Islamic Finance Law Economics And Practice:

Islamic Finance Mahmoud A. El-Gamal, 2006-07-03 This book provides an overview of the practice of Islamic finance and the historical roots that define its modes of operation The focus of the book is analytical and forward looking It shows that Islamic finance exists mainly as a form of rent seeking legal arbitrage In every aspect of finance from personal loans to investment banking and from market structure to corporate governance Islamic finance aims to replicate in Islamic forms the substantive functions of contemporary financial instruments markets and institutions By attempting to replicate the substance of contemporary financial practice using pre modern contract forms Islamic finance has arguably failed to serve the objectives of Islamic law This book proposes refocusing Islamic finance on substance rather than form This approach would entail abandoning the paradigm of Islamization of every financial practice It would also entail reorienting the brand name of Islamic finance to emphasize issues of community banking micro finance and socially responsible investment

A Comparative Study of Islamic Finance in Australia and the UK Imran Lum, 2021-09-28 This book provides valuable insights into the practical challenges faced by the nascent Islamic finance industry and compares the Australian experience to developments in the UK It contributes to a greater understanding of how Muslims living as a minority in Australia and the UK negotiate Islamic doctrine in secular societies by focusing on one aspect of this negotiation namely the prohibition of rib There is little debate in the Islamic tradition on the prohibition of rib The differences however lie in the interpretation of rib and the question of how Muslims live in a society that is heavily reliant on interest and conventional banking yet at the same time adhere to Islamic guidelines Through the words of religious leaders Muslim professionals and university students Imran Lum provides real accounts of how Muslims in Australia and the UK practically deal with conventional banking and finance products such as home loans savings accounts and credit cards He also explores Muslim attitudes towards Islamic finance and queries whether religion is the sole determining factor when it comes to its uptake Drawing on his own unique experience as a practitioner responsible for growing an Islamic business in a conventional bank Lum provides a firsthand account of the complexities associated with structuring Islamic finance products that are not only sharia compliant but also competitive in a non Muslim jurisdiction Using uk k bonds as a case study he highlights the tangible and non tangible barriers to product development such as tax and regulatory requirements and the rise of Islamophobia Combining academic and industry experience Lum unpacks the relationship of Islamic finance with Muslim identity construction in the West and how certain modalities of religiosity can lead to an uptake of Islamic finance while others can lead to its rejection
