History Makers

Joseph Stalin (1879–1953)

Stalin rose from being a peasant family in Georgia during World War I to the most powerful man in the Soviet Union, leading the country through the war and the early years of the Cold War.

Stalin made several gains in the countries controlled by the Soviet Union, but he became known for his harsh policies. Because of his independent actions, he fell in and out of favor with the Soviet Union. In October 1953, he died of a heart attack. After the Soviet Union put down the uprising, they tried to reestablish control.

In 1956, after Khrushchev had come to power, Stalin's government was exposed and criticized.

Prague Spring (1968)

A Czech demonstration fight against Soviet troops in 1968.

Alexander Dubcek (1912–1992)

Dubcek led the way to a new government that wanted the Soviet Union to change its policies. He was a leader in the 1960s, leading the Prague Spring of 1968. The Soviet Union rejected his ideas, and the Prague Spring was crushed. The Soviet Union forced Dubcek to leave the country. He returned to power in 1969, when the Communists agreed to turn power to a new government. When Dubcek was with the new leaders in 1968, he was a leader of the Soviet Union. He was a leader in the Soviet Union, and he was a leader in the Soviet Union.
