Islamic Education in Britain Alison Scott-Baumann, Sariya Cheruvallil-Contractor, 2015 Islamic Education in Britain Alison Scott-Baumann, Sariya Cheruvallil-Contractor, 2015-08-27 The Western world often fears many aspects of Islam without the knowledge to move forward On the other hand there are sustained and complex debates within Islam about how to live in the modern world with faith Alison Scott Baumann and Sariya Contractor Cheruvallil here propose solutions to both dilemmas with a particular emphasis on the role of women Challenging existing beliefs about Islam in Britain this book offers a paradigm shift based on research conducted over 15 years The educational needs within several groups of British Muslims were explored resulting in the need to offer critical analysis of the provision for the study of classical Islamic Theology in Britain Islamic Education in Britain responds to the dissatisfaction among many young Muslim men and women with the theological secular split and their desire for courses that provide combinations of these two strands of their lived experience as Muslim British citizens Grounded in empirical research the authors reach beyond the meta narratives of secularization and orientalism to demonstrate the importance of the teaching and learning of classical Islamic studies for the promotion of reasoned dialogue interfaith and intercultural understanding in pluralist British society Religion and Higher Education in Europe and North America Kristin Aune, Jacqueline Stevenson, 2016-12-01 Religion and Higher Education in Europe and North America illuminates the experiences of staff and students in higher education as they negotiate the university environment Religious extremism has been rising across Europe whilst recent attacks have thrown public debate around the place of religion on campus the role of universities in recognising and managing religious fundamentalism and freedom of speech on campus into sharper focus Despite these debates research exploring religion on campus has been largely absent from discourse on higher education outside of America with policy and practices designed to deal with religion on campus largely founded on supposition rather than evidence This book speaks into that void including results from recent studies in the field which form an empirically grounded base from a broad variety of perspectives on religion at universities Aiming to offer a deeper perspective more dialogue and engagement on the experiences of students Religion and Higher Education in Europe and North America presents us not only with an opportunity to counter growing trends of intolerance but for people to connect with the humanity of others Focusing on what research reveals about staff and students experiences it incorporates research from different academic disciplines including sociology education social policy theology and religious studies and across different faith and belief groups This thought provoking and challenging volume features chapters written by researchers involved in informing policy and practice relating to religion and belief in higher education in the UK US Canada France and the Netherlands Spanning the academic practitioner divide students and academics interested in the sociology of religion and of higher education as well as those responsible for the practical management of campus life will find this text of particular importance Women as Imams Simonetta Calderini, 2020-12-10 There is a long and rich history of opinion centred on female prayer leadership in Islam that has occupied the minds of theologians and jurists alike. It includes outright prohibition, dislike, permissibility under certain conditions and although rarely unrestricted sanction or even endorsement. This book discusses debates drawn from scholars of the formative period of Islam who engaged with the issue of female prayer leadership. Simonetta Calderini critically analyses their arguments, puts them into their historical context and for the first time tracks down how they have informed current views on female imama prayer leadership. In presenting the variety of opinions discussed in the past by Sunni and Shi'i scholars and some of the Sufis among them, the book uncovers how they are at present being used selectively depending on modern agendas and biases. It also reviews the roles and types of authority of current women imams in diverse contexts spanning from Asia, Africa and Europe to America. The research offers readers the opportunity to gain nuanced answers to the question of female imama today that may lead to informed discussions and to change, if not necessarily in practices, then at the very least in attitudes. This ground-breaking book interrogates the cases of women who are reported to have led prayer in the past. It then analyses the voices of current women imams, many of whom engage with those women of the past to validate their own roles in the present and so pave the way for the future.

Feminist Explorations of Paul Ricoeur's Philosophy Annemie Halsema, Fernanda Henriques, 2016-05-19. This book for the first time brings together considerations upon the feminine in relation to Paul Ricoeur's thinking. The collection of renowned scholars who have published extensively on Ricoeur and promising younger scholars together shows the rich potential of his thought for feminist theory without failing to critically scrutinize it and to show its limitations with respect to thinking gender differences. In the first part, Ricoeur's Women and Gender, Ricoeur's work is taken as the starting point for the reflection upon the position of women and the feminine and for rethinking the notion of universalism. In the second part, Ricoeur in Dialogue, his work is related to feminist thinkers such as Simone de Beauvoir, Judith Butler and Nancy Fraser and to the work of artist Kara Walker. These dialogues aim at thinking through socially relevant notions such as discourse, recognition and justice. In the third part, Ricoeur and Feminist Theology, Ricoeurian notions and ideas are the starting point for new perspectives upon feminist theology. The insights developed in this book will be of particular

Muslims, Trust and Multiculturalism Amina Yaqin, Peter Morey, Asmaa Soliman, 2018-05-17 This book critically engages with the contemporary breakdown of trust between Muslim and non Muslim communities in the West It argues that a crisis of trust currently hampers intercultural relations and obstructs full participation in citizenship and civil society for those who fall prey to the suspicions of the state and their fellow citizens This crisis of trust presents a challenge to the plurality of modern societies where religious identities have come to demand an equal recognition and political accommodation which is not consistently awarded across Europe especially in nations which view themselves as secular or where Islamic culture is seen as alien This volume of interdisciplinary essays by leading scholars explores the theme of trust and multiculturalism across a range of perspectives employing insights from political science sociology literature ethnography and cultural studies It provides an urgent critical response to the challenging contexts of multiculturalism for Muslims in both Europe and the USA Taken together the contributions suggest that the institutionalisation of multiculturalism as a state led vehicle for tolerance and integration requires a certain type of trustworthy performance from minority groups particularly Muslims Even when this performance is forthcoming existing discourses of integration and underlying patterns of mistrust can contribute to Muslim alienation on the one hand and rising Islamophobia on the other
