Health Care Advocacy A Guide For Busy Clinicians:

Health Care Advocacy Laura Sessums, Lyle Dennis, Mark Liebow, William Moran, Eugene Rich, 2011-08-17 Interest in policy influences on health care is high and will remain high as long as health care costs continue to rise and health care reform remains a hot topic in the news. There are inevitable and frequent points of interface between health care public policy and the health professions in their daily work. Clinicians see the problems with the health care system but often feel powerless and unsure how to advocate for system changes. Clinicians and Health Care Advocacy is written by clinicians for clinicians and focuses on how policy works and what individual professionals can do to affect policy. It looks at the facts and processes in an accessible way that employs case-based examples of clinician advocacy to illustrate its points. The book is nonpartisan and will stay neutral on preferences for one public policy solution versus another: single payer vs market reform, for example. Instead, it encourages a model of clinicians as responsible for healing not only the individual patient but also the larger health care system in which they work.

Lobbyists at Work Beth L. Leech, 2014-07-08 Lobbyists at Work is a must read for anyone interested in the serious business of government. Leech's probing questions reflect her years of research tracking the real impact of money and influence on policy. Thomas Hale Boggs Jr, Chairman Patton Boggs LLP, received wisdom has it that lobbyists run the American government on behalf of moneyed interests. But what makes lobbyists run and how do they induce legislators and bureaucrats to do their bidding? These are questions for which even the harshest critics lack satisfying answers. Lobbyists at Work explores what lobbyists really do and why. It goes behind the scenes and brings back in-depth interviews with fifteen political advocates chosen to represent the breadth and diversity of the lobbying profession. The interviewees profiled in this book range from the top lobbyists for hire at the most powerful K Street firms to pro bono lobbyists for the disenfranchised and powerless. The roster spans all types of lobbyists working for all types of clients and seeking to influence all levels and branches of government. The permutations include business lobbying, government lobbying, government-to-business revolving door regulatory lobbying, state and local lobbying, citizen advocacy lobbying, single issue lobbying, and multiple issue lobbying. In colorful and sometimes hilarious detail, the interviewees take the reader through their arsenals of traditional and next-generation lobbying techniques, including face-to-face persuasion of elected officials and their staffs, educational campaigns, and coalition building, ghost drafting complex legislation and regulation for government committees and agencies, contributions, and social media campaigns. In Lobbyists at Work, the normally self-effacing subjects open up about themselves and their profession: why they chose to become lobbyists, what motivates them to keep lobbying, how they cultivate their lobbying influence, how they adjust to changes in the rules affecting their lobbying methods, and what they actually do at work each day and night. As an authority on lobbying respected in Washington for her impartiality, Professor Beth Leech elicits frank disclosures, career tips, and riveting stories about the good, the bad, and the ambivalent on both sides of the symbiotic relationship between government officials and lobbyists Health Promotion and Disease Prevention in Clinical Practice Steven H. Woolf, Steven Jonas, Robert S.
