fields of education and sociology seek to locate the dimensions of difference and identity within recent theoretical discourses such as Critical Race Theory Judith Butler and queer theory post structural approaches and multicultural models as they analyze whiteness and the education experience of minority ethnic groups By combining a mix of intellectually rigorous accessible and controversial chapters this book presents a distinctive and engaging voice one that seeks to broaden the understanding of education research beyond the confines of the education sphere into an arena of sociological and cultural discourse

CHOICES: Never-Ending Dilemmas in Everyday Life Arthur Asa Berger, 2024-01-23 This book is about the never ending need we have to make choices If you think about it we have to decide what time to wake up every morning what to wear unless we need to wear a uniform what to have for breakfast if we eat breakfast lunch and dinner and if we eat in restaurants what to order and our need to make all kinds of other choices all day long Some of our choices are mundane like what to have for breakfast if we eat breakfast to have coffee or tea and if so plain or with milk cereal toast or a bagel and if so what kind plain with poppy seeds with everything or a sweet roll eggs if so fried soft boiled scrambled and so on Most of the choices we make are not important and we often develop habits to relieve us of having to think about our choices For example I have the same thing for breakfast every day a bowl of oatmeal with chia seeds and flax seeds hot milk a cup of espresso coffee with hot milk and half a bagel with butter Occasionally I have a soft boiled egg as well But other choices we have to make are life changing such as how to live single living with a partner or getting married what kind of education to get what kind of job or profession to choose where to live and what kind of house to buy if you can afford a house whom to vote for and so on After reading this book you will better understand the role that the choices we make play in society and culture and in our everyday lives

The Reproduction of Evil Sue Grand, 2013-06-17 Why is it that victims of abuse so often become perpetrators and what can psychoanalysis offer to these survivor perpetrators whose criminal conduct seems to transcend the possibilities of empathic psychoanalytic inquiry In The Reproduction of Evil Sue Grand engages these deeply troublesome issues in the belief that psychoanalysts can and should reclaim the study of what lies beyond ordinary human empathy Her goal is to elucidate the link between traumatic memory and the perpetration of evil To this end she presents an interdisciplinary analysis at once scholarly and passionate of the ways in which families and cultures transform victims of malignant trauma into perpetrators of these very traumas on others Through intensive case studies Grand draws the reader into the world of the survivor perpetrators who commit acts of child abuse of incest of racial persecution even of homicide and genocide By infusing psychoanalytic inquiry with cultural analysis and by supplementing clinical vignettes with well chosen literary illustrations Grand is able to convey the survivor perpetrator's immediacy of experience in a manner that readers may find unsettling even uncanny By interweaving psychoanalytic sociohistorical and literary perspectives Grand fills a critical lacuna in the literature about trauma and its intergenerational transmission Her analysis of the psychodynamic processes and cultural tensions that bind perpetrators victims and bystanders provides trenchant insights into the violence and fragmentation that beset our society Essential reading for a wide clinical audience The Reproduction of Evil will also be powerfully informative for academic and lay readers interested in the intrapsychic interpersonal and cultural factors that account for the perpetuation of evil from generation to generation Catalogue of the Lamont Library, Harvard College
