Mixed Race Student Politics: A Rising “Third Wave” Movement at UCLA Robert Chao Romero,James Ong,Chelsea Guillermo-Wann,Jenifer Logia,2019-10-03 The multiracial population of the United States is growing at an exponential rate and it is estimated that as much as twenty percent of the entire US population will be mixed race by 2050 Despite this dramatic cultural and demographic shift institutional structures of higher education continue to be organized along inflexible monoethnic racial lines Mixed Race Student Politics features sixteen graduate and undergraduate student essays that offer a window into the diverse experiences of being a mixed race university student in America and at UCLA the leading edge of mixed race student organizing Together the essays evince a third wave of a new mixed race movement as well as a rising tide of mixed race politics Weaving together a diverse set of student narratives that challenge monoracial thinking these essays provide a much needed contribution to the field of Critical Mixed Race Studies Rudy P Guevarra Jr author Becoming Mexipino Multiethnic Identities and Communities in San Diego

THE Creole Book Janet Ravare Colson,2012-04-05 This publication traces the history accomplishments and milestones of the Creole Center located at Northwestern State University in Natchitoches Louisiana THE Creole Book presents a beginning look at some of the Center's work and accomplishments In its thirteen plus years of existence the Center has served not only the Creoles in Louisiana but the national Creole public scholars and anyone interested in the culture from around the world It has paved the way for the long sought after recognition of the unique and deserving Louisiana Creole culture The Center has also become the national Creole voice To put it bluntly Creoles can now be comfortable in declaring their culture and heritage It is the author's belief that this would not be possible without the work that the Creole Center has done

Louisiana Creole Literature Catharine Savage Brosman, 2013-10-17 Louisiana Creole Literature is a broad ranging critical reading of belles lettres in both French and English connected to and generally produced by the distinctive Louisiana Creole peoples chiefly in the southeastern part of the state The book covers primarily the nineteenth and twentieth centuries the flourishing period during which the term Creole had broad and contested cultural reference in Louisiana The study consists in part of literary history and biography When available and appropriate each discussion arranged chronologically provides pertinent personal information on authors as well as publishing facts Readers will find also summaries and evaluation of key texts some virtually unknown others of difficult access Brosman illuminates the biographies and works of Kate Chopin Lafcadio Hearn George Washington Cable Grace King and Adolphe Duhaime among others In addition she challenges views that appear to be skewed regarding canon formation The book places emphasis on poetry and fiction reaching from early nineteenth century writing through the twentieth century to selected works by poets still writing in the early twenty first century A few plays are treated also especially by Victor Séjour Louisiana Creole Literature examines at length the writings of important Francophone figures and certain Anglophone novelists likewise receive extended treatment Since much of nineteenth century Louisiana literature was transnational the book considers Creole based works which appeared in Paris as well as those published locally

Indian Blood Andrew J. Jolivet, 2016-06-01 Finalist for the 2017 Lambda Literary Lammy Award in LGBTQ Studies The first book to examine the correlation between mixed race identity and HIV AIDS among Native American gay men and transgendered people Indian Blood provides an analysis of the emerging and often contested LGBTQ two spirit identification as it relates to public health and mixed race identity Prior to contact with European settlers most Native American tribes held their two spirit members in high esteem even considering them spiritually advanced However after contact and religious conversion attitudes changed and social and cultural support networks were ruptured This discrimination led to a breakdown in traditional values beliefs and practices which in turn pushed many two spirit members to participate in high risk behaviors The result is a disproportionate number of two spirit members who currently test positive for HIV Using surveys focus groups and community discussions to examine the experiences of HIV positive members of San Francisco's two spirit community Indian Blood provides an innovative approach to understanding how colonization continues to affect American Indian communities and opens a series of crucial dialogues in the fields of Native American studies public health queer studies and critical mixed race studies

Obama and the Biracial Factor Andrew J Jolivet, 2012-02-01 Since the election in 2008 of

Barack Obama to the Presidency of the United States there have been a plethora of books films and articles about the role of race in the election of the first person of color to the White House None of these works though delves into the intricacies of Mr Obama s biracial background and what it means Obama and the Biracial Factor is the first book to explore the significance of mixed race identity as a key factor in the election of President Obama and examines the sociological and political relationship between race power and public policy in the United States with an emphasis on public discourse and ethnic representation in his election Jolivet and his co authors bring biracial identity and multiraciality to forefront of our understanding of racial projects since his election Additionally the authors assert the salience of mixed race identity in U S policy and the on going impact of the media and popular culture on the development implementation and interpretation of government policy and ethnic relations in the U S and globally Obama and the Biracial Factor speaks to a wide array of academic disciplines ranging from political science and public policy to sociology and ethnic studies
