Bloodlust Russell Jacoby, 2011-04-05 THROUGHOUT HISTORY AND ACROSS CULTURES the most common form of violence is that between family members and neighbors or kindred communities in civil wars writ large and small From assault to genocide from assassination to massacre violence usually emerges from inside the fold You have more to fear from a spouse an ex spouse or a coworker than you do from someone you don't know In this brilliant polemic Russell Jacoby argues that violence erupts most often and most savagely between those of us most closely related An Indian nationalist assassinated Mohandas Gandhi the father of India An Egyptian Muslim assassinated Anwar Sadat the president of Egypt and a recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize An Israeli Jew assassinated Yitzhak Rabin the Israeli prime minister and similarly a recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize Genocide most often involves kindred groups The German Christians of the 1930s were so closely intertwined with German Jews that a yellow star was required to tell the groups apart Serbs and Muslims in Bosnia like the Hutu and Tutsi in Rwanda are often indistinguishable even to one another This idea contradicts both common sense and the collective wisdom of teachers and preachers who declaim that we fear and sometimes should fear the other the dangerous stranger Citizens and scholars alike believe that enemies lurk in the street and beyond where we confront a clash of civilizations with foreigners who challenge our way of life Jacoby offers a more unsettling truth it is not so much the unknown that threatens us but the known We attack our brothers our kin our acquaintances our neighbors with far greater regularity and venom than we attack outsiders Weaving together the biblical story of Cain and Abel Freud's narcissism of minor differences insights on anti-Semitism and misogyny as well as fresh analyses of civil bloodbaths from the St Bartholomew's Day Massacre in the sixteenth century to genocide and terrorism in our own time Jacoby turns history inside out to offer a provocative new understanding of violent confrontation over the centuries In thinking about the bad we reach for the good he says in his Introduction This passionate counterintuitive account affords us an unprecedented insight into the roots of violence

The Novel: An Alternative History Steven Moore, 2013-09-17 Encyclopedic in scope and heroically audacious The Novel An Alternative History is the first attempt in over a century to tell the complete story of our most popular literary form Contrary to conventional wisdom the novel did not originate in 18th century England nor even with Don Quixote but is coeval with civilization itself After a pugnacious introduction in which Moore defends innovative demanding novelists against their conservative critics the book relaxes into a world tour of the pre modern novel beginning in ancient Egypt and ending in 16th century China with many exotic ports of call Greek romances Roman satires medieval Sanskrit novels narrated by parrots Byzantine erotic thrillers 5000 page Arabian adventure novels Icelandic sagas delicate Persian novels in verse Japanese war stories even Mayan graphic novels Throughout Moore celebrates the innovators in fiction tracing a continuum between these pre modern experimentalists and their postmodern progeny Irreverent iconoclastic informative entertaining The Novel An Alternative History is a landmark in literary criticism that will encourage readers to rethink the novel

In The Story of Reason in Islam leading public intellectual and political activist Sari Nusseibeh narrates a sweeping intellectual history a quest for knowledge inspired by the Qu'ran and its language a quest that employed Reason in the service of Faith Eschewing the conventional separation of Faith and Reason he takes a fresh look at why and how Islamic reasoning evolved over time He surveys the different Islamic schools of thought and how they dealt with major philosophical issues showing that Reason pervaded all disciplines from philosophy and science to language poetry and law Along the way the best known Muslim philosophers are introduced in a new light Countering received chronologies in this story Reason reaches its zenith in the early seventeenth century it then trails off its demise as sudden as its appearance Thereafter Reason loses out to passive belief lifeless logic and a self contained legalism in other words to a less flexible Islam Nusseibeh's speculations as to why this occurred focus on the fortunes and misfortunes of classical Arabic in the Islamic world Change he suggests may only come from the revivification of language itself All Religion Is Inter-Religion Kambiz

GhaneaBassiri, Paul Robertson, 2019-07-11 All Religion Is Inter Religion analyses the ways inter religious relations have contributed both historically and philosophically to the constructions of the category of religion as a distinct subject of study Regarded as contemporary classics Steven M Wasserstrom's Religion after Religion 1999 and Between Muslim and Jew 1995 provided a theoretical reorientation for the study of religion away from hierophanies and ultimacy and toward lived history and deep pluralism This book distills and systematizes this reorientation into nine theses on the study of religion Drawing on these theses and Wasserstrom's opus more generally a distinguished group of his colleagues and former students demonstrate that religions can and must be understood through encounters in real time and space through the complex relations they create and maintain between people and between people and their pasts The book also features an afterword by Wasserstrom himself which poses nine riddles to students of religion based on his personal experiences working on religion at the turn of the twenty first century

Eurocentrism at the Margins Lutfi Sunar, 2016-05-05 Eurocentrism remains a prevailing feature of Western dominated social scientific perspectives tending to ignore alternative views originating outside the West and thus maintaining a form of scholarly hegemony As such there is an urgent need to reconsider Eurocentrism in social science to ask whether it constitutes an obstacle to understanding social problems and whether it is possible to go beyond Eurocentrism in the construction of reliable more universal knowledge At the same time certain questions persist particularly with regard to the extent to which recent revisionist challenges have really contributed to the surmounting of Eurocentric domination and whether the constant repetition of the concept serves to reinforce it This book engages with the central problems of Eurocentrism in the social sciences bringing together the work of scholars from around the world to offer a critique of this perspective from both European and non European positions thus shedding light on the binaries that often come into being in debates in this field Thematically organised and addressing a range of questions including Eurocentrism in historical studies in the understanding of religion and civilisation and in the study of international relations as well as in the institutionalisation and professionalisation of research and discourses on modernisation in the Middle East Eurocentrism at the Margins will appeal to scholars with interests in knowledge production and circulation and Eurocentrism and post colonialism in the social sciences
