Edelstein, Larry Michelson, 2012-12-06 Americans are healing themselves Heckler 1985 and prevention has taken root McGinnis 1985a We are altering our lifestyle to reduce physical and mental health risks Perhaps as important is the fact that the science of prevention is beginning to catch up with the practices of prevention although some might argue that the popularity of these practices far outstrips sound theoretical and empirical foundations The chapter authors in this volume examine the theoretical and empirical foundations of many current prevention practices and where data exist discuss the status of prevention efforts Where substantial prevention is not yet on the horizon the authors attempt to point us in the right direction or at least share with the reader some of the risk factors that should be addressed in our research We hope that readers will be stimulated to discuss the issues raised advance the current research and where possible adopt the prevention and health promotion strategies that are supported by sound theoretical and empirical work This volume can in no way be comprehensive with respect to the current work in prevention however we hope that we have provided a sampling of prevention activities and issues that appear together in one volume for perhaps the first time The primary intent of this volume is modest and the reader should not attempt to find continuity among the various chapters The only binding among these contributions is their focus on prevention      The Persuasion Handbook James Price Dillard, Michael Pfau, 2002-07-23 The Persuasion Handbook provides readers with cogent comprehensive summaries of research in a wide range of areas related to persuasion From a topical standpoint this handbook takes an interdisciplinary approach covering issues of interest to interpersonal and mass communication researchers as well as psychologists and public health practitioners Persuasion is presented in this volume on a micro to macro continuum moving from chapters on cognitive processes the individual and theories of persuasion to chapters highlighting broader social factors and phenomena related to persuasion such as social context and larger scale persuasive campaigns Each chapter identifies key challenges to the area and lays out research strategies for addressing those challenges      The Handbook of Plant Biosecurity Gordon Gordh, Simon McKirdy, 2013-11-19 The Handbook identifies all aspects of Regulatory Plant Biosecurity and discusses them from the standpoint of preventing the international movement of plant pests diseases and weeds that negatively impact production agriculture natural plant resources and agricultural commerce      Public Affairs Handbook for Child Support Enforcement Athena Kaye, 1987      The Handbook of Applied Communication Research H. Christ, 2020-07-24 Assessing media education is a formidable task because both assessment and media education are complex and controversial concepts Assessment which can take place at the individual student class sequence program department or unit and university levels is questioned in terms of reliability validity relevance and cost Media education which has been challenged at a number of schools finds faculty and administrators in the midst of soul searching about how to clearly articulate its missions and purposes to a broader audience Departments are under increasing national state and institutional pressure to get assessment procedures carried out quickly but there is an obvious danger in rushing to implement assessment strategies before establishing what is essential in media education In communication education in general the what of assessment is often discussed in terms of skills attitudes affect values and knowledge People assess students to determine what they know think feel value and can do Here it is suggested that one of the places to start defining what students should learn from their media education is by identifying outcomes Outcomes can be assessed in a variety of ways but first they need to be developed and clearly articulated
