Congress, 1997 American Education , 1927 Air University Quarterly Review , 1969 Castro's Cuba, Cuba's Fidel Lee Lockwood, 2003-06-30 Mr Lockwood's exciting book holds many surprises for the reader who has seen the Cuban reality up to now only through the distorting prism of propaganda During Mr Lockwood's latest 14 week visit to Cuba in 1965 he had a seven day marathon conversation with Fidel the transcription of which with excellent photographs constitutes the heart of the book A first rate psychological document this book is also an historical one in that it contains information necessary to the understanding of several conversational questions such as the priority given agriculture in the development of the Cuban economy the dissension between Moscow and Havana or even the intellectual road by which Castro came to Marxism Moreover it provides particulars up to now unknown Claude Julien The New York Times Book Review Lockwood gives us crowds posters individual studies Fidel in every possible mood the cities farms country towns most of Cuba is in the photographs Lockwood's text consists mainly of excerpts from several interviews he got from Fidel in 1965 In one way or another Fidel touches on all the events of crucial importance from the beginning of the insurrection until 1965 and the interviews thus become an explanation of the revolution that we badly need Jose Yglesias The New Republic The author's questions to Fidel are tough and penetrating and they elicited the same kind of answers The lively record deserves and encourages serious study K G Jackson Harper's Magazine Given the paucity of scholarly work on contemporary Cuba and the difficulty of visiting the island the photographs interview materials and interpretations of this gifted journalist must go high on the reading list of anyone professional or lay person who maintains a serious interest in Cuban affairs and in that most dramatic and important of twentieth century Latin American leaders Fidel Castro Richard Fagan Hispanic American Historical Review The Nation of Islam's Cautious Return to Americanness in the 2010s

Sadok Damak,2019-11-25 This volume anticipates the deradicalization of the Nation of Islam's erstwhile extremist discourse depicting the return of a sort of prodigal son to the common American national identity after over three generations spent in denial of the mother country In addition to investigating this shift in identification observed among the disciples of the sect during the past decade the volume offers a reflection on how ethnicity is much more resilient than ethnic identity itself From a social psychological perspective it speculates that unlike ethnic identity ethnicity allows people to change identity at will in order to circumvent the identities imposed on them or assigned to them by birth It also illustratively demonstrates the feasibility of thorough academic research in cultural studies
