Ice Peter Owen Modern Classic:

The Ice Palace Tarjei Vesaas, 2009-05-01 A new edition of what is commonly seen as the legendary Norwegian writer's masterpiece this story tells the tale of Siss and Unn two friends who have only spent one evening in each other's company. But so profound is this evening between them that when Unn inexplicably disappears Siss's world is shattered. Siss's struggle with her fidelity to the memory of her friend and Unn's fatal exploration of the strange terrifyingly beautiful frozen waterfall that is the Ice Palace are described in prose of a lyrical economy that ranks among the most memorable achievements of modern literature.

I Am Lazarus Anna Kavan, 2013-12-01 Short stories addressing the surreal realities of mental illness from an incredible cult writer often compared to Kafka and Woolf. The tortured life of Anna Kavan brought her some reward in terms of great pieces of art. Her drug addiction bore fruit in the Julia and the Bazooka collection of stories while this companion volume recalls her experience of the asylum. Powerful haunting works which can be harrowing but are full of sympathy too.

The Grid Jeremy Reed, 2008 Christopher Marlowe and his Elizabethan set are reincarnated in a near future dystopian London on the brink of destruction battling AIDS and trapped by their shared past. A typically original and erotically charged novel by one of Britain's most idiosyncratic writers. The Grid is set in the not too distant future when Britain is ruled by the autocratic Commissar. London has merged with Tokyo and police use flying cars to combat rogue Boeing pilots doing kamikaze stunts over the capital's skyscrapers. Amid the dystopian chaos a group of men attend a mysterious hypnotherapy clinic called the Grid to receive treatment for AIDS but as the therapy progresses they begin to realize that they are in fact reincarnations of Christopher Marlowe, William Shakespeare and other members of the dramatists' Elizabethan circle including Nicholas Skeres, Henry Wriothsley and Thomas Walsingham. As the past merges with the present they find themselves embarking on a journey that leads to the resolution of one of the all-time great literary mysteries: the murder of Marlowe in a Deptford tavern in 1593 as well as one of the most extraordinary finales in recent British fiction.

Sultana's Dream and Padmarag Rokeya Hossain, 2022-08-09 One of the first science fiction utopian stories and one of the first feminist utopias by celebrated pioneering feminist educator, activist and Bengali writer Rokeya Hossain. A Penguin Classics Edition. Sultana, a Muslim woman living in colonial India, falls asleep and wakes up in a transformed future world, a utopia in which men rather than women are relegated to the domestic sphere. Women are now free to explore the outside world at will and pursue an education. Run by peaceful and just society using scientific principles to harvest energy from the sun and live in harmony with nature. Sultana's Dream was published in 1905 in the Indian Ladies Magazine, the first English language periodical edited by and targeted at Indian women. Like the periodical, the story broke new ground as a pioneering work of science fiction and feminist utopian literature at the turn of the century. Sultana's Dream is strikingly advanced in its critique of patriarchy, war, industrialization and the exploitation of the natural world, speaking to the concerns of our contemporary world as much as its own. At a time when British colonialism was using the treatment of women in India as justification for colonial intervention there Hossain's story in imagining a world in which men rather than women are kept inside positions her protest against Islamic patriarchy within a larger feminist vision that takes on Western as well as Islamic forms of gender hierarchy Her novella Padmarag is similarly utopian in its depiction of a women run school and welfare center and is both feminist and anti colonial in its outlook In both these works Hossain seizes the critique of gender roles in India away from Western commentators and turns it against British interference while also enlarging the critique to take on the problem of gender more broadly

Peter Owen, Not a Nice Jewish Boy Peter Owen, James Nye, 2021-12-02 In this wry candid and sometimes poignant memoir Peter Owen recalls his lonely Jewish boyhood in Nazi Germany and migration to England where he survived the London Blitz a teenage dalliance with aspiring actress Fenella Fielding and working with a motley variety of book publishers He founded his eponymous publishing firm in 1951 becoming one of the youngest publishers in Britain A pioneer of books on social themes gay and lesbian writing and literature in translation Owen's authors included ten Nobel laureates and brought Hermann Hesse Ezra Pound and Ana's Nin to a wider audience Enjoying their success he and his wife Wendy were memorably stylish and eccentric figures at the literary parties of the 1960s and 1970s Owen describes his often hilarious encounters with many of those he published including John Lennon Yoko Ono and Salvador Dalí his adventures in Japan with Yukio Mishima and Shōsaku Endō and in Morocco with Tennessee Williams and Paul and Jane Bowles As one of the last of the great migr publishers his death in 2016 aged 89 signalled the end of a literary era

Who Are You? Anna Kavan, 2014-04-01 Depicting the hopeless emotional polarity of a young couple this novel follows their doomed marriage spent in a remote tropical hell She described only as the girl is young sophisticated and sensitive He Mr Dog Head is an unreconstructed thug and heavy drinker who rapes his wife otherwise passing his time bludgeoning rats with a tennis racket Together with a visiting stranger Suede Boots who urges the woman to escape until he is banished by her husband these characters live through the same situations twice Their identities are equally real or unreal in each case With slight variation in the background and the novel's atmosphere neither the outcome nor the characters themselves are quite the same the second time The constant question of the jungle brain lever bird remains unanswered who are you

Ice Anna Kavan, 2006 In this haunting and surreal novel the narrator and a man known as the warden search for an elusive girl in a frozen seemingly post nuclear apocalyptic landscape The country has been invaded and is being governed by a secret organisation There is destruction everywhere great walls of ice overrun the world Together with the narrator the reader is swept into a hallucinatory quest for this strange and fragile creature with albino hair She is we know Anna Kavan herself Acclaimed by Brian Aldiss on its publication in 1967 as the best science fiction book of the year this extraordinary and innovative novel has subsequently been recognised as a major work of literature in its own right

The Secret Life of Puppets Victoria Nelson, 2003-11-01. In a tour of Western culture that is at once exhilarating and alarming, Nelson shows us the distorted forms in which the spiritual resurfaced in high art but also strikingly in the mass culture of puppets, horror, fantasy, literature and cyborgs from the works of Kleist, Poe, Musil and Lovecraft to Philip K. Dick and virtual reality simulations. Sad Planets Dominic Pettman, Eugene Thacker, 2024-03-28. Everything is sad wrote the Ancient poets. But is this sadness merely a human experience projected onto the world or is there a gloom attributable to the world itself? Could the universe be forever weeping the tears of things? In this series of meditations, Dominic Pettman and Eugene Thacker explore some of the key negative affects both eternal and emergent associated with climate change, environmental destruction and cosmic solitude. In so doing they unearth something so obvious that it has gone largely unnoticed: the question of how we should feel about climate change. Between the information gathered by planetary sensors and the simple act of breathing the air, new unsettling moods are produced for which we currently lack an adequate language. Should we feel grief over the loss of our planet? Or is the strange feeling of witnessing mass extinction an indicator that the planet was never ours to begin with? Sad Planets explores this relationship between our all too human melancholia and a more impersonal sorrow nestled in the heart of the cosmic elements Spanning a wide range of topics from the history of cosmology to the existential threat of climate change this book is a reckoning with the limits of human existence and comprehension As Pettman and Thacker observe never before have we known so much about the planet and the cosmos and yet never before have we felt so estranged from that same planet to say nothing of the stars beyond The Rough Guide to Scandinavia Rough Guides Staff,2009-07 The Rough Guide to Scandinavia ,2006 Artist's Book Yearbook ,1994
