Automotive FDI in Emerging Europe

A. J. Jacobs,2017-06-19 This book examines the dramatic increase in automotive assembly plants in the former Socialist Central European CE nations of Czechia East Germany Hungary Poland and Slovakia from 1989 onwards Enticed by relatively lower wage labour and significant government incentives the world s largest automakers have launched more than 20 passenger car assembly complexes in CE nations with production accelerating dramatically since 2001 As a result the annual passenger car production in Western Europe declined by more than 20% between 2001 and 2015 and alternatively in the CEE it increased by nearly 170% during this period Drawing on case studies of 25 current and former foreign run assembly plants the author presents a rare historical account of automotive foreign assembly plants in the CE following this dramatic geographic shift This book will expand the knowledge of policy makers in Europe in relation to their pursuits of FDI and will be of great interest to scholars and students of business economic history political science and development Learning While Black and Queer Ed Brockenbrough,2024-07-08 Research based guidance for educators teacher educators and community learning partners to effectively support LGBTQ students of color A History of South Africa at the Venice Biennale Annchen Bronkowski,2025-11-21 This study presents the first history of the South African national pavilion at the Venice Biennale since it first participated in 1950 up until its contemporary pavilions Covering a contentious period in South African history the pavilion engenders a thought provoking engagement with questions around national identity and visual representation What has it meant for a country like South Africa to be at the Venice Biennale How national is a national pavilion The book acts as a case study highlighting how this understanding of what is national and what is representative has changed throughout the decades At first it was associated with stylistic concerns evidencing the polemic post war shift from academic to modern art in the mid century towards the 1960s South African art in Venice sought to capture something of a specific South Africanness rather than seeking to emulate the general tendencies of Euramerican modernism the country s exclusion from Venice during the boycott years of the 1970s to early 1990s evidences the clear emergence of a politically conscious national aesthetic South Africa s re entry highlights how the tenets of post apartheid nation building had to be navigated within a postmodern globalist art world beset with post nationalism This study shows that South Africa has always been caught between national determinations and internationalist aspirations and the contrast of this tension is nowhere more sharply reflected than at the Venice Biennale with its national pavilion structure This book is suitable for researchers and students in Art History African Studies and Museum Studies Foreign Direct Investment Leena Ajit Kaushal,2019-04-29 This research based book offers insight to the changing perspectives regarding FDI from traditional theory to new theory from local to global link and from opportunity to responsibility Readers will understand the various factors determinants and theories that underpin the presence of firms in the global economy The author illustrates by way of case studies specific implications of FDI policy and practice on issues like ecology and environment technology transfer labor market and relevance of further liberalization policies in FDI in the context of Indian economy The coverage for such an important theme is too vast to cover in a single volume therefore this volume restricts its analysis to a select few themes in hopes that this endeavor will trigger an ongoing debate on myriad aspects and concerns of FDI on countries like India ECSM 2022 9th European Conference on Social Media Elisabeth Pereira,Carlos Costa,Zélia Breda,2022-05-12 The Professional Practice of Teaching in New Zealand Mary Hill,Martin Thrupp,Contributors, The Professional Practice of Teaching in New Zealand

Mendelian Randomization: An Approach for Precision Medicine and Public Health Triinu Peters, Xiaoqing Pan, Yi-Ju Li, Jiayue-Clara Jiang, 2025-04-24 Epidemiological studies have established various observational associations between modifiable human behaviors and disease risk However observational studies are prone to unmeasured confounding bias and cannot establish causal associations which are important to investigate disease treatment and drug development In 1991 Gray and Wheatley proposed the term Mendelian Randomization a method that were applied to obtain unbiased estimations of the impact of cancer treatment within a family based design The term has since been applied to describe statistical genomic studies that used genetic instruments as proxy for modifiable risk factors or behaviors to infer causal association with diseases The principle of Mendelian Randomization relies on Mendel s laws of inheritance and random segregation It is less prone to unmeasured confounding bias and reverse causation compared to observational studies and can be applied to address questions of causality without any typical bias that impact the validity of traditional epidemiological methods Studies based on Mendelian Randomization have become more conventional with the enhancement of genome wide association studies GWAS and genome sequencing technologies These methods have the potential to reveal the aetiological importance of environmental casual factors in common chronic diseases with minimal influence of confounding reverse causation and various other sources of bias
