Expanding the Black Film Canon Lisa Doris Alexander, 2019-08-30 If the sheer diversity of recent hits from Twelve Years a Slave and Moonlight to Get Out Black Panther and BlackkKlansman tells us anything it might be that there's no such thing as black film per se This book is especially timely then in expanding our idea of what black films are and going back to the 1960s showing us new and interesting ways to understand them When critics and scholars write about films from the Blaxploitation movement such as Cotton Comes to Harlem Shaft Superfly and Cleopatra Jones they emphasize their importance as films made for black audiences Consequently Lisa Doris Alexander points out a film like the highly popular

Oscar nominated Blazing Saddles costarring and co written by Richard Pryor is generally left out of the discussion because it doesn't fit the profile of what a black film of the period should be. This is the kind of categorical thinking that Alexander seeks to broaden looking at films from the 60s to the present day in the context of their time. Applying insights from black feminist thought and critical race theory to one film per decade she analyzes what each can tell us about the status of black people and race relations in the United States at the time of its release. By teasing out the importance of certain films excluded from the black film canon Alexander hopes to expand that canon to include films typically relegated to the category of popular entertainment and to show how these offer more nuanced representations of black characters even as they confront, negate or parody the controlling images that have defined black filmic characters for decades. Learning Journals in the K-8 Classroom

Marcia S. Popp, 2012-11-12 Learning Journals in the K-8 Classroom is the first comprehensive presentation of how to use academic journals effectively for elementary level instruction. The text outlines the theoretical foundations for using learning journals and provides step by step suggestions for implementing them in every content area and at all levels of elementary instruction. Learning journals provide resources and support for reading aloud, independent reading, mini lessons, cooperative study, individual research, workshops and the portfolio system. The type of interactive writing students do in learning journals helps them explore complex ideas in the content areas using their own strengths of analysis and response. The journals then become resources for future learning, group discussions, individual conferences, learning assessment reports and progress. Four introductory chapters show teachers how to create their own journals, introduce journals to students, integrate them with cooperative study and use them for assessment. Additional chapters focus on the individual curriculum areas of literature, writing, mathematics, science and social studies. The text includes sample entries from student journals at all grade levels and in every content area and appendices of annotated resources to support journaling and interviews with teachers who use journals in their classrooms. J.L. Wilkinson and the Kansas City Monarchs

William A. Young, 2016-11-19 Baseball pioneer J. L. Wilkinson 1878-1964 was the owner and founder in 1920 of the famed Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro Leagues. The only white owner in the Negro National League (NNL), Wilkinson earned a reputation for treating players with fairness and respect. He began his career in Iowa as a player, later organizing a traveling women's team in 1908 and the multiracial All Nations club in 1912. He led the Monarchs to two Negro Leagues World Series championships and numerous pennants in the NNL and the Negro American League. During the Depression he developed an ingenious portable lighting system for night games, credited with saving black baseball. He resurrected the career of legendary pitcher Satchel Paige in 1938 and in 1945 signed a rookie named Jackie Robinson to the Monarchs. Wilkinson was posthumously inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 2006, joining 14 Monarchs players. The Cooperstown Symposium on Baseball and American Culture, 2001 William M. Simons, 2002-04-15 This is an anthology of 23 papers that were presented at the Thirteenth Cooperstown Symposium on Baseball and American Culture held June 6-8, 2001 and co-sponsored by the State

University of New York at Oneonta and the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum Featuring keynote remarks from George Plimpton author of Home Run The Best Writing About Baseball's Most Exciting Moment this Symposium examined such topics as baseball's myths legends and tall tales These essays divided into sections titled Mythic Heroes Media Mythology Myth and Mystery and Myths in Progress go beyond the quick and easy judgments of the media and offer instead the longer more informed views of scholars and researchers

Learning Guide to The Jackie Robinson Story , James A Frieden and Deborah Elliott present a learning guide for using the movie The Jackie Robinson Story as a teaching aid on American baseball player Jackie Robinson 1919 1972 Frieden and Elliott include a description of the movie the benefits of using the movie in the curricula awards the movie has won suggestions on using the movie as a teaching aid and discussion questions The character development topics are diversity perseverance and the male role model
