Hamilton, 2014-02 This title is a comprehensive survey of maritime archaeology as seen through the eyes of nearly fifty scholars at a time when maritime archaeology has established itself as a mature branch of archaeology Tu sais, mon vieux Jean-Pierre John Willis, 2017-04-28 Tu sais mon vieux Jean Pierre is inspired by the work of archaeologist

Jean Pierre Chrestien 1949 2008 who worked hand in glove with a generation of researchers in helping to unearth unexpected and always interesting aspects of New France Contributions focus first upon the door to New France in the Gulf of St Lawrence Newfoundland and Acadia A second set of essays move further up the St Lawrence and into the heartland of the continent The final section examines aspects of Canadian culture popular art religion and communication The essays share a curiosity for material culture a careful regard for detail and nuance that forms the grain of New France studies and sensitivity to the overall context that is part and parcel of how history proceeds on the local or regional scale Happily we can now dispense with old fashioned and facile generalizations about the allegedly absent bourgeoisie the purportedly deficient commercial ethic of the habitants and the so called underlying military character of the colony and get down the business of understanding real people and their possessions in context Published in French

Reading Underwater Wreckage Killian Quigley, 2022-12-15 Presenting a novel and needed theoretical model for interpreting shipwrecks and other drowned fragments the histories they tell and the futures they presage as junctures of artefact and ecofact human remains and emergent ecologies this book puts the environmental humanities and particularly multispecies studies in close conversation with literary studies history and aesthetic theory Earth's oceans hold the remains of as many as three million shipwrecks some thousands of years old Instead of approaching shipwrecks as either artefacts or ecofacts this book presents a third frame for understanding one inspired by the material dynamism of sea floor stuff As they become encrusted by oceanic matter some of it living some inanimate anthropic fragments participate in a distinctively submarine form of material relation That relation comprises a wide and sometimes incalculable array of things lives times and stories Drawing from several centuries of literary philosophical and scientific encounters with encrustations as well as from some of the innumerable encrusted art forms that inhabit the sea floor this book serves anyone in search of better ways to perceive describe and imagine submarine matters

Blewett, 2008-12-30 In this companion volume to his 1995 bibliography of the same title Daniel Blewett continues his foray into the vast literature of military studies As did its predecessor it covers land air and naval forces primarily but not exclusively from a U S perspective with the welcome emergence of small wars from publishing obscurity In addition to identifying relevant organizations and associations Blewett has gathered together the very best in chronologies bibliographies biographical dictionaries indexes journals abstracts glossaries and encyclopedias each accompanied by a brief descriptive annotation This work remains a pertinent addition to the general reference collections of public and academic libraries as well as special libraries government documents collections military and intelligence agency libraries and historical societies and museums Jutland 1916 Innes McCartney, 2018-04-26 The Battle of Jutland was the largest naval battle and the only full scale clash of battleships in the First World War For years the myriad factors contributing to the loss of many of the ships remained a mystery subject only to speculation and theory In this book marine archaeologist and historian Dr Innes McCartney reveals for the first time what became of the warships that vanished on the night of 31st May 1916 examining the circumstances behind the loss of each ship and reconciling what was known in 1916 to what the archaeology is revealing today The knowledge of what was present was transformed in 2015 by a ground breaking survey using the modern technology of multi beam This greatly assisted in unravelling the details behind several Jutland enigmas not least the devastating explosions which claimed five major British warships the details of the wrecks of the 13 destroyers lost in the battle and the German warships scuttled during the night phase This is the first book to identify the locations of many of the wrecks and scandalously how more than half of these sites have been illegally plundered for salvage despite their status as war graves An essential and revelatory read for anyone interested in naval history and marine archaeology The Aesthetics of Ruins Robert Ginsberg, 2021-08-04 This book constructs a theory of ruins that celebrates their vitality and unity in aesthetic experience Its argument draws upon over 100 illustrations prepared in 40 countries Ruins flourish as matter form function incongruity site and symbol Ruin underlies cultural values in cinema literature and philosophy Finally ruin guides meditations upon our mortality and endangered world English/British Naval History to 1815 Eugene L. Rasor, 2004-10-30 The English British have always been known as the sailor race with hearts of oak the Royal Navy as the Senior Service and First Line of Defense It facilitated the motto The sun never set on the British Empire The Royal Navy has exerted a powerful influence on Great Britain its Empire Europe and ultimately the world This superior annotated bibliography supplies entries that explore the influence of the English British Navy through its history This survey will provide a major reference guide for students and scholars at all levels It incorporates evaluative qualitative and critical analysis processes the essence of historical scholarship Each one of the 4 124 annotated entries is evaluated assessed analyzed integrated and incorporated into the historiographical scholarship Excessive Maritime Claims J. Ashley

Roach, 2021-03-01 State practice in the law of the sea has continued to evolve since publication of the 3rd edition of Excessive Maritime Claims in 2012. In this 4th edition J Ashley Roach has brought the text up to date particularly as to the provisions relating to the balance of navigational rights and freedoms with the interests of coastal and island States. Of particular interest are the more detailed explanations of the phrase freedom of navigation, the expanded material on baselines and on the practice of archipelagic States, the revisions of the material on the continental shelf, on marine data collection, on submarine cables and pipelines and US Ocean Policy. A new chapter has been added on islands and other maritime features. This edition is dedicated to Dr Robert W Smith, the premier marine geographer. Lost on the Ocean Floor John Christopher Fine, 2005 This is a book that captures the drama of discovery while presenting the historical scientific and archaeological facts. Where possible eyewitness reports of sinkings are included as well as the folklore associated with some of the world's great salvage attempts. Readers are also treated to personal accounts of those who have found great treasure on long lost shipwrecks. Jacket The Seaforth Bibliography Eugene Rasor, 2009-04-17 This remarkable work is a comprehensive historiographical and bibliographical survey of the most important scholarly and printed materials about the naval and maritime history of England and Great Britain from the earliest times to 1815. More than 4 000 popular standard and official histories, important articles in journals and periodicals, anthologies, conference symposium and seminar papers, guides, documents and doctoral theses are covered so that the emphasis is the broadest possible. But the work is far far more than a listing. The works are all evaluated, assessed and analysed and then integrated into an historical narrative that makes the book a hugely useful reference work for student, scholar and enthusiast alike. It is divided into twenty one chapters which cover resource centres, significant naval writers, pre-eminent and general histories, the chronological periods from Julius Caesar through the Vikings, Tudors and Stuarts to Nelson and Bligh, major naval personalities, warships, piracy, strategy and tactics, exploration, discovery and navigation, archaeology and even naval fiction. Quite simply no one with an interest and enthusiasm for naval history can afford to be without this book at their side. ARCHAEOLOGY - Publication of the Archaeological Institute of America.
