to the Bible's answers on your toughest questions are based on a national survey that former NFL coach and current NASCAR team owner Joe Gibbs commissioned. This research targeted the everyday life issues that men struggle with most. He may have Super Bowl rings and NASCAR Cup championship trophies to his credit, but Coach Gibbs believes that by turning to the Bible in times of failure and adversity, he has learned about true success. Written specifically for the average Joe, Joe Gibbs' notes will enlighten, encourage, and inspire you as you strive to build a game plan for your life. Features key articles from well-known experts on the areas of God, creation, finances, relationships, career, vocation, and other topics of interest to men. Devotions from Joe Gibbs that help you to learn from the Coach himself. Character studies of Bible characters who actually followed God's Game Plan and how you can follow it too. Book introductions for every book of the Bible. Winning the game of life is like winning in NASCAR or the NFL: if you don't have the right game plan, you won't succeed. Like a lot of guys, I tried many game plans. None led me to true success, and a couple ended in disaster. Not until I turned to the Bible did I gain the insights of God's game plan for my life and experience true eternal success. Written for the average Joe like me, I'm convinced the Game Plan for Life Bible will help you if you're serious about developing a successful game plan for your life. Playing for God Annie Blazer, 2015-07-24 When sports ministry first emerged in the 1950s and 1960s, its founders imagined male celebrity athletes as powerful salespeople who could deliver a message of Christian strength. If athletes can endorse shaving cream, razor blades, and cigarettes, surely they can endorse the Lord, too, reasoned Fellowship of Christian Athletes founder Don McClanen. But combining evangelicalism and sport did much more than serve as an advertisement for religion; it gave athletes the opportunity to think about the embodied experiences of sport as a way to experience intimate connection with the divine. As sports ministry developed, it focused on individual religious experiences and downplayed celebrity sales power, opening the door for female Christian athletes to join and eventually dominate sports ministry. Today women are the majority of participants in sports ministry in the United States. In Playing for God, Annie Blazer offers an exploration of the history and religious lives of Christian athletes, showing that evangelical engagement with popular culture can carry unintended consequences When sport became an avenue for embodied worship it forced a reckoning with evangelical teachings about the body Female Christian athletes increasingly turned to their own bodies to understand their religious identity and in so doing came to question evangelical mainstays on gender and sexuality What was once a male dominated masculinist project of sports engagement became a female dominated movement that challenged evangelical ideas on femininity marriage hierarchy and the sinfulness of homosexuality Though evangelicalism has not changed sporting culture for those involved in sports ministry sport has changed evangelicalism

Living Life as a Godly Champion Dr. H. Wesley Dykes, 2022-03-24 God gave me the concept of godly champion several years ago and directed me to write this book Initially I thought that the motivating factor behind writing this book was to leave a reminder of the many discussions held and lessons taught to my children over the years However in time the Lord made it clear to me that this book was also meant to be shared with His chosen people A champion as defined by Merriam Webster dictionary is one who shows marked superiority As children of the almighty God we are markedly superior because of the acceptance belief and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ God repeatedly states throughout the Bible that He would never leave us nor forsake us God ensures the victory for us in every circumstance situation challenge or obstacle He works out everything for our good because we love Him and are called according to His purpose Romans 8:28 This is what we can expect from God in our godly champion partnership What God expects or demands from us is our love worship obedience trust and devotion to Him only Being a champion in any regard requires diligent work Therefore godly champions must commit to praying continually reading and studying the Bible consistently worshiping Him daily and trusting and obeying Him always We as God's children represent Him every second of the day whether we are in the confines of our homes or at a public corporate venue He expects us to represent Him honorably diligently zealously courageously and with great swag That's right swag I wholeheartedly believe God wants us to represent Him proudly with a colorful spirited style Although we encounter trials tribulations and setbacks we adapt adjust and overcome all obstacles because of the strength and grit afforded to us by the indwelling Holy Spirit This embodies the persona of a godly champion We are victorious True Competitor Dan Britton, Jimmy Page, 2025-04-01 Get in the game Do you want powerful unstoppable faith for the gym locker room and competitive arena Your passion to live intentionally for Jesus in everything you do can help you transform the world one practice and game at a time True Competitor will challenge you to train your heart mind and soul so you reflect the love of Christ on and off the field Dan Britton and Jimmy Page share fifty two devotions that will refine how you think train and compete Each devotion features an in the trenches sports story with Scripture practical application interactive questions and room to write your personal game plan Become a champion for Christ and take your faith sport and life to the next level
