Supreme Court,1919 First series books 1 43 includes Notes on U S reports by Walter Malins Rose The Commercial and Financial Chronicle ,1900 History and Silence Charles W. Hedrick,2000-01-01 The ruling elite in ancient Rome sought to eradicate even the memory of their deceased opponents through a process now known as damnatio memoriae These formal and traditional practices included removing the person s name and image from public monuments and inscriptions making it illegal to speak of him and forbidding funeral observances and mourning Paradoxically however while these practices dishonored the person s memory they did not destroy it Indeed a later turn of events could restore the offender not only to public favor but also to re inclusion in the public record This book examines the process of purge and rehabilitation of memory in the person of Virius Nicomachus Flavianus 394 Charles Hedrick describes how Flavian was condemned for participating in the rebellion against the Christian emperor Theodosius the Great and then restored to the public record a generation later as members of the newly Christianized senatorial class sought to reconcile their pagan past and Christian present By selectively remembering and forgetting the actions of Flavian Hedrick argues the Roman elite honored their ancestors while participating in profound social cultural and religious change Hedrick s interpretation sheds new light on the transition from antiquity to the middle ages It also illuminates political repression in the twentieth century with specific comparisons between ancient and modern practices of the eradication of memory Hearings United States.
