Accounting Basics

Accounting Standards

- Accounting principles have been in existence since the late 1400s when Giovanni Lippi (Florence) set Italian businesses, and have evolved over time.
- Modern-day accounting principles in the United States are collectively accepted accounting principles (GAAP). These principles guide the work of accountants and auditors.
- The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has regulatory authority over accounting principles used by public corporations.
  - The SEC is a federal agency responsible for enforcing the federal securities laws and regulating the securities industry.
  - It is responsible for the development of GAAP in the accounting profession via the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB).
- The FASB develops new standards via due process activities that allow input from various stakeholders and accountants in the industry.
- The International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) develops global accounting standards.
  - Multi-national companies follow IASB standards.
  - The IASB works with other key global accounting standards bodies to create a single source of accounting standards.
- The Environmental Accounting Standards Board (EASB) sets state and local government standards for accounting.
  - The EASB is a private, non-governmental organization subject to oversight and funding by the Department of Environment and Energy.
  - The EASB promotes better standards set by the IASB when performing accounting for its state.

Concepts & Principles

- Entity concept
  - An organization stands apart from other organizations as a separate economic unit.
  - Assets and obligations must be accounted for separately from the personal assets and obligations of its owner.
- Going concern concept (i.e., continuity assumption): The entity will continue to exist long enough to meet its contractual obligations and carry out plans.
  - Businesses should report information on regular intervals.
  - Annual reports show income for the last 12 months and end on the last day of the fiscal year. Therefore, annual reports show the financial position as of the last day of the fiscal year.
  - Public companies report financial information quarterly (3-month time intervals).
- Reliability principle
  - Accounting records must be based on the most reliable data available.
  - Reliable measurements in amounts, objectives, methods, and verifiability.
- Relevance principle
  - Accounting information must be timely.
  - Accounting information in production provides feedback and helps decision making.
- Cost principle: Assets and services acquired are recorded at actual historical cost unless their market value.
- Conservatism
  - Loss must be recognized to avoid overvaluing assets and overstate and understate expenses and liabilities.
  - Accounting estimates should be based on conservative assumptions.
- Revenue principle
  - Revenue should only be recorded when earned.
  - Revenue is earned when the business has completed rendering services to the customer.
  - The amount to record is equal to the cash value of services or goods.
  - The collection of cash must be reasonably assured or credit sales.
- Matching principle
  - Expenses must be matched against revenues in the same accounting period.
  - Costs incurred in previous periods in a period are recognized as expenses.
- The accounting period
  - The accounting period is the period connecting the business activities.
  - It is usually 1 year ending on Dec. 31 (called the fiscal year in the calendar year).
  - Other fiscal year ends will use any other date of the year elected by management.
- Full-cost accounting
  - The impact of costs is not recognized until cash is paid or received.
  - Revenue is recorded when cash is received; expenses are recorded when cash is paid.
  - This method is adequate for small companies that don't report to external parties, but it is not acceptable under GAAP.
- Accrual-basis accounting
  - The impact of costs is recognized as they occur.
  - Revenue is recorded when earned; expenses are recorded when incurred.
  - Transactions are recorded when cash has not been received or paid.
  - This method is required by GAAP.

The Accounting Equation

Assets = Liabilities + Owners' Equity

Assets

- Assets are economic resources acquired to benefit the company in the future; they would have been investments.
  - Current assets: Highly convertible of assets and objects.
    - Accounts receivable: Debt or unpaid payments usually arise from sales made on account.
    - Notes receivable: Promissory notes, a signed note usually with payment instructions such as when period and interest rate.
    - Inventory: Merchandise the entity holds or intends to sell.
    - Supplies: Assets used in the everyday running of the business; examples include office and janitorial supplies.
    - Prepaid expenses: Expenses for goods and services to be received in the future.
    - Land: Property the business owns and uses as an asset.
    - Buildings: Fixed and movable structures for use.
    - Equipment, furniture, and fixtures: Cost of office and non-transport.
    - Assets are listed on the balance sheet in order of liquidity.
  - Assets are listed according to whether cash is being spent.
- Liabilities: Economic obligations or debts payable regardless of assets resulting from past transactions.
  - Accounts payable: Debt or unpaid promises to pay debts that arise from credit purchases.
  - Notes payable: Amounts the company must pay as a result of signing a promissory note for goods or services.
  - Owner payable: Wages and salaries payable.
  - Unearned income: Money received for services not yet fulfilled or products not yet delivered; examples include cash received for selling tickets (tickets not yet shown), sale of goods on consignment, and cash received for services not yet performed.
- Owner's equity: A firm's total net worth, the difference between assets and liabilities divided into two main categories.
  - Contributed or paid-in capital: Amount invested in the corporation by its owners.
    - Par value: sets the value of each share; it's arbitrary value.
    - Market capitalization: The value of a firm. The total amount of capital raised in a sale of stock less the value of the debt.
    - It is the sum of all par value stock sold by the firm plus paid-in capital in excess of par value for the firm's common stock (i.e., the amount of capital in excess of par value).
  - Retained earnings: Income earned from operations.
    - Retained: Income in retained earnings resulting from operations.
    - Dividends: Distribution of assets or obligations; known as a dividend.
    - Dividends: Distribution of assets or obligations; known as a dividend.
    - Dividends: Distribution of assets or obligations; known as a dividend.
