Islam And The West Post September 11th:

Islam and the West Post 9/11 Theodore Gabriel, Jane Idleman Smith, 2017-10-19 This book offers a chance for greater understanding of the political and religious groups in Islam that have contributed to events pre and post September 11th and clearer insights into Muslim Christian relations today Many books have focused on the events of September 11th but have been primarily journalistic This book draws together both Muslim and non Muslim scholars who have been studying Christian Muslim relations for many years They assess the impact of 9 11 on Islamophobia and antipathy towards Muslims Providing insights into various multi cultural communities whose relations with Islam have been affected the authors look particularly at regions where there are large minority Muslim communities US and UK and large minority non Muslim communities Indonesia and Nigeria Assessing a number of issues impacting upon the teaching of Islam this book allows readers to assess the consequences of the event and develop a more critical understanding of its implications

Islam and the West Robert Van de Weyer, 2001 This text explores the long history of hostility between Islam and the West as well as the profound intellectual and cultural influences they have on one another In light of this history and in the wake of the September 11th attack the author looks at the future and offers a vision of a new political and religious world order

The World's Religions after September 11 Arvind Sharma, 2008-11-30 This set is an unprecedented examination of religion s influence on modern life an honest assessment of how religion can either destroy us or preserve us and a thorough exploration of what steps might be necessary for all religions to join together as a force for good Convening on the fifth anniversary of the terrorist attack on the World Trade Center the global congress The World s Religions after September 11 explored the negative and positive possibilities of the religious dimensions of life The presentations from the congress have been pulled together in this set which addresses religion s intersection with human rights spirituality science healing the media international diplomacy globalization war and peace and more This comprehensive set includes contributions from such well known scholars of religion as Arvind Sharma and a host of others from all the world s religious traditions This set is an unprecedented examination of religion s influence on modern life an honest assessment of how religion can either destroy us or preserve us and a thorough exploration of what steps might be necessary for all religions to join together as a force for good Because of the attack on the World Trade Center on September 11 2001 the very concept of religion underwent a paradigm shift Instead of standing for virtue and piety peace and harmony the word religion also came to be inextricably associated with evil aggression and terror People around the world began to question whether the religious and secular dimensions of modern life can be reconciled whether the different religions of the world can ever coexist in harmony Indeed the very future of religion itself has sometimes seemed to be uncertain or at least suspect

Asian Perspectives on the World's Religions after September 11 Arvind Sharma, Madhu Khanna, 2013-02-15 This book offers a unique perspective on September 11 and our world after this tragic event sharing lessons from an Asian religious experience that can help heal a world troubled by religious conflicts and deepening divisions and promote a positive global transformation Existing literature regarding the events of September 11 and our world afterward has focused mostly on the West and the Middle East Asian Perspectives on the World's Religions after September 11 extends this discussion to include Asia a continent and culture far too important to be ignored in any assessment of the global impact of this event The book is organized along the following themes as they emerged post September 11th religion and civilizational dialogue religion conflict and peace religion and human rights religion and ethics religion and the arts religion hermeneutics and literature religion and gender religion and ecology and religion and globalization Individuals who are studying or teaching political science international relations philosophy ethics Asian studies or religious studies will find the text invaluable while general readers will appreciate the largely unvoiced Asian perspective on this topic

The Muslim World After 9/11 Angel Rabasa, 2004 Examines the dynamics that drive changes in the religious political landscape of the Muslim world the effects of 9/11 the global war on terrorism and the war in Iraq The authors present a typology of ideological tendencies identify the factors that produce religious extremism religious violence assess key cleavages along sectarian ethnic regional and national lines and identify possible strategies and military options for the United States to pursue in this critical and volatile part of the world

Islamophobia in the West Marc Helbling, 2013-03-01 Since the late 1980s growing migration from countries with a Muslim cultural background and increasing Islamic fundamentalism related to terrorist attacks in Western Europe and the US have created a new research field investigating the way states and ordinary citizens react to these new phenomena However whilst we already know much about how Islam finds its place in Western Europe and North America and how states react to Muslim migration we know surprisingly little about the attitudes of ordinary citizens towards Muslim migrants and Islam Islamophobia has only recently started to be addressed by social scientists With contributions by leading researchers from many countries in Western Europe and North America this book brings a new transatlantic perspective to this growing field and establishes an important basis for further research in the area. It addresses several essential questions about Islamophobia including what exactly is Islamophobia and how can we measure it, how is it related to similar social phenomena such as xenophobia, how widespread are Islamophobic attitudes and how can they be explained, how are Muslims different from other outgroups and what role does terrorism and 9/11 play. Islamophobia in the West will be of interest to students and scholars of sociology, religious studies, social psychology, political science, ethnology and legal science.

Global Responses to Terrorism Mary Buckley, Rick Fawn, 2004-02-24. The terrorist attacks of September 11th and more recent atrocities in Russia, Indonesia and Kenya have demonstrated that terrorism now poses the most dangerous threat to stability, democracy and prosperity around the world. This major new book examines how the world has reacted to and been affected by the attacks on September 11th, ensuing war in Afghanistan and President George W. Bush's declaration of a war on terror as the first war of the 21st century. The contributions by distinguished specialists in the field examine the domestic implications of terrorism and counter terrorist initiatives across the world. Few books can boast the quality and range of the contributions to this volume which locate the war on terror in a truly global and intellectual context.

Go Back to Where You Came From Wajahat Ali, 2022-01-25. Go back to where you came from, you terrorist! This is just one of the many warm, lovely and helpful tips that Wajahat Ali and other children of immigrants receive on a daily basis. Go back where exactly? Fremont, California, where he grew up, but is now an unaffordable place to live. Or Pakistan, the country his parents left behind a half century ago. Growing up, living the suburban American dream, young Wajahat devoured comic books devoid of brown superheroes and fielded well intentioned advice from uncles and aunts. Become a doctor. He had turmeric stains under his fingernails, was accident prone, suffered from OCD and wore Husky pants, but he was as American as his neighbors with roots all over the world. Then, while Ali was studying at University of California Berkeley, 9/11 happened. Muslims replaced communists as America's enemy number 1 and he became an accidental spokesman and ambassador of all ordinary, unthreatening things Muslim. Now a middle aged dad, Ali has become one of the foremost and funniest public intellectuals in America. In Go Back to Where You Came From, he tackles the dangers of Islamophobia, white supremacy and chocolate hummus, peppering personal stories with astute insights into national security, immigration and pop culture. In this refreshingly bold, hopeful and uproarious memoir, Ali offers indispensable lessons for cultivating a more compassionate, inclusive and delicious America.

Religion, Realism and Social Theory Philip A. Mellor, 2004-10-18. This book challenges those contemporary sociologists who argue that the notion of society is an outmoded basis for sociological analysis and instead revitalizes the idea that sociology is truly the study of society. Mellor returns the human and religious aspects of social life to the centre of social theory.

Mediating Religion Jolyon P. Mitchell, Sophia Marriage, 2003-06-01. This is the first book to bring together many aspects of the interplay between religion, media and culture from around the world in a single comprehensive study. Leading international scholars provide the most up to date findings in their fields and in a readable and accessible way Some of the topics covered include religion in the media age popular broadcasting communication theology popular piety film and religion myth and ritual in cyberspace music and religion communication ethics and the nature of truth in media saturated cultures The result is not only a wide ranging resource for scholars and students but also a unique introduction to this increasingly important phenomenon of modern life

Culture, Diaspora, and Modernity in Muslim Writing Rehana Ahmed, Peter Morey, Amina Yaqin, 2012 Fiction by writers of Muslim background forms one of the most diverse vibrant and high profile corpora of work being produced today from the trail blazing writing of Salman Rushdie and Hanif Kureishi which challenged political and racial orthodoxies in the 1980s to that of a new generation including Mohsin Hamid Nadeem Aslam and Kamila Shamsie This collection reflects the variety of those fictions Experts in English South Asian and postcolonial literatures address the nature of Muslim identity its response to political realignments since the 1980s its tensions between religious and secular models of citizenship and its manifestation of these tensions as conflict between generations In considering the perceptions of Muslims contributors also explore the roles of immigration class gender and national identity as well as the impact of 9 11 This volume includes essays on contemporary fiction by writers of Muslim origin and non Muslims writing about Muslims It aims to push beyond the habitual populist framing of Muslims as strangers or interlopers whose ways and beliefs are at odds with those of modernity exposing the hide bound conservative assumptions that underpin such perspectives While returning to themes that are of particular significance to diasporic Muslim cultures such as secularism modernity multiculturalism and citizenship the essays reveal that Muslim writing grapples with the same big questions as serve to exercise all writers and intellectuals at the present time How does one reconcile the impulses of the individual with the requirements of community How can one belong in the modern world What is the role of art in making sense of chaotic contemporary experience
