Healing The Broken Heart Sin Alienation And The Gift Of Grace:

Healing the Broken Heart Susan Louise Nelson, 1997 Healing The Broken Heart touches the heart of human life revealing the pathos of brokenheartedness and the power of compassion and hope The Other Side of Sin Andrew Sung Park, Susan L. Nelson, 2012-05-21 The good news of Jesus Christ is for both sinners and the sinned against For the past two thousand years Christian theologians have focused on the experience of sinners but treated their victims inadequately To counterbalance this perspective a diverse group of Christian scholars consider sin from the other side To make sense of Christianity from this standpoint they offer a more complex and comprehensive analysis of human participation in evil and its reconciliation than the simple formula of sin and repentance The Other Side of Sin is an original fresh and exciting adventure into one of the most needed areas of theological thinking The Crux of Theology Allen G. Jorgenson, Kristen E.

Kvam, 2022-05-20 The title of this book plays upon the central place a theology of the cross holds in Lutheran theologies especially lucid in Luther's Heidelberg Disputation 1518 The 500th anniversary of this document coincided with the 70th anniversary of the Declaration of Human Rights by the United Nations wherein the preamble points to a global aspiration of a common good shaped by freedom justice and peace This book is located at the intersection of these two themes asserting that the cross has material content in being the means by which Christ in suffering solidarity with individuals communities and the cosmos advances freedom justice and peace Employing a variety of methods and exploring a broad range of geographic locales the contributors illumine the misuse of Reformation themes and offer a corrective in service of a common good that is publicly accountable and theologically sound The book thereby explores how contemporary Lutheran theology has utility both for analyzing injustice and for advancing justice in local as well as global contexts Reenchantment without Supernaturalism David Ray Griffin, 2018-08-06 The process philosophy of Alfred North Whitehead and Charles Hartshorne has made many distinctive contributions to the philosophy of religion David Ray Griffin now offers the first full scale philosophy of religion written from this perspective discussing such topics as the relationship between science and religion the validity of religious experience the nature and existence of God religious pluralism creation and evolution and the problem of evil Griffin's clear and comprehensive book also serves as a valuable introduction to process philosophy itself In his vigorous defense of a worldview that is fully naturalistic and fully religious Griffin shows not only how this position reconciles naturalism with freedom genuine religious experience and even life after death but also how its naturalistic theism reenchants the world in the sense of providing cosmic support for moral values Highly original and sometimes controversial Griffin's book develops its stance in conversation with influential proponents of other philosophical positions including William P. Alston Jürgen Habermas John Hick Colin McGinn Alvin Plantinga Hilary Putnam Willard Quine Ninian Smart Jeffrey Stout and Bernard Williams Sex, War, and "Sin" James H. Gailey, 2012-07-12 An examination of the Hebrew Scriptures reveals the ethical situations in ancient Israel as a structural analysis and exposes a covenantal triangle that features a dynamic of giving and receiving taking and paying penalties as a meme for human relationships This can be applied to groups as well as individuals and is surprisingly applicable to life in the twenty first century Two senses of Law natural scientific discoveries and the rules laid down by a divine creator lead to frames for considering these covenantal relationships and even the existence of Sin Are we bound to obey the rules laid down by God or may we decide what is best for us

The Making of American Liberal Theology Gary J. Dorrien, 2006-01-01 In this first of three volumes Dorrien identifies the indigenous roots of American liberal theology and demonstrates a wider longer running tradition than has been thought The tradition took shape in the nineteenth century motivated by a desire to map a modernist third way between orthodoxy and rationalistic deism atheism It is defined by its openness to modern intellectual inquiry its commitment to the authority of individual reason and experience its conception of Christianity as an ethical way of life and its commitment to make Christianity credible and socially relevant to modern people Dorrien takes a narrative approach and provides a biographical reading of important religious thinkers of the time including William E Channing Ralph Waldo Emerson Horace Bushnell Henry Ward Beecher Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Charles Briggs Dorrien notes that although liberal theology moved into elite academic institutions its conceptual foundations were laid in the pulpit rather than the classroom

Feminist and Womanist Pastoral Theology Bonnie J. Miller-McLemore, Brita L. Gill-Austern, 1999 In the last decade the focus of pastoral theology has shifted dramatically from care defined as counseling to care understood within a wider social political and religious context Feminist and womanist theory as well as feminist and womanist faith convictions have played a key role in this development According to the authors feminists and womanists in pastoral theology have begun to reconstruct the definitions parameters and commitments of pastoral care and counseling These changes have critical implications for care within congregations and for the understanding of theology in seminaries and divinity schools Yet these developments in the theory and practice of pastoral theology and their broader ramifications have not been carefully analyzed or even acknowledged by pastoral theologian minister and religion scholar alike This is due to a failure to articulate clear understandings of the field the gap between congregational ministry and higher education in religion and conflicts in theological education in general over the place of practice and theory experience spirituality and practical theology To redress these problems this collection of essays has a threefold aim First the book identifies the many changes occurring in definitions of pastoral theology care and counseling Second the volume defines and develops new methods and approaches Third the authors attend to the implications of these changes for congregational care and theological education Roughly speaking the order of the chapters in this volume follows this threefold agenda moving from an exploration of the changes in pastoral theology to its reconstruction to some of the implications of recent innovations
