Shepherd, 2013-11-13 Resistance to German led Axis occupation occurred all the way across the European continent during the Second World War It took a wide range of forms non cooperation and disinformation sabotage espionage armed opposition and full scale partisan warfare It is an important element in the experience and the national memory of the peoples who found themselves under Axis government and control For over thirty years there has been no systematic attempt to give readers a panoramic yet detailed view of the make up actions and impact of resistance movements from Scandinavia down to Greece and from France through to Russia This authoritative and accessible survey written by a group of the leading experts in the field provides a reliable in depth up to date account of the resistance in each region and country along with an assessment of its effectiveness and of the Axis reaction to it An extensive introduction by the editors Philip Cooke and Ben H Shepherd draws the threads of the varied movements and groups together highlighting the many differences and similarities between them The book will be a significant contribution to the frequently heated debates about the importance of individual resistance movements It will be thought provoking reading for everyone who is interested in or studying occupied Europe during the Second World War The Dutch Resistance

1940-45 Klaas Castelein, Michel Wenting, 2022-04-28 Describes and illustrates the full range of Dutch resistance groups and German and collaborationist counter resistance groups during the Nazi occupation in 1940-45. The Nazi occupation of the Netherlands in World War II followed a complex course whose scope is not widely understood. It was a great deal broader and more varied than the much reported German counter espionage success against Dutch agents parachuted in by the Special Operations Executive. From spring 1943 onwards three Dutch Resistance organizations gained momentum: the Order Service OD, the Resistance Council RVV and the National Assault Teams LKP. In response the Germans raised collaborationist forces to counter the Resistance, including the much feared Landwacht. In September 1944 the OD, RVV and LKP amalgamated into the Netherlands Interior Forces NBS while Allied troops began to liberate the southern provinces. This allowed NBS forces in the south to form Stoottroepen uniformed and armed by both the British and US armies. These assisted the Allied advance while a bloody underground struggle continued in the occupied north until final liberation in April-May 1945. Illustrated with rare photos and new colour plates, this book gives a comprehensive account of one of the lesser known struggles of World War II.

Spirit of Resistance Jeroen Dewulf, 2010 The first book to offer a complete story of the extraordinary proliferation of Dutch clandestine literature under the Nazi occupation. Clandestine literature was published in all countries under Nazi occupation but nowhere else did it flourish as it did in the Netherlands. This raises important questions: What was the content of this literature? What were the risks of writing, printing, selling and buying it? And why the Netherlands? Traditionally the combative Dutch spirit of resistance has been cited as a reaction not only to German oppression but to German propaganda while the Germans hoped to build bonds with their Germanic Dutch brothers. Clandestine literature insisted on their incompatibility. However, when reading clandestine literature one should not forget that this spirit of resistance came rather late and did not prevent the transportation of seventy-three percent of the Netherlands Jewish population to Nazi death camps, the largest percentage in Western Europe. The Dutch case is complex while the country proved to be remarkably resistant to Nazi propaganda; little was done to prevent the actual execution of Nazi policies. The complete story of Dutch clandestine literature therefore combines resistance and complicity, victory and defeat, pride and shame. Jeroen Dewulf is Queen Beatrix Professor of Dutch Studies in the Department of German at the University of California Berkeley.

My Mother's War Eva Taylor, 2022-04-05 A sad and beautiful book shining a light on quiet heroism in dark times. Lucy Adlington, New York Times bestselling author of The Dressmakers of Auschwitz. The extraordinary story of Sabine Zuur, a beautiful young Dutch resistance fighter who spent over two years in three concentration camps during World War Two, told by her daughter using an astonishing archive of personal letters. After her mother's death, Eva Taylor discovered an astounding collection of documents, photos and letters from her time as a resistance fighter in Nazi-occupied Holland. Using the letters, she reconstructed her mother's experience in the underground resistance movement and then as a prisoner in the Amersfoort, Ravensbrück and Mauthausen concentration camps. The letters reveal an amazing story of life during wartime including declarations of love from her fiancé before his tragic death as a Spitfire pilot prison notes smuggled out in her laundry and passionate but sometimes terrifying messages from a German professional criminal who ultimately would save Sabine's life. A one of a kind story of survival. My Mother's War captures a remarkable life in the words of the young woman who lived it.

Images of Occupation in Dutch Film Wendy Burke, 2025-10-01 The German occupation of the Netherlands during World War II left a lasting mark on Dutch memory and culture. This book is the first to explore depictions of that period in films made a generation later between 1962 and 1986. As Dutch public opinion towards the war altered over the postwar decades, the historical trajectory of Dutch recovery and reconstruction, political, economic and most complicated of all, psychological, came to be revealed often unconsciously in the films of the period.

Dutch Post-war Fiction Film through a Lens of Psychoanalysis Peter Verstraten, 2025-10-01 Dutch Post war Fiction Film through a Lens of Psychoanalysis is a sequel to Humour and Irony in Dutch Post war Fiction Film (AUP 2016) but the two studies can be read separately. Because of the sheer variety of Fons Rademakers' oeuvre which spans art cinema and cult genre film and historical epics, each chapter will start with one of his titles to introduce a key concept from psychoanalysis. It is an oft voiced claim that Dutch cinema strongly adheres to realism but this idea is put into perspective by using psychoanalytic theories on desire and fantasy. In the vein of cinephilia, this study brings together canonical titles: Als twee druppels water, Soldaat van Oranje and little gems Monsieur Hawarden, Kracht. It juxtaposes among others Gluckauf and De vliegende Hollander on father figures, Flanagan and Spoorloos on rabbles and heroes, De aanslag and Leedvermaak on historical traumas and Antonia and Bluebird on aphanisis.

World War II Spencer C. Tucker, 2016-09-06 With more than 1 700 cross referenced entries covering every aspect of World War II, the events and developments of the era and myriad related subjects as well as a documents volume, this is the most comprehensive reference work available on the war. This encyclopedia represents a single source of authoritative information on World War II that provides accessible coverage of the causes, course and consequences of the war. Its introductory overview, essays and cross referenced A-Z entries explain how various sources of friction culminated in a second worldwide conflict, document the events of the war and why individual battles were won and lost, and identify numerous ways the war has permanently changed the world. The coverage addresses the individuals, campaigns, battles, key weapons, systems, strategic decisions and technological developments of the conflict as well as the diplomatic, economic and cultural aspects of World War II. The five volume set provides comprehensive information that gives readers insight into the reasons for the war's direction and outcome. Readers will understand the motivations behind Japan's decision to attack the United States, appreciate how the concentration of German military resources on the Eastern Front affected the war's outcome, understand the major strategic decisions of the war and the factors behind them, grasp how the Second Sino-Japanese War contributed to the start of World War II and see the direct impact of new military technology on the outcomes of the battles during the conflict. The lengthy documents volume represents a valuable repository of additional information for
