Gypsy Traveller Students In Secondary Schools:

Gypsy Traveller Students in Secondary Schools Chris Derrington, Sally Kendall, 2004 This book presents the findings from the first British national longitudinal study of Gypsy Traveller students in secondary schools This unique phenomenological study sponsored by the Nuffield Foundation documents the educational experience of 44 Gypsy Travellers in secondary schools since 2000 Confronting the Obstacles to Inclusion Richard Rose, 2010-07-08 Addresses interpretations of inclusive education by drawing upon the experiences and expertise of leading writers and academics who have direct experience of teaching and researching this area around the world Publisher description Traveller, Nomadic and Migrant Education Patrick Alan Danaher, Máirín Kenny, Judith Remy Leder, 2009-04-10 This edited collection explores the challenges and innovations in providing education for mobile communities across the world While obstacles such as negative stereotypes and centuries old prejudice remain problematic the book also shows how educational innovations such as online education and mobile schools are bringing mobility and schooling together Traveller Children Cathy Kiddle, 1999 This book looks at education in the context of several distinct travelling groups including Circus Fairground and New Travellers Cathy Kiddle argues that education is important for Traveller children in that it enables them to develop into independent learners and through this independent people able to speak for themselves Migration, Education and Socio-Economic Mobility Nitya Rao, 2014-06-11 The primacy of education in development agendas is unquestioned With the gradual acknowledgement of the potential benefits that migration can hold for development the relationship between migration and education is a growing area of research Migration Education and Socio Economic Mobility explores how the decisions people make in terms of both their migration choices and educational investments mediated as they are by gender class caste and nationality can potentially contribute to earning incomes building social and symbolic capital or reshaping gender relations all elements contributing to the process of economic and social mobility Much of the existing literature examining the links between migration and education focuses either on the investment of migrant remittances in the education of their children back home or on brain drain that refers to the migration of skilled workers from the developing to the developed world Most of these discussions are firmly rooted in materialist arguments and while undeniably important tend to underplay the social processes through which migration and education interact to shape people's lives identities and status in society Along with economic security people also aspire to social mobility and status enhancement The ideas presented in this book take a more varied and nuanced view of the relationship between education and migration This book was originally published as a special issue of Compare A Journal of Comparative and International Education The Excludables: From mainstream classroom to prison education - understanding the children we exclude and why Kat Stern, 2022-02-28 When it comes to The Excludables it is time to shake up the debate Students who are excluded from school and society are at a higher risk of being incarcerated They are more likely to have mental health difficulties special educational needs live in poverty have social care involvement and they disproportionately come from certain ethnic groups This book pulls on all those threads using up to date research and establishes a deeper understanding of how and why these things affect school behaviours The factors that lead to exclusion are complex and this book meets that challenge head on including the kinds of crunchy bits that are usually avoided at all costs such as children who are high in callous unemotional traits and trauma informed approaches in prison education Written by an experienced educator and behaviour consultant this book steps away from the worn out discourse that surrounds behaviour in schools and away from the notion that educators are the only relevant experts Get ready to explore genetics bias epistemic trust and the human stress response system all examined through the lens of the realities of behavioural challenge faced by educators every day This is a read that will confront everyone in some way
