IT Governance How Top Performers Manage IT Decision Rights For Superior Results:

IT Governance Peter Weill, Jeanne W. Ross, 2004 Seventy percent of all IT projects fail and scores of books have attempted to help firms measure and manage IT systems and processes better in order to turn this figure around In this book IT experts Peter D Weill and Jeanne W Ross argue that the real reason IT fails to deliver value is that companies have no formal system in place for guiding and monitoring IT decisions Their research shows that firms with explicit IT governance systems have twice the profit of firms with poor governance given the same strategic objectives Just as corporate governance systems aim to ensure quality decisions about corporate assets the authors show companies need IT governance systems to ensure that IT investments are made wisely and effectively IT Governance Peter Weill, Jeanne W. within the context of institutional objectives Implementing IT governance in the public sector by use of bootstrap algorithms Petter Ogland, 2017-11-29 It has been argued that the reason seventy percent of all IT projects fail is due to lack of a formal system for guiding and monitoring IT decisions Organisations having explicit IT governance systems are generally twice as successful as those with poor governance given the same strategic objectives but implementing IT governance can be difficult In this book Dr Ogland looks at the public sector and argues that the implementation of IT governance has to be done through bootstrapping The bootstrap algorithm BA is a time tested approach that is known to work but it is an approach that breaks with much of the logic of the public sector bureaucracy and is expected to be met with resistance By analysing patterns in a study of trying to convince a Norwegian public sector organisation to implement IT governance through the use of the BA the book is able to provide rich insights on what causes failure and how to make the implementation process succeed Human Benefit through the Diffusion of Information Systems Design Science Research Jan
