EU Competition Law, Data Protection and Online Platforms: Data as Essential Facility Inge Graef, 2016-10-17 All are agreed that the digital economy contributes to a dynamic evolution of markets and competition Nonetheless concerns are increasingly raised about the market dominance of a few key players Because these companies hold the power to drive rivals out of business regulators have begun to seek scope for competition enforcement in cases where companies claim that withholding data is needed to satisfy customers and cut costs This book is the first focus on how competition law enforcement tools can be applied to refusals of dominant firms to give access data on online platforms such as search engines social networks and e commerce platforms commonly referred to as the gatekeepers of the Internet The question arises whether the denial of a dominant firm to grant competitors access to its data could constitute a refusal to deal and lead to competition law liability under the so called essential facilities doctrine according to which firms need access to shared knowledge in order to be able to compete A possible duty to share data with rivals also brings to the forefront the interaction of competition law with data protection legislation considering that the required information may include personal data of individuals Building on the refusal to deal concept and using a multidisciplinary approach the analysis covers such issues and topics as the following data portability interoperability data as a competitive advantage or entry barrier in digital markets market definition and dominance with respect to data disruptive versus sustaining innovation role of intellectual property regimes economic trade off in essential facilities cases relationship of competition enforcement with data protection law and data related competition concerns in merger cases The author draws on a wealth of relevant material including EU and US decision making practice case law and policy documents as well as economic and empirical literature on the link between competition and innovation The book concludes with a proposed framework for the application of the essential facilities doctrine to potential forms of abuse of dominance relating to data In addition it makes suggestions as to how data protection interests can be integrated into competition policy An invaluable contribution to ongoing academic and policy discussions about how data related competition concerns should be addressed under competition law the analysis clearly demonstrates how existing competition tools for market definition and assessment of dominance can be applied to online platforms It will be of immeasurable value to the many jurists business persons and academics concerned with this very timely subject

The Concept of Abuse in EU

Competition Law Pinar Akman,2012-02-03 The objective s of Article 102 TFEU what exactly makes a practice abusive and the standard of harm under Article 102 TFEU have not yet been settled This lack of clarity creates uncertainty for businesses and coupled with the current state of economics in this area raises an important question of legitimacy Using law and economic approaches this book inquires into the possible objectives of Article 102 TFEU and proposes a modern approach to interpreting abuse In doing so this book establishes an overarching concept of abuse that conforms to the historical roots of the provision to the text of the provision itself and to modern economic thinking on unilateral conduct This book therefore inquires into what Article 102 TFEU is about what it can be about and what it should be about regarding both objectives and scope The book demonstrates that the separation of exploitative abuse from exclusionary abuse is artificial and unsound It examines the roots of Article 102 TFEU and the historical context of the adoption of the Treaty the case law policy and literature on exploitative abuses and where relevant on exclusionary abuses The book investigates potential objectives such as fairness and welfare as well as the potential conflict between such objectives Finally it critically assesses the European Commission s modernisation of Article 102 TFEU before proposing a reformed approach to abuse which is centred on three necessary and sufficient conditions exploitation exclusion and a lack of an increase in efficiency

Cartel Regulation Caron Beaton-Wells, Brent Fisse, 2011-04-25 Cartel regulation is a prime element of competition policy and an essential means of minimising the adverse effects of cartel activity on economic welfare. However, effective cartel regulation poses distinct challenges for governments, competition authorities, and commentators across the globe. In Australian Cartel Regulation, leading competition law experts Caron Beaton Wells and Brent Fisse reflect on developments in anti-cartel law in Australia over the last 30 years. They provide a comprehensive account of the current law on cartels as well as discussing key issues that may arise in the future. This definitive volume not only identifies the practical and theoretical issues but also recommends workable solutions and does so with the benefit of comparative analysis of the anti-cartel laws of major overseas jurisdictions. Many of the issues identified and discussed in Australian Cartel Regulation are common to any scheme designed to regulate cartel conduct.

Understanding the Federal Reserve's Proposed Rule on Interchange Fees United States. Congress. House. Committee on Financial Services. Subcommittee on Financial Institutions and Consumer Credit, 2011

The New EU Competition Law Pablo Ibáñez Colomo, 2023-12-14 This book provides the first comprehensive account of the New EU Competition Law, an emerging understanding of the discipline that breaks from the consensus of the early 2000s and that ventures into uncharted territories. Competition law has undergone fundamental transformations in the past decade from the rise and fall of the effects-based approach to the challenge of Big Tech and the growing interaction with intellectual property. Making sense of these changes and fully grasping their implications can be difficult. The book discusses the shift from traditional enforcement in the industrial era to the sort of intervention that a knowledge-based economy demands. It presents the changes that the field is undergoing, policy priorities, relationship with regulation, and intangible assets move away from efficiency and consumer welfare and illustrates them by reference to the most significant developments. The analysis includes an up-to-date evaluation of the Digital Markets Act and addresses the application of EU competition law to key areas including energy, pharma, telecommunications, and online platforms. Conceived as a modular book, practitioners and advanced students will find it useful as a map to navigate the underlying trends and as an in-depth dissection of the key case law and administrative practice of the past decade.

Judicial Review of Competition Law Enforcement in the EU Member States and the UK Maciej Bernatt, Francisco Marcos, Annalies Outhuijse, 2024-09-17 International Competition Law Series 91 Enforcement of competition law often calls for a complex economic and legal assessment and the review of those enforcement decisions usually falls to national courts. In this connection however European competition law and legal scholarship have offered scant guidance on how judicial review should and does function. This book the first comprehensive systematic and comparative empirical study of judicial review of competition law public enforcement in the EU and the UK provides a thorough understanding of the practical operation of the role of judicial review in competition enforcement. A country by country analysis along with a detailed introduction and an incisive comparative summary covers all publicly available judicial review judgments 5 707 in all of final public enforcement actions in relation to Articles 101 and 102 TFEU and relevant national provisions in the twenty seven EU Member States and the UK rendered between 1 May 2004 and 30 April 2021. The data presented draws on a rich database built for the purpose of this study by twenty eight national teams of competition law academics and practitioners. For each jurisdiction the analysis focuses on such aspects as the following structure of the national enforcement system number of judgments rendered success rate types of appellants competition rules subject to review grounds of review use of preliminary references appeals involving leniency and or settlements and role of third parties. Numerous graphs figures and tables support the presentation. In the light it sheds on trends in judicial review of competition law enforcement on a comparative basis and in its data driven assessment of how the decentralised judicial review of EU competition law meets EU integration aims this important study will be of inestimable value to competition lawyers policymakers and academics in developing a confident understanding of precisely how judicial review in this area operates in each of the EU Member States and the UK. In addition the book provides a significant contribution not only with respect to EU and national competition laws but also more broadly to comparative administrative law scholarship in Europe.

Dear We the People Daily global news supports the relevant importance of well considered solutions to regulating Big Tech in response to the clash of constitutional restraint agency regulation and corporate actions. Technology's innovative networks have invaded business and economic structures. The simple has morphed into the complex while no effective method of meaningful enforcement is found within current law. Legal immunity grants expansive freedom from accountability and corporate responsibility the ramifications are far reaching and widespread indeed worldwide. Cultural norms of national regimes shape their approach to violations of anticompetitive activity. The United States
