Glutton for Pleasure Bob Blumer,2010

Deadly Vices Gabriele Taylor,2006-06-08 Gabriele Taylor presents a philosophical investigation of the ordinary vices traditionally seen as death to the soul sloth envy avarice pride anger lust and gluttony This complements recent work by moral philosophers on virtue and opens up the neglected topic of the vices for further study Whilst in a mild form the vices may be ordinary and common failings Deadly Vices makes the case that for those wholly in their grip they are fatally destructive preventing the flourishing of the self and of a worthwhile life An agent therefore has a powerful reason to avoid such states and dispositions and rather to cultivate those virtues that counteract a deadly vice In dealing with individual vices their impact on the self and their interrelation Deadly Vices offers a unified account of the vices that not only encompasses the healing virtues but also engages with issues in the philosophy of mind as well as in moral philosophy and shows the connection between them Literary examples are used to highlight central features of individual vices and set them in context

The Aesthetics of Food Kevin W. Sweeney,2017-12-29 The Aesthetics of Food sets out the continuing philosophical debate about the aesthetic nature of food The debate begins with Plato s claim that only objects of sight and hearing could be beautiful consequently food as something we smell and taste could not be beautiful Plato's sceptical position has been both supported and opposed in one form or another throughout the ages This book demonstrates how the current debate has evolved and critically assesses that debate showing how it has been influenced by the changing nature of critical theory and changes in art historical paradigms Expressionism Modernism and Post modernism as well as by recent advances in neuroscience It also traces changes in our understanding of the sensory experience of food and drink from viewing taste as a simple single sense to current views on its complex multi sensory nature Particular attention is paid to recent philosophical discussion about wine whether an interest in a wine reflects only a subjective or personal preference or whether one can make objective judgments about the quality and merit of a wine Finally the book explores how the debate has been informed by changes in the cooking presenting and consuming of food for example by the appearance of the restaurant in the early nineteenth century as well as the rise of celebrity chefs
