men How do perceptions of class race and age influence these representations How have these representations changed over time and why What purposes have gendered representations of evil served in culture and history What is the relationship between gender punishment of evil behavior and equality Agriculture and Industry in South-Eastern Roman Britain David Bird,2016-12-31 The ancient counties surrounding the Weald in the SE corner of England have a strongly marked character of their own that has survived remarkably well in the face of ever increasing population pressure The area is however comparatively neglected in discussion of Roman Britain where it is often subsumed into a generalised treatment of the civilian part of Britannia that is based largely on other parts of the country This book aims to redress the balance The focus is particularly on Kent Surrey and Sussex account is taken of information from neighboring counties particularly when the difficult subsoils affect the availability of evidence An overview of the environment and a consideration of themes relevant to the South East as a whole accompany 14 papers covering the topics of rural settlement in each county crops querns and millstones animal exploitation salt production leatherworking the working of bone and similar materials the production of iron and iron objects non ferrous metalworking pottery production and the supply of tile to Roman London Agriculture and industry provides an up to date assessment of our knowledge of the southern hinterland of Roman London and an area that was particularly open to influences from the Continent Climate Change 2014 -

million years including ice sheet expansion and decay The book begins by providing the geological and geomorphological context needed in order to understand this diversity in a relatively small area In turn it presents nearly thirty case studies on specific landscapes and landforms all of which are landmarks in the territory discussed These include the famous coastal cliffs and landslides granite tors of Dartmoor formerly glaciated mountains of Snowdonia and the Lake District karst of Yorkshire and many others The geomorphology of London and the Thames is also included Providing a unique reference guide to the geomorphology of England and Wales the book is lavishly illustrated with diagrams colour maps and photos and written in an easy to read style The contributing authors are distinguished geomorphologists with extensive experience in research writing and communicating science to the public The book will not only be of interest to geoscientists but will also benefit specialists in landscape research geoconservation tourism and environmental protection Heathland Clive

Chatters,2021-03-04 In Clive we have an ever fascinating guide to Britain s heathery districts not only marvelling at the wildlife of such wild places but also celebrating their diverse origins uses and cultural resonances Andrew Byfield Heathlands are so much more than simply purple carpets of heather They are ancient landscapes found throughout Britain that support a complex of inter related species and an immense diversity of habitats They also possess a unique human history defined by the struggle between pastoralism and the competing demands of those who seek exclusive use of the land In this latest addition to the British Wildlife Collection Clive Chatters introduces us to Britain s heathlands and their anatomy He then takes the reader on a geographical heathland tour from the maritime sub arctic of the Shetlands to the mild wetness of the Atlantic coast with an in memoriam nod to those heaths that have been erased from common memory and understanding He concludes with a review of how people have perceived and used heathland wildlife over the ages and sets out a future vision for this iconic landscape its unique habitats and the species that live there Most of our heaths are pale shadows of their former selves However Chatters argues it is not inevitable that the catastrophic losses of the recent past are the destiny of our remaining heaths Should we wish their place in the countryside as an integral part of British culture can be secured

Public Libraries,1958 Silchester: The Landscape Setting of the Iron Age Oppidum and Roman City Michael Fulford,Catherine Barnett,Nicholas Pankhurst,Daniel Wheeler,2025-06-30 Silchester The Landscape Setting of the Iron Age Oppidum and Roman City is the definitive report on the Silchester Environs Project which combined extensive fieldwork and prospection to examine the Iron Age hinterland of Calleva Atrebatum Silchester its settlement pattern economy and development The landscape setting of the Iron Age oppidum and Roman city of Calleva was initially explored through analysis of the available aerial photography and LiDAR data over c 1000 km2 Focusing on a 50 km square centred on Calleva six locations with suspected later prehistoric enclosures were sampled by coring and excavation and accompanied by extensive programmes of radiocarbon dating and environmental especially pollen analysis Phases of activity and or settlement were followed by abandonment and the regeneration of the woodland Neolithic and Bronze Age activity was identified but the first permanent settlements appeared to be of Late Bronze Age Early Iron Age date The period with the most numerous settlements is the Middle Iron Age 4th to 2nd century BC which was characterised by hillforts and smaller ditched enclosures Their abandonment was once again followed by woodland regeneration At the end of the 1st century BC new settlements were founded including the 38 ha defended oppidum in a wooded and otherwise empty landscape A territory with a radius of c 2 km and devoid of individual farmsteads was established around the oppidum to provide land for cultivation and grazing and it was retained with the founding of the Roman city This territory corresponds approximately with the combined present day parishes of Mortimer West End and Silchester The charcoal assemblages show evidence for the management of the woodlands including for the preparation of charcoal from the Late Iron Age though the Roman and into the medieval period Dated charcoal shows continued activity in the Environs in the post Roman and early medieval periods including the re occupation of the hillfort at Pond Farm The Illustrated London News ,1859 The Publisher ,1914 Moore's Rural New Yorker ,1906 Rural New Yorker ,1906 Prairie Farmer ,1893
