Golf Is Dying Does Anybody Care:

Golf Is Dying. Does Anybody Care? Pat Gallagher, 2013-12 The 600 year old sport of golf was once considered a metaphor for culture sportsmanship and accomplishment in America So why has participation declined so much in recent years The answer according to author Pat Gallagher is the sport s resistance to productive change While other sports have embraced new technology and innovation with open arms traditionalists strive to protect the game of golf and keep it exactly as they love it even in the face of suffering courses and shrinking audiences This first hand account documents how Gallagher and his partners advocated new thinking to revive the game of golf from both a sporting and business perspective In January 2011 they founded the Alternative Golf Association and Project Flogton not golf spelled backwards in an attempt to challenge the leaders in golf to think differently and grow participation in the sport In this informative true story readers will get a front row look at the ideas behind Alternative Golf what they accomplished where they were wrong and what they now believe ought to happen in the future to reverse golf s steady decline In addition you ll find out the facts behind some of the biggest myths perpetuated by the golf industry from participation numbers to the real consequences facing golf courses and investors

Well-Being and Death Ben Bradley,2011-03-03 Well Being and Death addresses philosophical questions about death and the good life what makes a life go well Is death bad for the one who dies How is this possible if we go out of existence when we die Is it worse to die as an infant or as a young adult Is it bad for animals and fetuses to die Can the dead be harmed Is there any way to make death less bad for us Ben Bradley defends the following views pleasure rather than achievement or the satisfaction of desire is what makes life go well death is generally bad for its victim in virtue of depriving the victim of more of a good life death is bad for its victim at times after death in particular at all those times at which the victim would have been living well death is worse the earlier it occurs and hence it is worse to die as an infant than as an adult death is usually bad for animals and fetuses in just the same way it is bad for adult humans things that happen after someone has died cannot harm that person the only sensible way to make death less bad is to live so long that no more good life is possible

A Guide to Psychosocial and Spiritual Care at the End of Life Henry S. Perkins,2017-03-17 Psychological social and spiritual care is as important as physical care at the end of life Yet caregivers often feel ill equipped to give that nonphysical care This book shows how to do it The book addresses all caregivers who attend dying patients doctors nurses chaplains clergy in the pastorate social workers clinical psychologists family caregivers and others It covers such topics as the functional and emotional trajectories of dying the varied approaches of patients and caregivers to end of life decisions culturally based beliefs about dying the differences between depression and grief and people s views about the right time to die the death experience itself and the afterlife For each topic the book introduces core concepts and summarizes recent research about them The book presents much of its material in readable tables for easy reference applies the material to real life cases lists the main take home points for each chapter and gives references for additional reading The book helps caregivers anticipate the reactions of patients and survivors to end of life traumas and suggests how caregivers can respond insightfully and compassionately At the same time the book challenges caregivers to think through their own views about death and dying This book therefore is a must read for all caregivers professional and nonprofessional alike who strive to give their patients comprehensive high quality end of life care
