Aging and Skilled Performance Wendy A. Rogers, Arthur D. Fisk, Neff Walker, 2014-03-05 The term skill encompasses an array of topics and issues For example individuals are skilled in a variety of domains such as chess typing air traffic control or knitting researchers study skill in a variety of ways including speed of acquisition accuracy of performance and retention over time and there are a variety of approaches to the study of skill such as computer modeling or experimental analysis Contributing to the understanding of whether how when and why skills may decline as a function of age is the goal of this volume This book is based on the Aging and Skill Conference sponsored by the Center for Applied Cognitive Research on Aging The broad focus of the conference was to discuss cognitive theories underlying age related skill acquisition transfer and retention and to discuss applications of these theories to such issues as age adaptive training compensatory strategies and devices and utilization of new and existing technology The contributors were asked to discuss the cognitive theory relevant to their topic explain how the theory informs the field about aging examine where gaps exist among general cognitive theory in this area and theories of aging and demonstrate the practical relevance of the theory to enhancing or enabling activities of daily living for work home or leisure for older adults This is the first book to focus exclusively on aging and skill It covers a range of abilities provides the theoretical basis for the current status of age related differences in skill and offers direct evidence of the applicability of research on proficiency to aspects of daily living Each chapter was written either by an expert in the field of aging or by an expert in the field of skill many expert in both areas

Marvyn Scudder Manual of Extinct Or Obsolete Companies, 1926 The Application of Hydraulic and Sediment Transport Models in Fluvial Geomorphology Artur Radecki-Pawlik, Tomáš

Galia, 2020-12-10 After publishing the famous Fluvial Processes in Geomorphology in the early 1960s the work of Luna Leopold Gordon Wolman and John Miller became a key for opening the door to understanding rivers and streams They first illustrated the problem to geomorphologists and geographers Later Chang in his Fluvial Processes in River Engineering provided a basis for engineers showing this group of professionals how to deal with rivers and how to understand them Since then more informative studies have been published Many of the authors started to combine fluvial geomorphology knowledge and river engineering needs such as Tools in Fluvial Geomorphology by G Mathias Kondolf and Herv Pi gay or focused more on river engineering tasks such as Stream Restoration in Dynamic Fluvial Systems Scientific Approaches by Andrew Simon Sean Bennett and Janine Castro Finally Luna Leopold summarized river and stream morphologies in the beautiful A view of the river It appears that we continue to explore this subject in the right direction We better understand rivers and streams and as engineers and fluvial geomorphologists we can establish tools to help bring rivers alive However there is still a hunger for more scientific tools that we could use to further understand rivers and to support the development of healthy streams and rivers with high biodiversity in the present world which has started to face water scarcity Catalog of Copyright Entries.
