Had I Known A Memoir Of Survival:

Had I Known Joan Lunden, Laura Morton, 2015-09-22 In this brave and deeply personal memoir one of America's most beloved journalists mother and New York Times bestselling author speaks candidly about her battle against breast cancer her quest to learn about it and teach others and the transformative effect it's had on her life When former Good Morning America host Joan Lunden was diagnosed with breast cancer she set out to learn everything about it to help her survive With seven children counting on her giving up was not an option After announcing her diagnosis on Good Morning America people all over the country rallied around Joan as she went into Warrior mode Within a few months after losing her hair Joan appeared on the cover of People magazine bald showing the world she could and would beat the disease Determined to remain upbeat to look in the mirror with a brave face her resolve empowered women everywhere The Today show quickly recruited Joan as a special correspondent and continues to follow her progress A deeply personal and powerful story of pain persistence and perseverance Had I Known is a chronicle of Joan's experience and the plan she formulated and followed to battle with her disease and treatment As Joan reveals while her journey was not easy it profoundly changed her in unexpected ways Her odyssey helped Joan redefine herself her values and most of all her health Following a new clean way of eating Joan lost thirty pounds became more aware of the food she was eating and avoided many of the debilitating side effects of chemotherapy Dealing with the cancer also changed her perception of true beauty Being attractive isn't about the hair on your head it's about the strength and character you bring to everything you do Positive yet down to earth told with piercing honesty leavened with warmth and humor Had I Known offers unforgettable inspirational lessons for us all The

Rise of the Memoir Alex Zwerdling, 2017 The Rise of the Memoir traces the growth and extraordinarily wide appeal of the memoir Its territory is private rather than public life shame guilt and embarrassment not the achievements celebrated in the public record What accounts for the sharp need writers like Rousseau Woolf Orwell Nabokov Primo Levi and Maxine Hong Kingston felt to write and to publish such works when they might more easily have chosen to remain silent Alex Zwerdling explores why each of these writers felt compelled to write them as that story can be reconstructed from personal materials available in archival collections what internal conflicts they encountered while trying and how each of them resisted the private and public pressures to stop themselves rather than pursuing this confessional route against their own doubts without a reasonable expectation that such works would be welcome in print and eventually find an empathetic audience Reconstructing this process in which a dubious project eventually becomes a compelling product a memoir that will last illuminates both what was at stake and why this serially invented open form has reshaped the expectations of readers who welcomed a vital alternative to the official story Imagery from Genesis in Holocaust Memoirs Deborah Lee

Prescott, 2014-01-10 In the life stories of Holocaust survivors biblical imagery can be invoked to explicate the unexplainable to make real the unreal This text examines the role of Genesis in the autobiographies of survivors Three main concerns converge the literary nature of Biblical allusion the contextual history of the Holocaust and Midrashic considerations that arise from biblical reference Chapters examine references to Adam and Eve s expulsion from paradise Noah s Ark the Tower of Babel the Akeda Jacob s struggle with the angel and Cain s murder of Abel American POW Memoirs from the Revolutionary War through the Vietnam War Jon Alexander OP,2007-02-01 Fourteen student papers from an undergraduate seminar examine American POW memoirs from the Revolutionary War through the Vietnam War The focus of the student authors is on how American POWs have constructed narratives of their internments The papers examine various styles of narration characterization and plot construction and how the POW memoirs are framed with introductions quotations maps and illustrations Overall these papers suggest that the contexts in which authors write POW memoirs may influence the character of the memoirs they write as much as the attributes of their POW experiences American POW Memoirs is a unique collection of papers This publication provides an example of how an undergraduate seminar might move from training students in scholarly practice to providing students a first experience as scholarly practitioners Life Stories Maureen O'Connor,2011-08-23 Memoirs autobiographies and diaries represent the most personal and most intimate of genres as well as one of the most abundant and popular Gain new understanding and better serve your readers with this detailed genre guide to nearly 700 titles that also includes notes on more than 2 800 read alike and other related titles The popularity of this body of literature has grown in recent years and it has also diversified in terms of the types of stories being told and persons telling them In the past readers advisors have depended on access by names or Dewey classifications and subjects to help readers find autobiographies they will enjoy This guide offers an alternative organizing the literature according to popular genres subgenres and themes that reflect common reading interests Describing titles that range from travel and adventure classics and celebrity autobiographies to foodie memoirs and environmental reads Life Stories A Guide to Reading Interests in Memoirs Autobiographies and Diaries presents a unique overview of the genre that specifically addresses the needs of readers advisors and others who work with readers in finding books The Memoirs of Ceija Stojka, Child Survivor of the Romani Holocaust Ceija Stojka,2022 First English translation of the memoirs of Austrian Romani Holocaust survivor writer visual artist musician and activist Ceija Stojka 1933 2013 along with poems an interview historical photos and reproductions of her artworks Is this the whole world This question begins the first of three memoirs by Austrian Romani writer visual artist musician and activist Ceija Stojka 1933 2013 told from her perspective as a child interned in three Nazi concentration camps from age nine to twelve Written by a child survivor much later in life the memoirs offer insights into the nexus of narrative and extreme trauma expressing the full spectrum of human emotions fear and sorrow at losing loved ones joy and relief when reconnecting with family and friends desire to preserve some memories while attempting to erase others horror at acts of genocide and hope arising from dreams of survival In addition to annotated translations of the three memoirs the book includes two of Stojka s poems and an interview by Karin Berger editor of the original editions of Stojka s memoirs as well as color reproductions of several of her artworks and historical photographs An introduction contextualizes her works within Romani history and culture and a glossary informs the reader about the concentrationary universe Because the memoirs show how Stojka navigated male dominated postwar Austrian culture generally discriminatory to Roma and the patriarchal aspects of Romani culture itself the book is a contribution not only to Holocaust Studies but also to Austrian Studies Romani Studies and Women's and Gender Studies

In Popular Trauma Culture Anne Rothe argues that American Holocaust discourse has a particular plot structure characterized by a melodramatic conflict between good and evil and embodied in the core characters of victim survivor and perpetrator and that it provides the paradigm for representing personal experiences of pain and suffering in the mass media The book begins with an analysis of Holocaust clichés including its political appropriation the notion of vicarious victimhood the so called victim talk rhetoric and the infusion of the composite survivor figure with Social Darwinism Readers then explore the embodiment of popular trauma culture in two core mass media genres daytime TV talk shows and misery memoirs Rothe conveys how victimhood and suffering are cast as trauma kitsch on talk shows like Oprah and as trauma camp on modern day freak shows like Springer The discussion also encompasses the first scholarly analysis of misery memoirs the popular literary genre that has been widely critiqued in journalism as pornographic depictions of extreme violence Currently considered the largest growth sector in book publishing worldwide many of these works are also fabricated And since forgeries reflect the cultural entities that are most revered the book concludes with an examination of fake misery memoirs
