Descended from Hercules Robert A. Rushing, 2016-10-15 Muscles six pack abs skin and sweat fill the screen in the tawdry and tantalizing peplum films associated with epic Italian cinema of the 1950s and 1960s Using techniques like slow motion and stopped time these films instill the hero's vitality with timeless admiration and immerse the hero's body in a world that is lavishly eroticized but without sexual desire These sword and sandal films represent a century long cinematic biopolitical intervention that offers the spectator an imagined form of the male body one free of illness degeneracy and the burdens of poverty that defends goodness with brute strength and perseverance and serves as a model of ideal citizenry Robert A Rushing traces these epic heroes from Maciste in Cabiria in the early silent era to contemporary transnational figures like Arnold Schwarzenegger in Conan the Barbarian and to films such as Zach Snyder's 300 Rushing explores how the very tactile modes of representation cement the genre's ideological grip on the viewer
