FemTech Lindsay Anne Balfour, 2023-12-23 This edited collection draws from cultural studies and Feminist Science and Technology Studies to offer a timely and exciting intervention into the growing field of women's digital health. It explores the intersection of gender and embodied computing with particular attention to access barriers and the forms of biometric surveillance that operate in wearables, ingestibles and embeddables marketed to women, the industry generally known as FemTech. While the most utilized and profitable FemTech products include ovulation and fitness trackers, reproductive technologies, contraceptive microchips and smart pills, this only represents a fraction of health concerns affecting women. This volume aims to explore FemTech within the context of Feminist Science and Technology Studies, whereby the entanglements of race, class, gender, ability, sexuality and other social and cultural identities are brought to the fore. By addressing the gaps in FemTech research and socio-cultural barriers to access, this volume critiques the forms of knowledge and experience produced through medical and cultural discourses regarding women's bodies, to both highlight the inequalities in women's digital health and imagine alternative models which optimise technology for women in a way that is safe, accessible and inclusive.

Sport, Social Media, and Digital Technology Jimmy Sanderson, 2022-04-13 This volume brings together a collection of essays from leading global scholars working in diverse areas, as sport sociology, sport management, sport media and sport communication, to illustrate how sociological approaches are imperative to enhancing our understanding of sport and social media and digital technology.
