 - Cellular (mobile) networks
 - Local Area Networks (LANs)

6. How do cellular networks operate?

Cellular networks divide a geographic area into cells, each served by a base station. Mobile devices communicate with the nearest base station, which connects them to the telecommunications network. As a mobile device moves between cells, the network seamlessly hands off the connection to maintain continuity.

7. What is Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP)?

VoIP is a technology that enables voice communication over the internet instead of traditional telephone networks. It converts voice signals into data packets for transmission over IP networks, allowing for cost-effective and feature-rich communication services.
